FEAR "BABY CLIPPER" IS LOST

Plan 400 Million Dollar Slash in WPA Funds

BOONDOGGLING PROJECTS FACE ECONOMY KNIFE

House Group Drafts Spending Curbs.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 29.—[Special.]—The house appropriations committee is considering a reduction of as much as 400 million dollars in President Roosevelt's request for 1 billion 477 millions to operate the Works Progress administration in the fiscal year beginning next July 1. This was reported authoritatively today.

The subcommittee considering the President's demands is the same committee which has been investigating the WPA and has disclosed evidence of waste, graft, bribery, and extravagance on a grand scale in the work-relief organization. It temporarily adjourned the inquiry in order to study the WPA appropriation for the coming year.

The subcommittee is preparing a stinging report on WPA corruption to accompany its recommendations for a work-relief fund.

Limitations to Be Sought.

Based on the results of the preliminary investigation, which admittedly has only scratched the surface of WPA operations, the ten man subcommittee, composed of six Democrats and four Republicans, will suggest legislative limitations to curb WPA spending without forcing the discharge of willing workers.

The abolition of the notorious federal project No. 1 was decided on by the committee today. This boondoggling project, containing the theater, writers' and arts program, has been operated directly from Washington. Designed for the employment of idle actors, writers, and artists it has failed of its objective, according to evidence presented to the committee, and has been used as a propaganda medium by the communist party.

The committee was shocked by revelations that the WPA, through this project, has spent tens of millions of dollars on the rehearsal of theatrical productions which ran only a few days before closing.

Administrative Cut Planned.

Another economy to be effected by the committee is in connection with administrative expenses. Col. F. C. Harrington, WPA administrator, is said to have agreed that a 71 million dollar item for such expenses could be slashed to 49 millions without a reduction in efficiency.

For the first time since the WPA was established, its officials came before the appropriations committee with its requests for money itemized. Previously, the officials merely asked for a lump sum of one or two billion dollars. On this occasion, they specified how the money was to be spent, and the committee was enabled to go down the line and make reductions.

In discussions of what the total appropriation should be, only one member of the committee, known as an ardent administration supporter, has argued that the 1 billion 477 million dollars asked by President Roosevelt should be granted. Another member has expressed the belief that 1 billion dollars should be sufficient.

Compromise Amount Likely.

An eventual compromise appropriation somewhere between 1 billion 100 million dollars and 1 billion 300 millions is regarded likely.

Other proposals which the committee is considering and which will permit economies in the organization include the following:

1. A requirement that skilled workers put in at least 130 hours a month. At present such workers, who must be paid the prevailing wage in their communities, sometimes work only 40 hours a month for the $80 or $90 which they receive. Such a requirement, committee members believe, would be an incentive to skilled workers to seek private employment.

2. A regulation that communities turn over some cash as a part of their sponsorship contribution. The investigation disclosed that such contributions are invariably in the form of materials which cost the communities little and help the WPA less.

A complete audit of the WPA by the general accounting office of the government is also favored by a committee majority.

50,000 PARADE TODAY IN HONOR OF HEROIC DEAD

City to Observe 71st Memorial Day.

"If other hearts grow dull and other hands slack and other hearts cold in the solemn observance of Memorial day, ours shall keep it well so long as the light and warmth of life remains in us."—

(Gen. John A. Logan, commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, May 5, 1868.)

BY MARCIA WINN.

For three hours today Chicago will march in tribute to its heroic dead of all wars.

Fifty thousand persons will take part in the city's annual Memorial day parade. It will mark the 71st anniversary of a custom decreed on May 5, 1868, when an historic order was issued by Gen. John A. Logan, then commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

This order directed that the graves of Union soldiers be decorated with flowers on May 30 of that year "with the hope that this observance will be kept up from year to year while a survivor of the war remains to honor the memory of the departed." Out of this grew the national observance of Decoration day, now known as Memorial day. And it is significant that Chicago's patriotic thousands will parade past Gen. Logan's statue in Grant park.

Only a handful of the men to whom he addressed his memorial order—blue clad veterans of the union army—will be in today's parade. Twelve years ago there were 350, all marching. Today there will be only 18 or 19, most of whom look back on nine decades of life.

They'll Lead Procession!

But they still will head the parade, followed by veterans of other wars of the nation.

Behind them, too, will be a cross-section of America's modern peacetime defense—soldiers, sailors, and marines marching to the music of many bands. Between the skyscrapers of Michigan avenue, which was a narrow, winding street of squat buildings in 1868, will rumble giant instruments of warfare, anti-aircraft batteries, mighty caissons, Howitzers and French '75s, and shining, compact kitchens on wheels. Overhead will zoom a squadron of new O-47 all-metal observation planes.

Rain or shine, the parade will start at 2 p. m. The line of march is south in Michigan avenue from Chicago avenue to Roosevelt road and thence west to Wabash avenue, where the procession will disband.

Parade Marshal Spry at 91.

Capt. Thomas Ambrose, commander of the George H. Thomas post, Grand Army of the Republic, will be grand marshal. Sturdy, pink cheeked and 91 years of age, with a stubby white mustache and a mind that disdains all so-called handicaps of age, he will lead the procession to the Congress street plaza, where he will take his place on the reviewing stand beside state and city dignitaries.

Behind him, resplendent in blue and brass, will ride the few remaining G. A. R. veterans. One was a drummer boy, another a bugler in the civil war. One was wounded at Shiloh. Another fought the Indians with Kit Carson after marching to the sea with Sherman. They, too, will occupy seats of honor on the reviewing stand after participating in the parade.

Next will come veterans of the Indian wars and of the Spanish-American war, most of them, too, graying and aging. Following them will be the veterans of foreign wars.

Abraham Lincoln brigade veterans, men who fought for Loyalist Spain in the recent Spanish civil war, were banned from marching with this group as it is limited to men who fought "for the American flag."

World War Vets Next.

The third division will be made up of American and allied veterans of the world war, escorted by the Illinois national guard [all Chicago units will parade], three battalions of the Illinois naval militia and four companies of the marine corps reserve. With many of them will march their

Noisy Locust Army Troops Arrive in City

The vanguard of a noisy army which for seventeen years has been preparing an invasion of northern Illinois and portions of several nearby states has been reported in various parts of Chicago and the suburbs in the last few days.

It is commonly known as the seventeen-year locust, although the correct name is the periodic cicada. Those now emerging from the earth into which they burrowed in the summer of 1922 are known as brood thirteen. They will spread over parts of northern Illinois, eastern Iowa, southern Wisconsin, southern Michigan, northern Indiana, eastern Missouri, and some sections of Kentucky, the Virginias, Maryland, and Pennsylvania.

Life Span About 4 Weeks.

The cicada, which makes the woodland beautiful or hideous with its strident humming, depending on your viewpoint, will emerge from its pupal stage, grow wings, mate, and die within four or five weeks. The eggs laid in small twigs of trees and shrubbery will hatch out, the larvæ will fall to earth, dig in, find rootlets for nourishment, and reappear, promptly on schedule, in 1956. Scientists think the infant cicada spends most of its subterranean years eating, but they aren't certain.

The adult cicada eats nothing, so far as is known, during its brief life. W. J. Gerhard, curator of insects at Field museum, says it certainly does no damage to crops and is capable of injuring only young trees or shrubs by laying eggs in terminal twigs. Most cicadæ live in wooded tracts, although some may hatch out in suburban yards, or even in the city. They invariably die within a few hundred yards of where they hatch out.

There are both the thirteen-year and seventeen-year cicada. The thirteen-year type is confined mostly to the southern states, although the two types overlap in some areas. The periodic cicada is unknown in the far west. There also are other cicada types which come out yearly, according to Mr. Gerhard.

Only Males Make Noise.

The adult cicada is silent for about a day after emerging from the earth, climbing a tree and shedding its outer covering. The noise which it makes when its wings and body dry is the peculiar talent of the male. The female is silent. The noise is produced by the vibration of two small organs on the sides of the abdomen.

Once Thought War Warning.

When the cicada first emerges from the pupa it is pure white, but soon changes to a darker hue as the wings grow. The mating is done within a day or so. It is thought that the characteristic humming noise of the males, however it sounds to any one else, is a torch song to the female cicada. The cicada cannot bite and may safely be picked up and examined. It may scratch, but not hard enough to break the skin.

Valuable young trees may be protected by covering them during the cicada season with cheesecloth or other inexpensive fabric.

Although the cicada is not the locust that harassed Pharaoh in Biblical times [that was the grasshopper] it is thought to be the same by many persons. To them the cicada cry resembles a long-drawn out "Ph-a-a-r-a-a-oh" and means that the bug is still trying to plague that long dead monarch. In earlier times the cicada was often thought to be poisonous, and the small "W" which appears on its wings is to many superstitious persons a warning of war.

The first recorded appearance of the seventeen-year cicada was in 1634 at Plymouth, Mass. This was brood fourteen, which has reappeared seventeen times since and is expected to arrive again next year.

A MILKMAN MAYOR GETS UP AT 3 A. M.; TAVERNS SHOCK HIM

Mayor Tom Collis Jr. of Forest Park is head man and driver for a dairy bearing his name, and gets up at 3 a. m. to make deliveries. It shocked the mayor, as he made his rounds the other morning, to find some taverns still open.

He suspended the licenses of three taverns yesterday. He refused to announce the owners' names, pending a hearing before the license commissioner on Thursday. The license commissioner is Mayor Collis.

Girl, 18, Is Slain in Dispute Over Watermelon

A young woman was shot in the head and fatally wounded early today as the result of a prank and its ensuing dispute in a fruit store at 5624 North avenue. The victim was Miss Muriel Campbell, 18 years old, 1228 Maple avenue, Berwyn, a telephone operator. She was hurried to Loretto hospital, where she died a few hours later.

Held for the shooting is Athon Papas, 55, of 4844 Washington boulevard, clerk and night watch at the store.

Miss Campbell had been on a swimming party with four friends, three of them members of the June graduating class at Austin high school, of which she is a graduate. They were Miss Helen Freilich, 16, of 5522 Jackson boulevard; Harry Feigenbaum, 18, of 5547 Congress street, and David Brown, 18, of 153 North Parkside avenue, the high school students, and Bernard Goldstein, 20, of 4814 Quincy street.

Prank Starts Row.

While the boys waited in their car near by the girls went to the fruit store to buy some fruit. Miss Freilich picked up a watermelon from an outside stand and as a prank, she said, threw it to Miss Campbell, who tossed it back. Miss Freilich missed it and it rolled away. She picked it up to return it to the store when a clerk, Christ Nefaros, 1757 West 71st street, called her into the store and accused her of stealing the melon.

At that moment Feigenbaum appeared, and sent Miss Freilich away. Nefaros called Papas, the watchman. Papas and Feigenbaum quarreled just as Miss Campbell stepped into the store. Papas shot at Feigenbaum's feet and the latter threw several potatoes at him.

Girl Shot in Head.

Then he and the Campbell girl ran out, with Papas following and firing. A bullet struck her behind the left ear. Papas told Cragin police he fired only after being struck in the head by a potato which made him dizzy. He had chased the pair more than 150 feet before he fired the fatal shot. After he was arrested he insisted on filing a complaint charging Feigelbaum with disorderly conduct, and police permitted him to do so.

Last July 10 Papas, while working as a watchman at a fruit stand at Addison street and Central avenue, shot Edward Hilnes, 34, of 5659 Addison street, because he suspected Hilnes and another man of attempting to steal a watermelon. Hilnes, owner of a cheese company, recovered.

London Gives Up Night Vigil for Sea Flyer

LONDON, May 30 [Tuesday.]—(AP)—Officials of Croydon airport early today gave up hope of sighting Thomas H. Smith, attempting a trans-Atlantic flight in a midget plane, and snapped off the boundary lights at 2 a. m. [9 p. m., Chicago time, Monday]. Darkening of the field seemed an admission by officials that they did not expect him to arrive here.

Smith had been en route from the United States nearly forty-two hours, the extreme limit of time for his gasoline supply.

The tiny 670 pound monoplane had been reported over Londonderry in Northern Ireland, Port Patrick at Wigtownshire in the extreme southwest of Scotland, and Saint Bees Head, Cumberland, northern England, but none of the reports was official and identification of the plane as Smith's was not certain.

Scores of other reports had been received by newspapers from persons telephoning that they had seen a tiny plane at various points.

Welcomers Leave Airport.

Before taking off at Old Orchard Beach, Me., at 3:47 a. m., Chicago time, Sunday, he had estimated his 160 gallons of gasoline would carry him 36 to 42 hours or an estimated 3,600 miles at a cruising speed of 100 miles an hour. It is 3,100 miles from Old Orchard to Croydon.

Officials, newspaper men, and photographers kept watch at Croydon in the hope of giving the 24 year old Californian a welcome. But the crowd that had gathered in the afternoon disappeared by midnight.

Flying a small plane with only a four cylinder 65 horse power motor, Smith attempted to span the Atlantic in the smallest plane ever taxed with the assignment since the first successful North Atlantic crossing [by stages] 20 years ago.

Officials at Croydon openly expressed doubt he would make it. "To attempt such a flight in an 85 mile an hour plane was sheer madness," said one.

Called Ship Baby Clipper.

Smith called the plane his "baby clipper." The name was ambitious, but the plane is of a type seldom used for jaunts of more than 250 miles.

However, dove-tailed reports of a small plane's progress over Ireland, Scotland, and England seemed to support the belief that Smith actually had crossed the Atlantic and was headed for London.

Smith carried no radio transmitter equipment and confirmation that the plane seen was his was impossible. He had a radio receiver, however. All reports concurred in describing the plane as a small, aluminum colored craft which tallied with Smith's plane.

Flight Unauthorized.

Smith headed the tiny plane over the Atlantic without having first obtained permission for such a flight from the Civil Aeronautics authority in Washington, D. C.

He did not name a destination. "Europe is as close as I can tell you," he said. Associates thought he would point his tiny monoplane for Slyne Head, Ireland, 2,800 miles away.

He had a screw driver and a single wrench for a tool kit, and, although he expected to be in the air for more than a day and a half, carried only four sandwiches, a couple of chocolate bars, and thermos bottles of water and a soft drink.

Smith, who has been flying nine years despite his relative youth, formerly lived in Clarksburg, W. Va., and has been a pilot for the Detroit-St. Louis-Marquette line.

Last Ocean Flyer Unreported.

The last ocean flight except for commercial transports was from Moscow to Miscou Island, N. B., where the Russian flyers, Vladimir Kokkinaki and Mikhail Gordienko, were forced down April 28 in an attempt to fly nonstop to New York.

The last previous attempted ocean flight was that of Charles Backman, young Chicagoan, who took off from Botwood, Newfoundland, for Sweden, May 16, and has not been reported since. The last successful solo hop was that of Douglas Corrigan on July 18 last year.

OXEN SEIZED IN RAID ARE CONFISCATED AS CARRIERS OF LIQUOR

Jasper, Ala., May 29.—(AP)—Plodding oxen took their place today along with automobiles, speedboats, and airplanes on the long list of confiscated liquor carriers. Sherif's deputies reported two oxen seized in a raid near here. They said the animals hauled wood to the still and whisky away.

PENNSYLVANIA VOTES CURBS ON STRIKE ABUSES

Limits Picketing and Other Violence.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Harrisburg, Pa., May 29.—[Special.]—The state legislature today passed a bill outlawing the sitdown strike in Pennsylvania, and placing a powerful curb on other strike abuses.

Gov. A. H. James.

By the legislators' vote Pennsylvania became the newest state in a constantly increasing group which have acted to punish those who resort to violence, vandalism, and intimidation in labor disputes. Similar laws have been passed in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri, and Oregon. A bill is pending in Illinois. Restrictions have been voted in Michigan and are awaiting the governor's approval.

Measure Up to Governor.

The Pennsylvania measure was sent immediately after its passage to Gov. Arthur H. James, a Republican, whose signature will make it a law. Under its provisions an employé can be found guilty of unfair labor practices for any one of three offenses. These are:

1. Joining a sitdown strike, or seizing or damaging an employer's property.

2. Intimidating or coercing other employés in the choice of bargaining representatives or union membership.

3. Intimidating or coercing an employer to accede to certain specified labor demands.

The bill makes a number of other revisions in the Pennsylvania labor relations act, which was passed during the Democratic administration that was replaced by Republicans last November.

Checkoff System Forbidden.

The checkoff system of collecting union dues is forbidden under the act unless employés authorize it by majority vote. Each employé also must sign a card authorizing the practice. Under the checkoff system union dues are deducted from pay checks and turned over to the unions by employers.

The measure passed today was opposed by the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor [A. F. of L.] and the Pennsylvania Industrial Union council [C. I. O.].

This bill—and others like it in other states—was inspired by the death and injury of hundreds of persons, and the loss of millions of dollars in wages and trade, in industrial strife in recent years.

Costly Machine Damaged.

One outstanding instance of violence was the Apex Hosiery company case. A total of 250 strikers occupied this company's plant in Philadelphia on May 6, 1937, and were not ejected until the following June 24, and then only after a federal court ordered their eviction.

While in possession, the sitdown strikers damaged extensively the interior of the plant and some of its costly machinery. On April 3 of this year a federal court in Philadelphia awarded the Apex company a $711,930 damage verdict against the American Federation of Hosiery Workers, a C. I. O. affiliate, and its president.

The strike at the Hershey Chocolate corporation plant, in Hershey, marked one of the high points of violence resulting from sitdown strikes in Pennsylvania.

Farmers Drive Out Sitters.

Irate farmers and loyal workers, losing money daily while 500 or more strikers occupied the plant, engaged in a hand to hand battle with the sitdowners on April 7, 1937.

Many were injured. There were bone fractures and cracked heads, and head and face cuts and bruises aplenty. One man was stabbed with an ice pick. The floor of the ivy covered factory was spattered with blood.

But the sitdowners were driven out, bringing an end to a kind of industrial warfare hitherto unknown to the picturesque Hershey community—made a showplace through the philanthropy of Milton S. Hershey, founder of the company.

Vote Rejects C. I. O. Rule.

Subsequently a ballot was taken among employés of the company who rejected the C. I. O. United Chocolate Workers of America as a collective bargaining agency by a vote of 2 to 1.

The violence which accompanied the C. I. O. strike at the Bethlehem Steel corporation's Cambria plant at Johnstown in June, 1937, was another forerunner of the decision to put an end to illegal labor strife.

In this struggle John L. Lewis, C. I. O. dictator, called miners from the "captive" mines owned by the Bethlehem company, in sympathy with the steel strikers. Miners flocked to the picket lines, joining thousands of strikers and their wives. Police were compelled to use tear gas and pistol fire to put down the series of riots about the plant.

Appeals to Roosevelt.

Mayor Daniel J. Shields of Johnstown appealed to President Roosevelt to "remove the murderous element that now infests the city." A kidnaping, a dynamite bombing, and numerous individual clashes—including one stabbing fray—prompted the request, which brought no federal intervention.

Despite the violence the strike was a losing proposition, and George H. Earle, then pro-New Deal governor, proclaimed limited martial law in Johnstown and ordered the closing of the Cambria mills. Thus, it was charged, Earle did what the C. I. O. was unable to do in 24 days of fighting and coercion.

Enactments in other states also followed long records of violence and labor abuses.

Citizens Initiate Action.

In Oregon, aroused by strike violence among longshoremen and lumber workers, citizens exercised their right of initiative last November and passed a stringent law. It gives Circuit courts the power to restrain picketing, outlaws boycotts, and curtails the political fund raising activities of unions.

Missouri passed a bill broadening the statute covering unlawful detainer to include sitdown strikes.

Minnesota's legislature acted after numerous killings of union men and the slaying of two newspaper editors who campaigned against strike and vice abuses. The Minnesota law forbids sitdown strikes, guarantees collective bargaining, limits the closed shop, forbids blacklisting employés, and restricts picketing by prohibiting illegal interference with workers seeking to enter or leave struck plants.

Aimed at Racketeers.

Wisconsin last month passed a law designed to rid the state of labor racketeers and protect both employers and employés from coercion and intimidation. It specifically outlaws all forms of sitdown strikes and so-called stranger picketing by unions. It also bars secondary picketing of outlets.

The Michigan bill creates a mediation board of three members, to which either party to an industrial dispute may submit issues voluntarily. If they appeal to the board, they must abide by its findings.

The measure pending in the Illinois legislature outlaws the sitdown strike and contains another provision, the counterpart of which is found in laws of other states. This section would provide a ten day breathing spell before a strike can go into effect after strike notice has been given.

SPURS ILLINOIS SPONSOR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Congerville, Ill., May 29.—[Special.]—Passage of a bill to curb strike abuses in Pennsylvania today cheered State Senator Simon E. Lantz, veteran leader of the agricultural bloc in the Illinois legislature, who has a similar measure pending.

Lantz received the news that Pennsylvania has joined other states in acting against labor violence as he was supervising the shipment of a bumper crop of peonies for Memorial day.

"I'm glad to learn that the whole country is catching on to the idea that innocent parties must be protected in labor disputes," he said. "Look at these peonies. If a strike were called without notice by truckers all the work and expense that went into the growing of them would be lost."

Lantz plans to go to Springfield tomorrow night to do some missionary work for his bill, in advance of the Wednesday convening of the legislature. The bill is on second reading—the amending stage.

Pointing out that in receiving the approval of fourteen of the twenty-one members of the senate agriculture committee, the bill won the votes of both Republicans and Democrats, Lantz, a Republican, expressed hope that it will not become a political football. For this reason he does not plan to ask for a caucus of G. O. P. senators on the measure.

Faces Extortion Threat Charge in Milwaukee

United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker yesterday held Samuel Tervich, 50 years old, of Summit, for removal to Milwaukee on a charge of sending an extortion letter to Dr. Oscar S. Tenley of Wabeno, Wis. The letter threatened Dr. Tenley's life unless he returned money Tervich paid for treatment of his wife in 1930.

CHARGES LABOR LAW DOMINATED BY RACKETEERS

Hell in Its Wake, Former Governor Testifies.

Ex-Gov. C. H. Martin.

Washington, D. C., May 29.—Former Governor Charles H. Martin of Oregon today told the senate labor committee that his state had suffered from C. I. O. and A. F. of L. disputes and from "the bias of the labor relations board."

Testifying at hearings on amendments to the Wagner labor act, Martin spoke of terrible disturbances that tore his state to shreds. He asserted that every time Charles W. Hope, regional director for the labor board, came into the state he left a trail of hell behind him.

"We all wanted temperance, but the prohibition law fell into the hands of racketeers and gangsters," said Martin. "This labor movement has been captured by gangsters and racketeers, who have abused the noble purpose for which the labor law was passed. If we persist in holding this law as it is, it is going to meet the same fate."

Board Plans Revisions.

Chairman J. Warren Madden of the national labor board told the committee that the board soon will amend its regulations to give employers the right to ask for a collective bargaining election under certain circumstances.

Testifying on proposed amendments to the Wagner labor act, Madden asserted that in many cases there is no very valid reason why employers should not have that privilege, now limited to unions and workers.

Like Senator Robert F. Wagner [D., N. Y.], author of the law, Madden said the board has the power to permit such procedure, but without safeguards it would do no good and would do much harm.

Urges Change Be Speeded.

Representative Albert Thomas [D., Tex.], a member of the committee, recommended that the board get busy immediately and make the change in the interest of wise public policy.

The board has contended that to grant employers the unlimited right to petition for a labor board election to determine whether a certain group represented a majority of workers would tend to break down operation of the law.

"If an employer wants to interfere with unions, one of the most effective ways would be to bring up the question of whether the union has a majority at a time when the union obviously doesn't have a majority—maybe just at a time when it has an organization campaign started," Madden explained.

FOUR NONUNION WORKERS BEATEN AT BLOOMINGTON

Bloomington, Ill., May 29.—[Special.]—Four nonunion workers were beaten today during a labor holiday demonstration which stopped work on all union building jobs in Bloomington.

The violence occurred after 300 union workers gathered at the headquarters of the Bloomington Building Trades council and paraded to the site of the Soper building, which is being rebuilt after having been swept by fire. Charles E. Hall, who has the contract for this job, is accused of employing nonunion men there.

Finding no one at work on the building, the demonstrators then marched to Hall's planing mill, where they pummeled two nonunion workers, Henry Lehman, 65 years old, and Harold Hayslip, 33.

Several carloads of demonstrators then drove to a bulk station of the Cities Service Oil company, where they attacked Ervin Aldridge, 37, and his brother, Everett, 41, nonunion painters who were at work there.

Mae Goes Coy

The streamlined Mae West as she sat in car of the Santa Fe Chief yesterday.

Mae West breezed through town yesterday en route to Hollywood. The voluptuous "Diamond Lil" curves are down to sylphlike streamlines. And a new and strange coyness has crept into the stage and screen siren's manner; she chose to evade one group of reporters by escaping from the La Salle street station in a freight elevator. She, her thirteen pieces of luggage, and her party were on the westbound Chief of the Santa Fe line when it left the Dearborn street station. Miss West has been in the east since early March.

WIFE WHO SUED CORPORATION FOR ALIMONY FREED

Mrs. Mary Rapp.

Mrs. Mary Rapp, 27 years old, who last winter was unsuccessful in an attempt to have her husband's business concern pay her support money, obtained a divorce yesterday.

Mrs. Rapp had a separate maintenance suit pending against her husband, John Rapp, head of Transamerican Van Service, Inc., 540 West 59th street.

In January she asked that the company, in the absence of Rapp, be made to support her. Judge Philip J. Finnegan agreed with Rapp's attorney, Sol R. Friedman, that no corporation could be made to pay alimony.

Mrs. Rapp then changed her bill to one for divorce and through her attorney, Frank Teed, charged Rapp deserted her Jan. 2, 1938. Judge Finnegan gave her the divorce, a $1,500 settlement, household furniture, and $10 a week for support of a daughter, Patricia, 20 months old. Mrs. Rapp lives at 8134 South Park avenue.

Rob London Police Chief's Home as He Enjoys Holiday

LONDON, May 29.—(AP)—Two men picked the town house of Sir Hugh Turnbull, commissioner of police for the city of London, for a robbery last night in which they took jewelry worth $3,000 and overlooked gems of greater value. The robbers gagged the butler and bound him to a chair. Sir Hugh and Lady Turnbull were at the seashore for the Whitsun holidays.

UPHOLDS GRAFT INDICTMENTS OF PENN DEMOCRATS

12 Earle Aids Lose Fight to Avoid Trial.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Harrisburg, Pa., May 29.—[Special.]—Judge Howard W. Hughes today refused to quash indictments against State Democratic Chairman David L. Lawrence and eleven other party leaders accused of graft. The judge ordered all defendants to trial.

Hughes, a judge of quarter sessions in Washington county, was designated by the Pennsylvania Supreme court to handle the cases arising from the scandals of Gov. George H. Earle's administration.

The court's opinion swept aside the last legal barricade erected by the former cabinet aids of Earle and other prominent Democrats in a year long fight to block investigation and trial. Ruling against the Democratic bosses on technical pleas raised by them, Judge Hughes ordered the first trial to start June 12.

Lawrence Called Extortionist.

A lengthy opinion on the indictment against Lawrence, in connection with the gravel scandal of 1936, was handed down by Hughes. The jurist held Lawrence's rights were not prejudiced in the grand jury inquiry and sustained the indictment. This case involves charges that Lawrence extorted $5,000 from a gravel contractor and juggled specifications in such a way that only his political cronies could obtain contracts.

Three other indictments against Lawrence also were sustained. Two charge the state democratic boss with fraud and violation of the election laws in connection with the gravel scandals, in which it is alleged he did not report ostensible political contributions to the party. Another indictment accuses Lawrence, along with seven others, of conspiracy to assess state employés for political purposes.

Pay Roll Padding Charged.

The indictments against Ralph M. Bashore, former secretary of labor and industry, for shaking down state employés for campaign contributions, and the former secretary of highways, Roy E. Brownmiller, also were upheld. Brownmiller allegedly padded the state's pay rolls at the election last fall in a fraud estimated at more than $1,600,000.

Nine separate opinions were handed down by the judge, one for each indictment.

One indictment charging five Dauphin county Democrats with a conspiracy to extort money from state employés, was ruled out because the statute of limitations had expired. However, the quintet were indicted on another charge of assessing a public pay roll and that indictment still stands.

The charges were of the Democrats' own making in the first instance last year during the primary. The ticket backed by United States Senator Joseph F. Guffey was defeated by nominees of the Earle-Lawrence faction. Gov. Earle fired his state attorney general, Charles J. Margiotti, when the latter asked the district attorney of Dauphin county to start an investigation.

Unable to Block Probe.

After the primary the forces of Earle and State Chairman Lawrence sought to block the investigation by having a legislative committee, picked by the then Democratic controled majority, take it over. The Supreme court in December ordered the grand jury not to relax its work.

The Democratic ticket was thrashed soundly by the Republicans last Nov. 8. Gov. Earle, running for the senate, was beaten badly by Senator James J. Davis, G. O. P. incumbent. Charles Alvin Jones, Democratic nominee for governor, was defeated by Judge Arthur H. James, Republican.

During the campaign Earle admitted he took $26,000 in "loans" from Matthew H. McCloskey, Philadelphia contractor. McCloskey afterward was awarded more than 10 million dollars' worth of building projects by the general state authority, of which Earle was chairman.

Baby a Big Boy

Mrs. Leah Miller and her 13½ pound baby.

Des Moines, Ia., May 29.—Mrs. Leah Miller, 16 years old, today snuggled her 13½ pound baby close to her and called him her "big boy." The baby is one of the heaviest ever born in Iowa, physicians said. It was born at the Miller home. Miller is a WPA worker and is 30 years old. Mrs. Miller's mother is only 32.

HOODLUMS TOSS STENCH BOMBS AT 5 CUT RATE SHOPS

Unidentified hoodlums swung through the south side last night and hurled stench bombs at five food shops. Two of the bombs missed. The explosive missiles were thrown through the front windows of the shops of Mrs. Eva Crew, 1610 West 72d street; Mrs. Rose Yeager, 843 East 79th street; William Berman, 6910 Stony Island avenue, and Abe Frank, 2734 East 83d street. The one thrown into Frank's store did not explode. A fifth missile was thrown at the store front of Mrs. Inez Kubaszak, 444½ East 79th street, but the thrower's aim was poor. The bomb, a mason jar filled with odorous liquid, hit the exterior brick side of the window. Police said several of the stores are selling cut rate milk.

BRIBE CHARGED IN SUIT AGAINST PAROLE CHIEFS

Foster Mother of Convict Makes $600 Claim.

The foster mother of a convict filed suit in Circuit court yesterday for recovery of $600 she said she paid as a bribe to high officials of the state parole board to secure the convict's parole. The plaintiff is Mrs. Esther Horowitz, owner of a store at 1315 South Kedzie avenue.

Named as the men who received the money are W. C. Jones, chairman of the state board of pardons and paroles; Robert Phillips, secretary of the board; George T. Scully, who was superintendent of paroles from May, 1933, to Christmas day, 1936; and Joseph B. Burke, a parole agent who was ousted in 1935.

Sent to Prison in 1926.

The convict is Harry Horowitz, who was sent to Joliet prison in 1926 at the recorded age of 14. He was paroled in 1934, served two years in the Bridewell for larceny while he was on parole, was sent back to Joliet in 1938, then transferred to Menard prison for the criminally insane, where he now is an inmate.

Scully and Jones were asked last night to comment on Mrs. Horowitz's charges. Scully said he remembered something about the case but declared that the bribery charges are silly. He added that, as he remembered Mrs. Horowitz, she seemed a victim of worry.

Jones said he remembered the woman but none of the facts about Harry Horowitz's parole. He said the bribery charges are ridiculous. He added that Attorney A. L. Gettys, who Mrs. Horowitz says in her suit represented her until 1934, had been writing numerous letters to his office since that time seeking Harry's release. Jones has been head of the parole board for ten years.

Tells of Negotiations.

Mrs. Horowitz's suit says she retained Gettys in 1930 after her foster son had been in prison for eight years. She says that Gettys appeared for her before the parole board, but was unsuccessful. She says she paid him for his services after he sued her.

In 1934, the suit declares, Mrs. Horowitz was told by friends that Burke was the man to see if she wanted a parole for the convict. She asserts that on June 14 of that year she went to Burke, who had quarters next to Scully's at 630 South Dearborn street. She declares that, after negotiation between Burke and Scully, she was told that she could get Harry out for $3,000. This amount eventually was scaled down to $600, the suit charges.

Mrs. Horowitz says she paid the $600 to Burke, who went at once to Jones in the board's Chicago headquarters, and Jones wrote out the parole and gave it to her. She says Horowitz was released at once.

Records of the parole board show that Horowitz was paroled on June 19, 1934. Records show that he was released on June 23, 1934.

Horowitz was sentenced to three to twenty years in prison by the late Judge William N. Gemmill after he pleaded guilty to four charges of robbery. When efforts were made in 1927 by Hinton G. Clabaugh, then parole superintendent, to release the prisoner as too young for Joliet, Judge Gemmill asserted that Horowitz was as dangerous a criminal as any in Chicago. The judge declared that if Clabaugh got Horowitz out he would institute murder charges. Gemmill said that Horowitz was several years older than the record showed.

Scully said last night that Burke, a lawyer, was appointed parole agent for former Governor L. L. Emmerson. He said that he ousted Burke in 1935. No Joseph B. Burke was listed as a Chicago lawyer in 1933, 1934, nor 1935. None is so listed now. Burke could not be traced last night. It was believed, in view of the complaint, that Phillips was named a defendant merely to satisfy legal technicalities. The suit was filed by John F. Lax, 160 North La Salle street, a former associate of Gettys.

Chicago Woman Drowns in Escanaba (Mich.) River

Escanaba, Mich., May 29.—(AP)—Miss Mary Johnson, 42 years old, of 7400 North Seeley avenue, Chicago, drowned today in the Escanaba river north of Boney Falls dam when a boat in which she was crossing the river with her brother, Herman Johnson of Rock, was swamped. She was carried away by the swift stream, swollen by rains, and the brother walked eleven miles along the river before sighting her body. Miss Johnson with two sisters, Amber and Elsie, had come here for a vacation.

PASSING HOURS DAMPEN HOPE OF SMITH'S PARENTS

Clarksburg, W. Va., May 29.—(AP)—The clock in the home of Tommy Smith's parents seemed to tick louder as each hour passed tonight without definite word from the adventuresome young aviator trying a trans-Atlantic flight in his "baby clipper" plane.

Harvey Smith, white haired attorney, talked about the boyhood exploits of his son, while the mother, with face drawn, sat quietly by the radio listening. Shortly before midnight, after a silence longer than usual, Smith stroked his goatee several times and said:

"One thing sure would make me the happiest father in the world—a telegram from Tommy that he'd landed in London and for us to meet him next week in New York at the dock. I don't think that was Tommy they reported seeing. I know Tommy, and if he ever got down as low as 100 feet to ground he would have landed."

RULE CHILD BORN IN U. S. CAN KEEP HER CITIZENSHIP

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—In a decision delivered today by Chief Justice Hughes the United States Supreme court ruled that Marie Elizabeth Elg of Mount Kisco, N. Y., had not lost her United States citizenship. This ruling confirmed an opinion by the District of Columbia Court of Appeals.

The labor department had threatened to deport Miss Elg as an alien. She was born in New York City in 1907 after her father became a naturalized citizen. In 1911 she was taken to Sweden, where she lived until 21 years old and where her father voluntarily relinquished his American citizenship. This, the department argued, made his minor daughter a citizen of Sweden.

But Justice Hughes said a child born here does not thereby lose citizenship by being taken to a foreign land if, on attaining majority, he elects to retain that citizenship.

Atlantic Clipper Arrives in Marseilles with Mail

MARSEILLES, France, May 29.—(AP)—The Atlantic Clipper arrived here at 2:17 p. m. [9:17 a. m. Chicago time] today on her first regular trans-Atlantic mail flight. The Clipper flew from Lisbon, Portugal, in seven hours, five minutes. She left Port Washington, N. Y., on Saturday. Her sister ship, the Yankee Clipper, inaugurated the service last week.

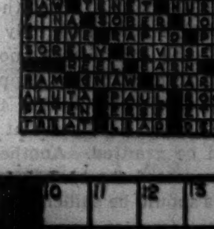
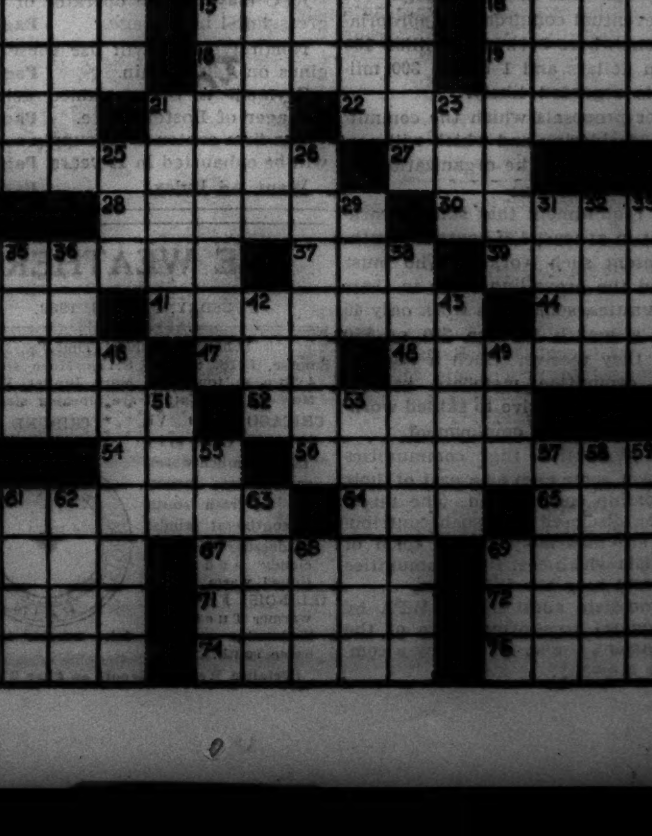
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





BENCH NOMINEES LISTED IN THEIR BALLOT ORDER

Sitting Judges and Bar Indorsements Shown.

For the information of voters, THE TRIBUNE publishes herewith the complete list of nominees for judges of the Circuit and Superior courts in the election of next Monday, June 5.

On the official ballot the two party columns will be in the order shown, the Democrats in the first column and the Republicans in the second column. The names in each column will be in the order followed here. But this is not a fascimile of the ballot and the initials "S" and "B" appearing before the squares in front of the names of some of the candidates will not appear on the ballot. And the voter should not write them on his ballot.

What the Letters Mean.

Those initials are used by THE TRIBUNE to convey essential information concerning the candidates which may aid the voter in placing his crosses on election day. The "S" appears before the name of each candidate who is now a sitting judge seeking reëlection. The "B" denotes that the man before whose name it appears was one of those indorsed by the membership of the Chicago Bar association in what is known as the bar primary.

All twenty Circuit court judges and the one Superior court judge whose terms expire this year are candidates for reëlection. The names of all twenty-one appear in the Democratic column, although eight of the twenty running for the Circuit bench again are Republicans. Those eight are Kickham Scanlan, Stanley H. Klarkowski, David F. Matchett, George Fred Rush, Hugo M. Friend, William V. Brothers, Daniel P. Trude, and Michael Feinberg. No indication of their Republicanism will appear on the ballot.

The Chicago Bar association has held an advisory primary among its members before each judicial election for many years. This year there were 3,994 ballots sent out to members and 2,083 returned ballots were counted. The candidate who received the highest total vote was Circuit Judge Friend—1,819.

Five Beaten in Primary.

Five of the sitting judges were beaten in the primary by their Republican opponents. Those defeated were Judges Feinberg, Rush, and Klarkowski, Republicans, and Judges Dennis J. Normoyle and John R. Caverly, Democrats. The five Republicans indorsed in preference to these incumbents were Harry S. Ditchburne, Thomas H. Slusser, Arnold R. Baar, Harold J. Clark, and Albert E. Jenner Jr.

In addition to electing twenty-one judges for full six year terms, the voters are to elect five judges to fill vacancies in the Superior court, vacancies caused by the death of that number of judges during recent years. The men elected to these seats will serve out the unexpired periods of the terms of the men they succeed.

Since there is no incumbent running for any of these five places the letter "S" does not appear in the part of this tabulation listing the five short term places. Only the letter "B" is used, again to indicate which of the two contestants for each of these places was indorsed in the bar primary.

IF HORSE IS LED TO THIS TROUGH HE CAN'T DRINK

A model of the fountain and horse trough willed the city by David Wallach when he died in 1894 was placed on display yesterday. The fountain is to be built by the park district on the 55th street promontory, 100 feet east of Leif Eriksen drive.

Because the fountain was never built, the money lay idle for years. In 1937 the Wallach heirs sued for an accounting. The suit brought an agreement under which the city got the $5,000 and the heirs the $9,000 accumulated interest.

Wallach left the bequest because he loved horses. But they will find it hard to drink at his trough. Although a bridle path runs along the west side of the drive, there is no place for the horse to cross to reach the water. There will be a bath for birds, a drinking place for dogs, and drinking fountains for children. But the designers, Frederick C. Hibbard and his wife, Elizabeth Haseltine, have provided no trough for the horses.

Mayor to Ask Extension of PWA Traction Deadline

Mayor Kelly said yesterday that the city's unified traction franchise now being drafted will not be finished by July 1. That date is the deadline set by the Public Works administration in its $18,000,000 grant to the city to help finance the $40,000,000 subway. The mayor said he thought Secretary Ickes, head of the PWA, would grant an extension.

Seize Oak Park Salesman in Indiana Cemetery Fraud

William G. Buenik, 39 years old, 187 North Marion street, Oak Park, a salesman, was arrested yesterday on a charge of violating Indiana securities laws. Sergt. John Bartion of the Indiana state police said the case involves fraud in the sale of cemetery lots. Buenik is being held in lieu of $1,000 bond. He said he would resist extradition.

Michigan Student Pilot Crashes to His Death

Coleman, Mich., May 29.—(AP)—Vance Blizzard, Midland, Mich., student aviator, was killed today when his airplane crashed. He was attempting to land.

Candidates in Judicial Election June 5

Below are the nominees for judges of the Superior and Circuit courts in the election of June 5, next Monday. They will appear in this order on the ballot, except that the letters "S" and "B" before some of the names here will not be used on the ballot. And voters should not write them on the ballot. "S" indicates a sitting judge seeking re-election, and "B" indicates indorsement by the membership of the Chicago Bar association in the recent bar primary.

WILSON ACCUSED OF PROTECTING GAMING RACKETS

G. O. P. Blasts Writs Issued in Joliet.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

The pin ball and slot machine rackets were expounded yesterday as part of the issue in the 12th circuit judicial election. Republican managers in Joliet and Kankakee drew attention to injunctions issued by Judge Edwin L. Wilson, Democrat, of Joliet. They said the injunctions protected the rackets.

Eleven candidates on four tickets are running in the 12th district, which is composed of Will, Kankakee, and Iroquois counties. Three judges are to be elected next Monday.

A walkathon injunction in Joliet, one of the early writs issued by Judge Wilson, was cited yesterday in the G. O. P. campaign in Will county. In this court order Judge Wilson on March 1, 1934, restrained the city of Joliet, its mayor, commissioners, and police from halting the exhibition.

Gum Machine Writ Issued.

Looking over more restraining writs, the Republicans pointed to one obtained Nov. 1, 1935, by Richard Groetchen. It halted Joliet city officials from interfering with his operation of penny gum vending machines. On Nov. 5, 1935, Judge Wilson restrained the city from halting the operation of digger vending machines.

On Dec. 20, 1935, another injunction by Judge Wilson restrained the city officials from interfering with Nathan Robin in operating pinball machines.

The famous slot machine injunction was issued April 27, 1936. In this Judge Wilson enjoined the city of Joliet, the mayor, police, sheriff, and the state's attorney from interfering with the machines. Coroner L. B. Brannon then announced that he would wreck the machines and swore in special deputies.

Injunction Protects 700 Machines.

Next Judge Wilson amended the injunction to include the coroner. Incidentally Coroner Brannon now is on the Wilson campaign committee.

The writ protected some 700 slot machines in Will county from official interference. It roused the wrath of officials and has been used as a paramount issue in the judicial campaign.

Soon afterward State Representative Joseph Sam Perry [Dem., Wheaton] asked the impeachment of Judge Wilson in the house in Springfield. By two votes, the house voted not to concern itself with impeachment.

"These injunctions have been a type of dictatorship," A. F. Schupp, Will county Republican chairman, said yesterday. "They have been in violation of the canon of judicial ethics as laid down by the American Bar association."

Ordway, G.O.P. Member of Civil Service Body, Quits

Hyde Park, N. Y., May 29.—(AP)—White House sources disclosed today that President Roosevelt had accepted the resignation of Samuel H. Ordway Jr., Republican member of the civil service commission. It was understood the resignation is to be effective Thursday. Ordway will engage in private law practice in New York City.

HELD ON FRAUD CHARGES.

Miss Etta Morgan, 45 years old, of 11708 Michigan avenue, was arraigned yesterday in Felony court on seven charges of operating a confidence game. Judge Matthew D. Hartigan continued the case to June 14.

[This is the twenty-second of a series of stories on candidates in the judicial election Monday. Those discussed today are Republicans.]

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

Albert E. Jenner Jr. is the youngest candidate for judicial office in the June 5 election. He is 31 years old, a native Chicagoan, and is one of the six Republicans indorsed by the bar association, polling 1,226 votes on 2,083 ballots.

Mr. Jenner is secretary of the bar association, the youngest man ever to hold that post. Since admission to the bar in 1930 he has been a member of many committees for the revision of legal procedure to speed up work of the courts. He is a member of the faculty of the John Marshall Law school and lectures frequently on civil procedure, practice, and pleading. He is a co-author of several volumes on these subjects.

The bar committee on candidates declared of him: "He possesses exceptional legal ability, and a high standard of honor and high ideals of public service. He is well qualified for office."

Mr. Jenner was graduated from the University of Illinois law school in 1930. In his campus days he was lightweight boxing champion of the university and associate business manager of the Daily Illini, the student newspaper. He is married and lives at 7641 Eastlake terrace.

JOHN W. OGREN IN RACE

John W. Ogren was born in Sweden sixty-two years ago and has been active in Scandinavian organizations here for more than twenty years. His parents brought him to this country when he was 7 years old and he attended public schools in Minneapolis. He obtained his law degree from the University of Minnesota in 1901. His first legal practice was in Grand Forks, N. D., and from 1908 to 1911 he was a federal referee in bankruptcy there. In 1912 he was an unsuccessful candidate for a Circuit judgeship in that state.

Mr. Ogren transferred his practice to Chicago in 1917. He was president of the Nordic Law club in 1936 and is a member of the Swedish club. He is married, has two children, and lives at 1015 Greenwood avenue, Wilmette.

The bar committee report on him said: "He is a lawyer of broad experience, a man of unquestioned integrity, and the possessor of a calm and judicial temperament. He is able, conscientious, industrious, and efficient, and well qualified." In the bar election he polled 561 votes on 2,083 ballots.

R. F. BIPPUS SEEKS POST

Rupert F. Bippus, a candidate for a full term in the Superior court, has been an attorney in Chicago for twenty-six years and has held several public offices. He also has been an instructor on contracts at the John Marshall Law school and on real property at the Central College of Commerce.

Mr. Bippus is 49 years old. He was born in Chicago, attended public schools and a business college, and received his degree from the Chicago-Kent College of Law in 1913. He was an assistant city prosecutor from 1915 to 1922 and attorney for the West Chicago park commission in 1923 and 1924. From 1931 to 1933 he was state securities commissioner. He is the author of a book, "Duties and Legal Liabilities of Bank Directors and Officers," published in 1928. In 1933 he was a candidate for the Circuit court.

Mr. Bippus is married and has a daughter. His home is at 619 North Central avenue. The bar committee report on him said: "As a public official he was fearless and unmoved by political considerations. He is a lawyer of ability and possesses a good reputation for integrity. He is courteous, conscientious, industrious, and well qualified."

The bar election gave him 527 votes on 2,083 ballots.

MICHAEL V. OSTROWSKI

Michael V. Ostrowski is a candidate for a two year term in the Superior court left vacant by the death of Judge Joseph B. David. He was born in Chicago forty-six years ago and attended public schools and a business college before entering the Chicago-Kent College of Law, where he obtained his degree in 1923.

He has been in general practice since that time, except for a four year period from 1929 to 1933 when he was an assistant state's attorney under John A. Swanson. He is vice president of the 10th ward Republican organization and is a member of several Polish groups.

Mr. Ostrowski's home is at 2827 East 88th street. He is married and has two children. The bar committee said of him: "His formal education was limited. He is a man of integrity. His experience has not been sufficiently broad to qualify him for judge of the Superior court." He polled 212 votes on 2,083 ballots in the bar election.

Cut Bars, Burn Open Safe and Steal $50,000 in Rio

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

RIO DE JANEIRO, May 29.—Cutting their way through a double set of two inch thick bars protecting the windows, burglars broke into the customshouse here last night and stole 1,000 contos [about $50,000]. Apparently they used torches to open the safe. It was by far the most daring robbery ever staged here.

LYONS ASSAILS DEMOCRATS ON JUDGESHIP RACE

Charges Politics; Fisher Defends Tactics.

Richard J. Lyons, Republican nominee for United States senator last year, charged last night in a radio address that tactics employed by the Democratic organization had made the Cook county judicial campaign a political fight instead of a nonpartisan contest.

His statement was contradicted by Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher, one of twelve Democratic nominees who addressed a 44th ward rally at 2348 North Clark street. Judge Fisher told his audience that it was solely for partisan reasons that the Republicans refused to support a coalition slate this year.

"They would sacrifice the independence of the bench to gain a party advantage," said Judge Fisher.

He said the present judges of the Circuit and Superior courts are the most progressive and creative group in the judicial history of the United States.

Court Administration Hailed.

"These judges," he said, "without resorting to legislation and without seeking help from the outside, have, through their own interest and genius, so reorganized the administration of the courts as to make them outstanding among the courts of the country.

"The Criminal court docket has been cleared. In the face of a 67 per cent increase in litigation the law's delay in the civil branch has been reduced by 50 per cent. In the Appellate court tremendous progress has been made and an unprecedented record has been established. In the last twenty years the Appellate court has been reversed by the Supreme court in less than ½ of 1 per cent of cases.

"The greatest blessing any community can have is the independence of its judges. Where judges are elected and not appointed that independence is possible only where worthy sitting judges are assured of public support for reëlection without regard to party affiliations. Relying upon that support, the sitting judges can remain free from and independent of political pressure."

Lyons Questions Control.

"The question today," said Lyons in his radio speech, "not only in Cook county but in every judicial district of the state of Illinois is: Shall the judiciary be controled by a dominant political party which has for its purpose not only the control of every legislative and executive office but also the control of the last bulwark of the people—their right to a fair and untrammeled judiciary?

"It is no secret that the Democratic machine is desperate because of the Republican majorities that have been piling up in Illinois. This machine now is about to pour untold sums of money not only into Cook county but also into every downstate district of Illinois.

"This Democratic machine is not content with the control of the city and its administration. At the present time it completely dominates and has a monopoly of all local governments.

"Remember the machine hopes that you stay at home. Every stay-at-home vote will be the same as two machine votes cast. There are at least 200,000 votes for the Democratic machine ticket which are as good as in the ballot box now. In a desperate pinch, and this is a desperate one, more votes than that can be counted upon."

TILDEN TECH R. O. T. C. AWARDED FIRST PLACE AMONG CHICAGO UNITS

Tilden Technical High school has the best trained R. O. T. C. unit in Chicago. This was announced yesterday by Col. Charles A. Thuis, officer in charge of R. O. T. C. units in the sixth army corps area. The Crane Tech and Morgan Park High school units were second and third, respectively. This is the second consecutive year that Tilden placed first.

The rating were announced after Maj. Leland W. Skaggs of the United States army had completed a three week inspection tour of the twenty-eight R. O. T. C. in Chicago.

The ratings entitle Tilden and Crane to the sets of colors given annually by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE to the two outstanding R. O. T. C. units in Chicago. The flags will be presented at 11:30 a. m. Friday by Col. Virgil L. Peterson, chief of staff of the 6th army corps area, at the band shell in Grant park.

After the presentation the Tilden and Crane units will lead the twenty-six other Chicago R. O. T. C. corps in a parade up Michigan avenue. The parade is sponsored each year by the board of education and THE TRIBUNE.

STUDENT KILLED BY TRAIN WHILE PLAYING HOOKY

A Crane Technical High School student who played truant yesterday to go fishing was killed when he hopped an Elgin, Joliet & Eastern train near Narragansett avenue. He was Edward Novacek, 16 years old, 2016 North Tripp avenue.

He and six other boys went to the south side to fish in an old excavation. Novacek and three others decided to hop the train back instead of hitchhiking. Novacek was on the back of the train and the others were in front. He started toward his companions, fell from the train, and was run over.

And So Upon a Tiny Barb Mighty Law Is Skewered

Mendota, Ill., May 29.—[Special.]—While Police Chief Godfrey Ichorn was en route to jail with a panhandler today he found it necessary to pass through a barbed wire fence. He shoved the prisoners through first. When the chief was half way through the seat of his trousers caught on a barb. The panhandler took fight and kept going, despite shots fired in the air by Ichorn.

OIL EXPORTS SKID IN FIRST YEAR OF RULE BY MEXICO

Germany, Italy and Japan Rise as Buyers.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, May 29.—After the first year of government operation of seized oil properties in Mexico, comparative figures reveal a decline of exports, with most of the oil going to Germany, Italy, and Japan rather than to the ousted owners. The comparisons also show a decline in efficiency of operation.

Before Mexico expropriated foreign owned oil properties on March 18, 1938, the investments were held as follows: United States, 57 per cent; Great Britain, 26; Dutch, 11, and other foreign countries, 3 per cent. In 1937, the last full year under private management, Mexican wells produced 46,907,352 barrels of oil and 22,445,972 barrels were exported.

Exports Drop Sharply.

In the period from March 18 to Dec. 31, 1938, only 9,660,000 barrels were exported, a drop of 8,500,000 barrels compared with the same period of 1937. In the same period there was a notable change in the destination of the exports. The comparisons with the last nine months of 1937 were as follows:

[March 18 to Dec. 31.]	1937.	1938.
Exported to—	[barrels]	[barrels]
United States	5,400 000	2,079,000
Great Britain	4,250,000	14,000
Germany	1,990,000	5,140,000

In the same period of 1938 Italy got 309,000 barrels and Japan got 234,000 barrels, increases of 50 per cent over the previous year. In fact, the first consignment by the government management was 85,000 barrels of crude to Japan.

Increased exports also went to Belgium, France, and Sweden, but there were great decreases in exports to Dutch possessions, Australia, Brazil, and Spain. Although previously good customers, no shipments were made to Argentina, Chile, Cuba, Guatemala, India, New Zealand, Portugal, and South Africa.

Trend Continues in 1939.

Production for January, 1939, was 3,000,000 barrels with exports of 1,300,000 barrels. Of this, 350,000 barrels went to Germany; 340,000 under sealed orders to Land's End, England—a disguised consignment believed intended mostly for Germany; 230,000 barrels to the United States, and 190,000 to Italy.

Production and exports were on about the same ratio for February, March, and April.

Germany's big leap in 1938 is attributed to her trade and barter tactics and her mad scramble to get Latin American business.

Germany's lead is likely to prove temporary, many observers believe, with Italy supplanting her as Mexico's best customer.

At present Mexico is said to have a credit of 14,000,000 marks [nominally $5,600,000] in Hamburg banks. The working of a typical barter deal is illustrated by the story of a Mexican oil representative who is on his way to Germany to take delivery of fifty-one bulls accepted in part payment for his oil.

Number of Employés Rises.

Labor conditions in the Mexican oil industry also present a changing picture. The 15,000 employés under private management were increased 20 per cent in number when the government put all previous part time men to work at full pay and also added new employés. Former company officials report that any one having a good connection with an oil boss or politician can get on the pay roll. Mexicans admit it is easy to get a job.

The oil workers are graduated into fourteen classes according to wages. The bottom bracket, with 4,289 workers, had a minimum wage of 3 to 5 pesos a day under private management and now are getting 4.51 to 5.23 pesos a day. [The peso currently is worth 20 cents.] The top class of 905 workers was getting 14 pesos and now is receiving 14.84. It will be noticed that the pay boost decreased on the way up.

Under private management, overtime was an important part of the pay check; now no overtime is paid. Oil experts point out that considering the elimination of overtime and the many shutdowns, most of the employés are making less than they were before.

Can't Get Spare Parts.

One of the prominent causes of shutdowns under government management is inability to obtain spare parts. One of the biggest refineries is shut down because of a power plant breakdown.

Other reasons for the severe decline in production may be found in the unwillingness of the government controlled executives to accept responsibility and their lack of capacity in comparison with the private companies' managers.

Every time something goes wrong, the government bosses shut down and have a general meeting of workers. Centralization of management has been proposed, but the workers are up in arms against it—it would, perhaps, improve efficiency, but would also cut off many jobs. In fact, the workers want the government to hand them the oil properties to run, as it did the railroads.

ROOSEVELT SON'S WIFE PATIENT AT SANITARIUM

Stockridge, Mass., May 29.—[Special.]—Mrs. Ethel du Pont Roosevelt, wife of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., is in Stockbridge for a rest under treatment by Dr. Austen Fox Riggs, neurologist, and his staff at the Riggs sanitarium. She arrived three weeks ago and has been relaxing and engaging in mild sports and hiking.

Although she visits the town's stores to do shopping, she has taken no part in the social life of this community. Dr. Riggs said she would remain only a week or 10 days longer. He said that Franklin Jr. accompanied her here, but later left. He is a law student in the University of Virginia at Charlottesville.

UNITE DEMOCRAT FORCES TO PASS RELIEF MERGER

United Democratic support has been secured for bills to merge the administration of all forms of public aid by creating a new state department of public assistance, it was learned yesterday. This greatly increases chances of house passage. The bills have already been passed by the senate.

Backing for the revised relief setup came out of the recent conference between Gov. Henry Horner and Mayor Kelly, although the two party leaders could not agree on the amount of state funds to be made available for relief in the two years starting June 1. Lieut. Gov. John Stelle is an enthusiastic supporter of the bills.

HAIL FRIENDSHIP OF U. S., FRANCE AT CEREMONIES

Envoy Bullitt Speaks at 2 Services for War Dead.

PARIS, May 29.—(AP)—American Ambassador William C. Bullitt promised today in two memorial addresses over the graves of American world war dead that "the truths for which they fought" would be safeguarded.

With representatives of the French government the ambassador led Memorial day exercises conducted at American cemeteries throughout France a day early to coincide with France's Whitmonday holiday.

Bullitt spoke first at the American cemetery of Suresnes, outside Paris, where he declared:

"The men who lie here fought the good fight and died the brave death. They rest in honor. But their spirit of young courage still survives in the hearts of their countrymen and of the French."

Cites Union of Two Countries.

Auguste Champetier de Ribes, minister of pensions, who spoke with Bullitt at the same ceremony, hailed French-American friendship as a factor for maintenance of peace.

"Our dead do not want us to mourn them without hope," he said. "They died for liberty—a death which is never in vain. We know this from what the union of our two countries was able to do for victory and what it still can do for peace.

"The good sense that is common to us protects us from the slogans of barbarous ideologies. We have ideals of justice and liberty and the same respect for the human being. The cause for which our soldiers died will not die."

Honors the Escadrille.

In an address at the Lafayette Escadrille memorial at Garches, a suburb of Paris, Bullitt said:

"We remember these men as Americans will remember them always—with pride in their courage and humility before the selflessness of their sacrifice. Whatever forces of darkness may threaten the truths for which they fought, those truths will not be swept away from the earth."

Memorial services also were held at the Meuse-Argonne cemetery at Romagne, the Fere-en-Tardenois cemetery near Seringes, the St. Mihiel cemetery at Thiaucourt, and the Aisne-Marne cemetery at Belleau.

The American Overseas Memorial Day association, coöperating with the American Legion, decorated graves throughout France, including those of six union and confederate sailors who fought a civil war battle off Cherbourg.

Decorate Graves in Belgium.

BRUSSELS, May 29.—(AP)—Ambassador Joseph E. Davies and American Legionnaires in Belgium today attended a Memorial day service at a war cemetery where they placed flowers on the tombs of the dead. School children sang the American anthem.

POLICEMEN RUSH TO GIVE BLOOD FOR CAPT. GRADY

A message asking for blood donors to aid Capt. Michael Grady of the Kensington station was sent out last evening over the police teletype by John Prendergast, chief of the uniformed force. In a few minutes scores of policemen had volunteered.

Capt. Grady is in Mercy hospital suffering from a heart ailment and anemia. He was stricken Sunday in his home at 7825 Laflin street where he lives with his wife and three children. Yesterday he was persuaded to go to the hospital by Dr. A. C. Wendt, 800 West 78th street, a police physician. There, after a consultation with Dr. Fred Drenner, Dr. Wendt announced a blood transfusion probably would be necessary today.

Capt. Grady is 52 years old. He joined the force in 1912 and soon became known for outstanding detective work. Grady formerly was deputy chief of detectives.

Suit Dismissed

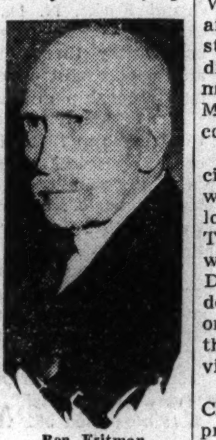
PEGGY FEARS.

Boston, Mass., May 29.—[Special.]—A suit brought by Margaret [Peggy] Fears Blumenthal, former New York actress, against her estranged husband, Alfred C. Blumenthal, producer, was dismissed today by the Massachusetts Supreme court. She had sought to set aside a stock transaction allegedly involving $41,000.

Mrs. Blumenthal contended that after she was awarded $20,000 a year by the New York Supreme court in 1934 under a separation agreement, Blumenthal turned over valuable theater stock to a sister, Mrs. Miriam Rogers of Brookline, Mass. The transfer deprived her of the opportunity to levy on profits from the stock, she alleged, when Blumenthal failed to make payments under the agreement. The Massachusetts court held that one spouse could not collect from another in this state in an action settled in another state.

LOST 90 YEARS, CIVIL WAR VET HOPES KIN WILL FIND HIM TODAY

Danville, Ill., May 29.—[Special.]—Ben Fritman, now 95 years old, approached Memorial day with a lingering hope that some one at last will help him answer the question he has pondered for years: Who were his parents and does he have living kin?



Ben Fritman.

Fritman believes that his parents were German immigrants who came to New York in 1848. He knows that, 90 years ago, as a boy of 5, he wandered away to watch a parade of firemen in gaudy uniforms and that he never found his way back home. He was taken to an orphanage, where he received his name, and after seven years he was sent west to do farm work.

Fritman lived for a year in Delphi, Ind.; then he ran away, wandered for a time, joined the Union army, and later was an Indiana school teacher for 25 years. He has a daughter, Mrs. Carrie M. Williams, wife of a professor at Ohio State university in Columbus, O.

Nonveteran organizations, principally youths, will end the parade. This division will include R. O. T. C. units, the Boy Scouts, and the Sheffield club drum and bugle corps. The Chicago fire department, led by Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan, will follow.

A memorial service at the Logan monument will follow the parade.

Memorial services also will be held in 123 cemeteries throughout Cook county, where the graves of 25,000 soldier dead will be decorated with the blue-staffed memorial flag.

In Rosehill cemetery, where 2,553 soldiers are buried, Senator Scott W. Lucas will speak at 10 a. m. The Thomas post of the G. A. R., with nine surviving members, also will hold a service at its monument in Rosehill.

Few war heroes, regardless of the cause for which they gave their lives, will be forgotten. The grave of David Kennison, revolutionary soldier buried in Lincoln park, will be the scene of a memorial service at 10:30 a. m. At the same hour a service will be held at the Confederate monument in Oak Woods cemetery. The shaft marks the graves of 6,000 Confederate soldiers and sailors who died in Camp Douglas. Again, as in many years past, these words, symbolical of the spirit of Memorial day, will be uttered there: "Those who wore the blue and those who wore the grey—let their valorous deeds be treasured as a common heritage."

Ship Service for Sailors.

Nor will sailors who lost their lives at sea be forgotten. A memorial service for them will be held at 11 a. m. on the quarterdeck of the U. S. S. Wilmette alongside the naval armory at the foot of Randolph street. A wreath of flowers will be dropped into Lake Michigan in their memory, a salute will be fired and Maj. Chester L. Fordney of the marine corps will speak.

Most of the suburbs will hold special Memorial day parades. The largest will be in Evanston at 10:30 a. m., followed by a service in Patriot's park. The Des Plaines ceremony will end with a service on the banks of the Des Plaines river to honor sailor dead. Oak Park and River Forest organizations will band together for their parade, which will end in Scoville park.

The Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs will sponsor a Memorial day program and broadcast over WHIP at 11:30 a. m. at the Englewood Y. W. C. A. auditorium. Mrs. William T. Bruckner, president, will speak.

Several memorial masses will be sung throughout the city today. Among the largest will be the military mass at the Edward Hines Memorial hospital at 9:30 a. m., with the Very Rev. Matthias Coen as celebrant. The Most Rev. Bernard J. Sheil, auxiliary bishop of Chicago, will speak following the services.

29 G. A. R. Vets in Area.

Twenty-nine G. A. R. veterans now are known to live in or on the outskirts of Cook county. A newcomer to the group is Ogden Chidester of 1225 Lake avenue, Wilmette, now 95 years of age. Seventy-five years ago he helped to build the Union breastworks for the battle of Richmond. As an artisan with the 1st New York engineers, he served two years with the Union army.

Three Memorial day services were conducted yesterday morning at Lake View High school by the Lake View unit of the Reserve Officers Training corps and the Lincoln Square post of the American Legion. Special guests included Milton H. Myers and James C. Crugom, both civil war veterans. Mr. Myers recited Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Two of the assemblies were addressed by Elidor Liboniti, Americanism chairman of the legion's Cook County council.

A bugler of the civil war and a bugler of today's R. O. T. C. took part in yesterday's memorial service at Austin town hall. The veteran is Dr. Charles O. Brown, 91 years old, who at the age of 16 years became chief bugler for the 3d Ohio volunteers. The youth is John Fippen, 16 years old, of 5717 West End avenue, bugler for the Austin High school R. T. O. C. unit.

The Facts on Air Conditioning

See the Exhibits of Leading Air Conditioning and Heating Manufacturers at the Drake Hotel, May 31 thru June 2

Air conditioning has passed the experimental stage. See for yourself what air conditioning equipment, correctly designed and installed, means to your health and comfort.

To bring you the facts on air conditioning and heating, the Heating, Piping & Air Conditioning Contractors National Association, in connection with its 50th Anniversary Convention, is sponsoring an exposition showing the application of air conditioning to residential, commercial, professional, educational, and industrial buildings — made-to-order weather for any type of building which houses human beings.

Fifty years of experience in heating and air conditioning from the home to the skyscraper has placed the members of this Association in a position to tell you how air conditioning should be done today and will be done tomorrow.

VANDENBERG IS WILLING TO RUN FOR ONLY 1 TERM

He Will Accept, but Not Seek Nomination.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 29.—[Special.]—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan will not seek but will accept the Republican nomination for President next year, if it should come his way. And whether the candidate be himself or another he should be pre-pledged to serve but one term so as to be "free of all incentive but the one job of saving America."

This is what the senator today told the Michigan Republicans in congress and at Lansing who recently initiated a movement to draft him for the nomination. The letter in which Mr. Vandenberg expressed his views on the nomination was accepted as the green light for their project.

The next move by the Vandenberg boomers will be the organization of a committee to manage the canvass for the selection of the Michigan senator as the Republican standard bearer.

One Term Pledge Startling.

The Vandenberg suggestion that the candidate be pledged to only one term attracted much attention in the capital. The argument in its favor is that advanced for a constitutional amendment limiting tenure of the presidency to a single term. It is held that a President would give a more efficient and independent administration if he were not playing politics to get reëlected.

The practical political effect of the Vandenberg suggestion, in the opinion of Republican leaders, will be to bring into popular disfavor the New Deal maneuvering to nominate Mr. Roosevelt for a third term. It also would be an incentive to conservative Democrats to support a Republican candidate, so pledged to one term. It thereby becomes part and parcel of the Vandenberg theory that the next administration should be a coalition government in which Democrats as well as Republicans would be represented.

Seeks Common Ground.

The senator said in his letter that the Republicans should create "a common ground upon which all like thinkers may unite to produce an administration for all Americans." This was interpreted as a suggestion for a coalition government addressed particularly to anti-New Deal Democrats who would the more readily support the Republican nominee if he were pledged to one term.

Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, a potential candidate for the Republican nomination thought the important things for the next President to do is not so much to pledge himself to one term as to commit himself to a program so independent and hence so unpopular that he would not be renominated.

"Words fail to express my gratitude for this expression of confidence," Senator Vandenberg stated in his letter. "I shall hope to proceed with whatever responsibilites lie ahead in a manner that may justify the generous opinion. At the moment these responsibilities require me to announce that I shall be a candidate to succeed myself in the United States senate. If there are subsequent responsibilities of a broader nature I shall meet them in the best of my ability.

For All Americans.

"You are good enough to credit me with sincerity in asserting that the next Republican presidential nomination transcends all ordinary quests. The next Republican national convention must first set down clean cut, constructive, and courageous principles, which dependably promise to save the American system of free enterprise under the renewed spirit of constitutional democracy, and to recapture prosperity for our whole people under a government restored to solvency. Then it should fit its nomination to its principles.

"In my view it must strive to create common grounds upon which all like thinkers may unite to produce an administration for all Americans in which a pre-pledged, one term President is manifestly free of all incentive but the one job of saving America. In my view the nomination should flow from the deliberative judgment of a convention wholly free to search out the wisest, surest answers to these critical problems.

"Holding this deep conviction, it should be wholly out of character for me personally to pursue the nomination for myself. It is for the people themselves to speak. No man understanding its difficulties and responsibilities should covet the presidency; and no American could decline it if chosen."

Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, Republican leader of the senate, and Senator John G. Townsend Jr., of Delaware, chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, applauded the one term pledge.

Mrs. Joseph Kennedy as she arrived in New York on the Normandie.

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, wife of the United States ambassador to Great Britain, arrived today on the liner Normandie to visit her parents, John F Fitzgerald, former mayor of Boston, and Mrs. Fitzgerald, who met her at the pier.

Mrs. Kennedy traveled alone, the ambassador and their nine children all remaining in Europe. This is her first visit home since she sailed for England on March 9, 1938. Mrs. Kennedy said that she would not be in New York when King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth make their visit. She plans to return to London on June 14.

REVEAL BUTLER AS HERO IN LAKE RESCUE OF FIVE

Gustave Anderson.

Three young nurses and two men who were rescued Sunday after their speedboat capsized on the lake off North avenue yesterday learned the name of the keen eyed observer who sent police, volunteer boatmen, and coast guards to their aid. He is Gustave Anderson, butler for David Smart of 179 Lake Shore drive. Anderson was scanning the lake through glasses from a 26th floor apartment when he saw the boat capsize. He telephoned police, who rushed to North avenue beach, called for volunteers to man a boat, and rescued two of the women. Coast guardsmen saved the others. The victims, all of whom had recovered yesterday from the effects of exposure, are: Miss Gerda Varming, 22 years old, of Clarendon Hills; Miss Dorothy Ackerman, 20, of 5631 Kenwood avenue; Miss Eleanor Ludwig, 21, of 54 South Ashland avenue, La Grange; Theodore Hester, 27, and his brother, Thomas, 26, of 1480 Grace street.

HOPES TO "SELL" ARMY TO 115,000 BY JULY, 1940

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—Army officials are preparing the most intensive recruiting campaign since the world war, with a goal of nearly 115,000 recruits or reënlistments in the next 13 months. The drive is designed to meet replacement and expansion needs of the air corps and other branches.

Eighteen recruiting stations on wheels, posters, motion pictures, and the radio will be used. Maj. Harold N. Gilbert, recruiting officer, said high pressure salesmanship may be used to get qualified men for the air corps' treble expansion authorized by congress.

"We're going to make sure the boys back in the country know what the army has to offer," he said.

The navy needs men and will add five thousand in the next year. There always are more applicants than vacancies in the sea service.

$2,000 Rug and Furs Stolen from Home as Couple Sleep

Arthur B. Crosby, a Chicago manufacturer, and his wife, awoke yesterday morning to discover that burglars had ransacked their home on Kimberly road, three miles northwest of Barrington. The thieves stole a $2,000 antique oriental rug, a sealskin coat, and a silver fox scarf from a closet next to their bedroom.

GIRD FOR FINISH FIGHT ON HULL'S NEUTRALITY BILL

Foes of Plan Will Act as 'Battalion of Death.'

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 29.—[Special.]—Senate neutrality advocates today began pledging to act as a "battalion of death," which would filibuster as a last resort to defeat the proposal announced by Secretary of State Cordell Hull to nullify the existing neutrality law.

The neutrality advocates regard the new administration scheme as another effort to take sides in advance of Europe's next war by placing the resources of the United States at the disposal of Great Britain and France.

Foes of the proposed legislation expressed doubt a filibuster would be necessary to defeat it in the senate. If this expedient becomes necessary, however, they will be prepared for it.

Use Strategy of Court Fight.

The opposition will be organized along the same lines of the "battalion of death" which was prepared to filibuster indefinitly, had it been necessary, to defeat Mr. Roosevelt's proposal to pack the United States Supreme court in 1937.

The neutrality advocates expressed doubt, however, that the administration would force the issue and risk defeat in the senate on the Hull proposal. Supporters of the legislation conceded it would delay adjournment of congress until late in the summer.

Some opponents of the legislation expressed the belief it could be shoved through the house, and the administration's strategy calls for action in that body first. Representative Sol Bloom [D., N. Y.], introduced a bill incorporating Secretary Hull's suggestions today, and the house foreign affairs committee will meet Thursday to consider it in executive session.

Pittman Predicts Action.

Senator Key Pittman [D., Nev.], chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, accepted the Hull program as his own and predicted his committee would report a bill substantially following it. Hull's recommendations could be incorporated with minor amendments in the so-called "cash and carry" bill introduced by Pittman.

"It is my belief that a majority of the committee will favor the principle of this bill," Pittman said. "As to details, consideration of the legislation will determine them."

Pittman's bill would permit the sale of arms, ammunition, and implements of war to all belligerents provided they were paid for in cash and not transported in American ships. The program recommended by Secretary Hull, in letters to Pittman and Bloom, would repeal the existing embargo on the shipment of arms to belligerents.

Would Empower President.

The Hull plan would give the President authority to delineate belligerent zones in which American ships could not enter, but American ships could transport arms and other war supplies to outlying possessions of belligerents. Arms and war supplies of all kinds could be exported directly to the belligerent zones on a cash and carry basis.

Pittman's proposal admittedly was designed to favor Great Britain and France to the detriment of Germany and Italy, and the neutrality advocates declare that Hull's program would have precisely the same effect.

The Hull program proceeds on the assumption that Great Britain and France, having larger navies, would control the seas and prevent access by Germany and Italy to American war supplies.

Senator Bennett C. Clark [D., Mo.] said the plan proposed by Hull "is simply calculated to lead us into war in the same way we were led into the last war."

The opposition to the Hull scheme will include most of the senators who fought the court packing bill two years ago and some who supported that measure.

Rushing the Season

Chicago still had a hangover of Sunday's chill breezes yesterday, but there was enough sunshine to make an ice cream cone taste good. At least Sultan, the young gorilla at the Chicago Zoölogical park at Brookfield, thought so. The weather man said that today would be warmer and fair.

KILLED BY SHOCK OF ELECTRIC BAIT CATCHING DEVICE

Dies When He Grabs Charged Rod.

Warden Gaston prepared yesterday for the fishing trip he meant to take today.

He sprinkled the lawn of his filling station at 1st and State streets in Geneva. Then he attached a metal rod a foot long to an electric cord and plugged the cord into a socket at the greasing pit. He switched on the current and pressed the rod into the lawn.

This somewhat curious activity caused no concern among Gaston's friends. They use the same system to get their fishing bait. The current, passing through the rod, enters the earth. The electrical impulse drives night crawlers to the surface.

Gaston planned to pick up the worms before going home to have supper with his wife, Kathleen, and daughter Patricia Joy, 10 months old.

Stewart Cooper, the garage man across the street, came over to see if Gaston's homemade set worked as well as manufactured ones.

Gaston, 32 years old, said he was afraid it didn't. He grasped the taped end of the rod to lift it from the soil and move it to another location.

His first tug did not pull out the rod. He reached down with his other hand and touched the metal of the rod.

There were 110 volts in the wire. The ground was water soaked. Gaston fell dead, still grasping the rod.

EVANSTON POLICE SHAKEUP BRINGS MORE TRANSFERS

A shakeup in the Evanston police department was announced yesterday by Capt. Charles F. Paasch, who has been acting head since the resignation of Chief William O. Freeman last week.

Lieut. Carl Ekman, who has been chief of the detective bureau for eleven years, was transferred to the uniform division. Sergt. Bernard J. Hanke of the uniform division was appointed to Lieut. Ekman's place. Detective Sergts. Arthur Wharton and Fred Wynn also were transferred from the detective bureau to the uniform division.

Mayor Henry D. Penfield conferred yesterday with Lieut. Leonard of the Chicago park district, who has been mentioned as first choice for appointment as Freeman's successor. Mayor Penfield refused to comment except to say that the name of the chief will be submitted to the council tomorrow.

UNDER WHATEVER MOUND—

By CALEB

WHEN the longest and saddest of America's wars drew to its close in 1865, it left in its wake a land strewn thick, from North to South, with the graves of fallen soldiery. A hundred thousand cemeteries, from Canada to the Gulf, were the repositories of a greater casualty roll, paid to preserve the Union, than characterized—in proportion to numbers engaged—the World War's fiercest fighting. In the years that immediately followed, the Blue and the Gray had such cause to remember the dead as had never visited the land of the free before!

Thinking on these things, General John A. Logan, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, issued a general order on May 5th, 1868, designating May 30th as a date for "strewing with flowers, or otherwise decorating, the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion." He did this, he added, "with the hope that it will be kept up from year to year."

In 1882, the G. A. R. urged that what had been termed "Decoration Day" be thenceforward known as Memorial Day; but the occasion has never been so designated by national law. Instead, the states have individually, and at various times, made it a legal holiday—Rhode Island leading off with such recognition, in 1874, and Vermont, in 1877. Observance today includes every state, along with Porto Rico, Hawaii, Alaska, and the District of Columbia—with the exception of Arkansas, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, and Texas. In Virginia, the date is distinctively solemnized as "Confederate Memorial Day." . . .

Actual survivors from the ranks of Grant and Lee are now but a pitiable handful. The lad of fourteen who managed to "join up" and carry drum, bugle, rifle or flag in '61, if still alive today, is a frail old nonagenarian. A year or so hence, in fact, the nation's marchers will include not a single feeble Grand Army footstep. Only the tread of Spanish-American and World War veterans will rally "Old Glory" on its applauded way. And as Time has numerically diminished the living fighters who remember their comrades, it has sentimentally broadened the universal tribute to include all who are mourned, under whatever mound they sleep.

Today, therefore, is, for each of us, one of the most sacred among the calendar's three hundred and sixty-five. Each of us has someone in the Quiet City to remember as no longer near, save in deep and ennobling memories. Parade and fanfare rightly pay the dead a national homage; but these flowers we privately wear, or lay in some still spot, symbolize our personal tribute . . . blessed by that best of Memorial Day thoughts: "To live in hearts of those we leave behind is not to die."

ASK REPARATION AS PENDERGAST ENTERS PRISON

Demand 13 Millions Taken from Policyholders.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Kansas City, Mo., May 29.—[Special.]—Tom J. Pendergast, Democratic political boss of Kansas City, and R. E. O'Malley, his henchman, who formerly was state insurance director, entered the gates of Leavenworth federal penitentiary today. They began sentences for fraudulent evasion of income taxes in 1935 and 1936.

The fraud, which both admitted, consisted largely of failure to report taxable income consisting of bribes totaling $377,000 which they received for a Missouri fire insurance rate settlement dating back to 1935 and involving $9,500,000 in impounded premiums.

Under the settlement the 142 companies involved received a rate increase retroactive to 1935 and about $8,000,000 of $9,500,000. The remaining $1,500,000 went back to policy holders.

Move to Reclaim 8 Million.

As Pendergast and O'Malley began their sentences today steps were taken in two places to obtain the return to policy holders of the $8,000,000 granted the companies.

In Kansas City a federal court agreed to reopen the rate case. It did so after Charles L. Henson, attorney representing the state insurance superintendent, Ray B. Lucas, requested the setting aside of the order returned by a three judge court in 1336 under which the rate settlement became effective.

Henson asked that of the 142 fire insurance companies involved in the settlement, 137 be made to show cause why the court's order should not be voided. Only 137 companies were included in this request because they operate in states other than Missouri, while the remainder do business only in this state, and are subject to control of state courts.

The petition to the court asked that the companies be ordered to turn over to policy holders the $8,000,000 granted them by the settlement, plus 6 per cent interest.

Companies Willing to Repay.

The attorney for the 137 companies, William M. Bullitt of Louisville, Ky., said his clients were willing to restore the $8,000,000 to policy holders.

"The companies do not wish to have anything to do with the insurance rate order inasmuch as they have learned that O'Malley received money for it," Bullitt said. "The companies would abide by any decision the court returned as proper and just.

The other step to upset the fraudulent settlement was taken in Jefferson City. There Attorney General Roy McKittrick, instituting a quo warranto action, asked the Supreme court to ban the 142 insurance companies from operating in Missouri until the $8,000,000 received by the settlement was turned back to policy holders. He demanded that in addition the companies give up the amounts collected since the settlement.

McKittrick charged that large sums were paid to Pendergast and O'Malley corruptly and feloniously by the companies, and called the compromise settlement a cheat and a fraud on policy holders in Missouri.

Seeks to Return 13 Millions.

The attorney general issued a statement which said his action aims at the return of about $13,000,000 to policy holders, this being $5,000,000 since collected on the increase on rates approved in the compromise and the $8,000,000 the companies received in the settlement.

"In my opinion," the statement said, "this has been unlawfully taken from them." The statement recalled that in 1922 Ben C. Hyde, then insurance superintendent, ordered a 10 per cent reduction in fire insurance rates.

"After the order finally was upheld by the courts in 1929, the companies soon thereafter put in force a rate increase of 16⅔ per cent, which was disapproved by the then insurance superintendent.

"This was the basis of the litigation later compromised by O'Malley. The compromise was the basis of an order by O'Malley giving the companies a new rate that was about 8 per cent above the rates ordered by Supt. Hyde, or about half of the 16⅔ per cent increase."

Rides to Prison in Own Auto.

Pendergast rode through the gates of Leavenworth penitentiary at 8:45 o'clock in his own limousine, which was driven by James Pendergast, his nephew. Accompanying him was his son, Tom Jr.

Pendergast waited in the office of Warden Robert H. Hudspeth until the arrival of his commitment papers from Kansas City. Blue denim prison clothing was obtained for him by noon, when he ate the braised beef ribs, potatoes, gravy, slaw, bread, and coffee which was the luncheon fare.

Unlike Pendergast, O'Malley delayed his imprisonment almost as long as possible. He arrived at the prison at 3 o'clock this afternoon, only an hour before the deadline.

Pendergast's sentence is fifteen months in addition to a $10,000 fine. With time off for good behavior the boss, who is 67 years old, may be released in 8 to 11½ months.

Of the $377,000 received for the insurance adjustment, Pendergast got $315,000 and O'Malley $62,000.

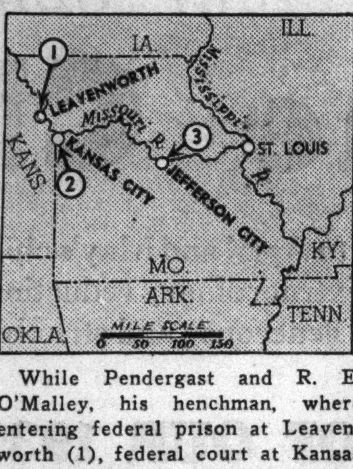
Enters Prison

(Story in Adjoining Column.)

Thomas J. Pendergast, Kansas City Democratic boss convicted of income tax law violation, yesterday entered the gates of Leavenworth prison to begin serving federal penitentiary term.

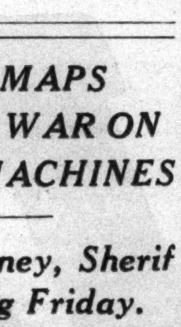


While Pendergast and R. E. O'Malley, his henchman, where entering federal prison at Leavenworth (1), federal court at Kansas City (2) agreed to reopen the fire insurance rate settlement on which both evaded income taxes, and at Jefferson City (3) suit was started to ban the 142 insurance companies until they return the $8,000,000 refunded to them.

CASSIDY MAPS COUNTY WAR ON SLOT MACHINES

Asks Courtney, Sherif to Meeting Friday.

Attorney General John E. Cassidy announced yesterday that he will hold a conference in his Chicago office Friday at which plans will be discussed to rid Cook county of slot machines.



Arthur S. Smith.

Cassidy has added a new division commander to his forces for the battle against the so-called "slot machine syndicate." The new aid is Arthur S. Smith of Bloomington, chairman of the Illinois liquor control commission. Smith, almost single handed, has driven slot machines out of several downstate counties by ordering tavern owners to get rid of the devices or forfeit their liquor licenses.

At the attorney general's order, a secret survey of slot machine operations in Cook county, outside the city of Chicago, was made last week-end. At his home in Peoria Cassidy said:

"By and large, our efforts have been 100 per cent successful in the entire state, with the exception of some outlying districts of Cook county.

"I will request the chairman of the Illinois liquor control board, the sherif, and the state's attorney of Cook county and the chief of the Illinois state police to meet with me in my office next Friday morning to reach an understanding for prompt and effective enforcement."

State's Attorney Courtney would not comment on the invitation. Sherif O'Brien was not at his office.

SOVIET PREMIER MAY BARE STAND ON BRITISH PACT

MOSCOW, May 29.—(AP)—Premier and Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov announced to the supreme soviet [parliament] today that he would address that body on Wednesday on foreign politics. It was taken for granted that he would speak on Britain's revised proposals for a French-British-soviet pact.

The soviet foreign office on Saturday received the British and French notes containing the latest proposals.

The government newspaper Izvestia today expressed satisfaction over the failure of the league of nations council to take any action on the proposal of Finland and Sweden to fortify the Aaland Islands in the Baltic sea.

OLD TIMERS TELL OF LOST MORALE AT ST. CHARLES

Blame Politics and Sob Sister Meddling.

BY GEORGE WRIGHT.

Politics, inefficiency, and meddling by the sob sister element of the social workers are the primary faults with the St. Charles school for boys, the scene of innumerable escapes and scandals, say old time employés of the school.

Many of these employés put in the best years of their lives in the school, only to find out suddenly that they were considered incompetent—a political expedient to get rid of them.

Samuel Speaker Thomson and his wife, Elsie, one of the first teams of house fathers and mothers, spent thirty years at the school. Then they received a notice of dismissal for incompetency and inefficiency. They were dismissed under the present Horner régime. Politically, they are Republicans.

Turned Out Without Trial.

It is true, they said, they were dismissed after sixteen boys escaped from a cottage they commanded. The boys broke out of a basement window where bolts previously had been loosened on the outside. They have never been given a civil service trial, although all the employés theoretically are under protection of the merit law.

"Was it our fault that the inmates of the school could not be controled under the lax methods employed at the school?", asked Mrs. Thomson. "At one time we had discipline or knew the reason why. The house father and mother were the bosses and controled the boys the same as they would their own sons. Now they take orders from some one else."

Mrs. Thomson recalls the régime of Col. C. B. Adams, a Spanish war veteran, who ran the school without scandal or escapes. Fred Ward was assistant superintendent and disciplinarian.

Tells of Old Methods.

"If a boy did not respond to the punishments of extra drill, military squats and extra work Mr. Ward would call at the cottage," said Mrs. Thomson. "He would say to the miscreant, 'I guess I want you in the basement.' He was not brutal, but he was firm and he hurt the boy's pride. The inmate remembered his lesson for some time afterward.

"Politics and inefficiency are the main causes for the trouble now," continued Mrs. Thomson. "Cicil service does not mean a thing out there."

Another veteran of twenty-five years at St. Charles, who refused to allow his name to be used, because of his present position, contrasted the time of Col. Adams with the present conditions. This veteran is a member of the so-called citizens' advisory board of the school.

"In the days of Col. Adams we handled the boys the same as we would our own children," he said. "If they needed a spanking they got it and they knew they had it coming.

Big Change in 15 Years.

"In the last fifteen years many changes have taken place in St. Charles," he continued. "Every change has been to tear down morale and discipline. At one meeting of the advisory board it was suggested that for punishment the boys at least be made to stand in the corner. The sob sisters jumped up and demanded to know what is constructive about that.

"The boys did not want to come back to St. Charles in the old days. They knew they had to work and were under discipline. Now they do not dread the place. They have no fear of it. To them it is just a stopping off place, another easy institution. If they are too tough to handle they parole them to get rid of them. In our time we tamed them or knew the reason why."

Thomas W. Cooper, a shoe merchant of St. Charles, and his wife worked at the school from 1916 to 1935. He was given a discharge slip on the ground of "conduct prejudicial to the school."

Charles W. Betz and his wife went to the school in 1915. They got retrenchment notices in 1933. Betz was the bandmaster. His place was refilled soon afterward.

Ousted After 22 Years.

Willis W. Joyner of Geneva and his wife went to the school in 1909. They got a retrenchment notice in 1931. He was head dairy man of the school for ten years.

William Temple, St. Charles gas station attendant, started to work at the school in 1916 and in 1927 he became the school disciplinarian. He was retrenched in 1937. Arthur Mieresonne, now a bricklayer working in St. Charles, worked from 1930 to 1934 as the school bricklayer. At his civil service hearing, he said, it was admitted by the school officials that he was the best bricklayer they ever saw, but he wasn't fitted for the school because he lacked a college degree.

The residents of the Fox river valley express the hope that the St. Charles school question will be settled once and for all by Senator Thomas Gunning's committee, which has made a start by sending guards to the institution and recommending a fence around it.

WISCONSIN PEA CROP TO REACH A 17 YEAR LOW

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., May 29.—[Special.]—Wisconsin's 1939 pea crop will be the smallest in seventeen years, the state and federal crop reporting services said today. A substantial reduction in pea canning acreage also is indicated for the entire nation.

About 74,000 acres of peas will be planted in Wisconsin this year, according to present estimates. The high point was reached in 1935, when pea growers planted 133,300 acres. Last year 105,500 acres were planted for the largest production in this state since 1930.

The huge surplus last year more than anything else, canning officials said today, accounts for the sharp reduction in 1939 acreage.

Wisconsin is by far the largest producer of peas for canning in the United States. Last year this state had about one-third of the nation's pea acreage and produced more than one-third of the peas for canning purposes. The estimated pea acreage for the United States this year is 260,000 acres.

SEEK TO SUBPENA TWO INDIANA AIDS IN RELIEF INQUIRY

The Lake county grand jury in Crown Point, Ind., will be asked tomorrow to subpena two field examiners for the Indiana state board of public accounts for the purpose of disclosing results of an audit they made recently in connection with Lake county poor relief administration.

Deputy Prosecutor John N. Stanton, who has been investigating charges of mishandling of funds, said it is necessary to summon the examiners because their office has not turned over to Lake county officials a report of what they found in the audit.

"Lake county spent $8,000 for the audit and doesn't yet know what was learned," he said.

Stanton charged that statehouse officials in Indianapolis apparently are trying to stall the relief inquiry. Various barriers have been thrown across his path, he said.

MOTHER ADMITS ATTEMPT TO KILL BABY AND SELF

A young mother confessed in court yesterday that she turned on the gas and then went to bed with her baby daughter because the child's father is unable to buy food for them. The mother is Mrs. Doris Hagood, 27 years old. She and her child, Charlotte, six weeks old, were revived by firemen Sunday after neighbors smelled gas coming from the Hagood apartment at 3975 Drexel boulevard. Mrs. Hagood told Judge Oscar S. Caplan in Women's court that her husband, Frank, earns only $11 a week working at a soda fountain and that she has been unable to feed herself or the baby properly. The judge ordered a psychiatric examination for her.

COURTS FREE 24 TAVERN OWNERS IN CLOSING WAR

Seven Upheld in Standard Time Defense.

Twenty-four tavernkeepers marched into court and marched right out again yesterday in no more time than it takes to stir up a martini. They were accused of keeping their places open after closing hours. They were freed as fast as bookies used to be.

Police, however, continued their determined campaign against violators. In back of the police was Mayor Kelly. He has threatened to revoke the licenses of persistent violators. It is this power, rather than the power of the courts, that is keeping most saloon owners in line, it was said last night.

Standard Time Plea Frees Seven.

Mayor Kelly late yesterday instructed Barnet Hodes, corporation counsel, to look into the tavern ordinance and the daylight saving law and report to him. Seven tavernkeepers won their freedom before Judge Eugene L. McGarry on the plea that the 1 a. m. [2 a. m. on Sunday] closing law referred to central standard time. The court agreed it was legal for them to stay open until 2 a. m. on week days and 3 a. m. on Sundays while daylight saving time is in effect provided they open an hour later each morning. Judge Francis Borrelli also has taken this stand.

In the meantime police and city officials pointed to the city ordinance establishing daylight time as ground enough for closing taverns on schedule during the summer season. This ordinance, after specifying the months in which daylight time shall prevail, reads:

"All legal or official proceedings of the city council and all official business of the city shall be regulated as to time in accordance with the provisions of this section; and when, by ordinance, resolution or action of any municipal officer or body, an act must be performed at or within a prescribed time, it shall be performed according to the official time as herein prescribed."

Asserts Statute Is Too Broad.

"That's too broad," said Judge McGarry when this was quoted to him. "Daylight time should be mentioned specifically in the tavern ordinance if it is to apply. When these men get their licenses on Jan. 1 standard time is in force and it should apply the year around."

No move had been made last night to take tavern cases out of the hands of Judges McGarry and Borrelli. In the other cases yesterday twelve defendants were dismissed with warnings by Judge Le Roy Hackett and five others were warned and freed by Judge Gibson E. Gorman. Neither Hackett nor Gorman mentioned the daylight time controversy.

It was reported last night that the city is merely awaiting the adjournment of the state legislature before introducing special licenses, at higher rates, for establishments wishing to stay open late. The legislature will be in session another month. It was felt the legislators, while having no control over Chicago licensing, might resent higher fees and act to interfere with pending legislation affecting the city.

BOY REFUSES TO VISIT MOTHER WHO GAVE HIS BICYCLE AWAY

Mrs. Rose Terracciano, 30 years old, 703 South Paulina street, asked yesterday that Judge Stanley Klarkowski hold her husband, Ignacio, in contempt of court. She charged he violated the provisions of a divorce decree she obtained May 9. In the decree Terracciano was awarded custody of their two children, Andrew, 12, and Ursula, 10. Mrs. Terracciano was to see the children two days a week and on alternate Sundays.

Mrs. Terracciano.

Andrew offered the court an explanation of why he had not visited his mother.

"She gave my bike to some other kids," he said.

Judge Klarkowski continued the case to June 7. Terraccian, a grocer, lives at 5159 South Kolin avenue.

STATE MEDICAL SERVICE SET UP BY NEW ZEALAND

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, May 30 [Tuesday].—Creation of a state medical service to carry out a national health insurance scheme was announced here today following the refusal of doctors to coöperate voluntarily.

The government and the doctors were deadlocked over methods of implementing the scheme, the latter declining to take any part in its administration. Of 1,000 doctors, only thirty registered as willing to accept the maternity bonus, the first step in establishment of a universal health service.

It is presumed the government will import doctors from other parts of the British empire and from the United States.

Identified by Merchant as Con Game Operator

Benjamin Schumann, 63 years old, 1300 Independence boulevard, yesterday signed a complaint against Nicholas White, 47, of Kansas City, Mo. Schumann, a Maxwell street commission merchant, identified White at the police showup Sunday as the man who had taken $750 from him March 27 through a confidence game. White was arrested on suspicion Sunday by Sergt. John Warren of the confidence detail.

TWO DETHRONED FAMILIES TO GET A TEST IN BERLIN

Wonder if Serb Cousins Will Smile on Them.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 29.—The state visit of Prince Regent Paul of Jugo-Slavia and Princess Olga to Berlin this week will be an important test case for the once powerful Hapsburg and Hohenzollern families. They wonder whether their cousins, as official guests of the Nazis, will remember their dethroned relations.

Princess Kyra of Hohenzollern and Romanoff, who represents two imperial houses, and Archduke Anton of Hapsburg are the most keenly interested because they are the closest relatives of the visitors.

Princess Happily Married.

Princess Kyra views the matter with smiling philosophy. She is happily married to Prince Louis Ferdinand, grandson of former Kaiser Wilhelm II. She has just returned from Doorn, the Netherlands, where she proudly displayed her young son to the ex-kaiser. If her cousins choose to treat her as a poor relative Kyra probably will display her critical smile.

But to Archduke Anton of Hapsburg the matter is more serious. He is going through an ordeal which even hardier and younger men than the scion of the Hapsburgs find quite difficult. Anton, who is 38 years old, is serving in Berlin as a private in the German army. He must stand at attention and take orders.

He is an expert aviator and wants to become an officer in Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering's air force, but before he can do that he must serve six months as an ordinary private.

Hitler Despises Aristocracy.

Reichsfuehrer Hitler has shown time and again that he despised aristocracy, which does not make matters easier for an Austrian archduke in a Prussian barracks. The archduke would enjoy a friendly chat with his Jugo-Slav relatives. But he does not know whether he will be able to obtain permission to leave his barracks to visit them.

How bitterly the Nazis feel about the Hapsburgs is illustrated by the fact that the family was dropped from this year's Almanac de Gotha, which lists all royalty. It is said that the publishers vainly protested on the grounds that this reduced the scientific value of the internationally known volume.

Anton is married to Princess Ileana of Rumania, who with her mother, the late Queen Marie, visited Chicago on a tour of the United States in 1926. This is one of the happiest marriages in Europe's royal circles.

The Nazis have issued orders to all German towns through which Prince Paul and Princess Olga will pass to fly the German and Jugo-Slav colors and to decorate their streets and buildings for the official visitors.

LEAGUE'S AGENT TRIES TO SOOTHE CRISIS IN DANZIG

Prof. Charles Burckhardt.

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, May 29.—(AP)—Prof. Charles Burckhardt, the league of nations high commissioner in Danzig, took advantage of the Whitsun holidays to try to relieve the tension which has been rising in the free city over the question of its return to Germany.

Returning here after a long absence, Burckhardt spent yesterday and today interviewing the top Nazi representatives in Danzig, District Leader Albert Foerster and President Arthur Greiser of the senate. The talks were described as having been friendly.

One issue that particularly interested the commissioner was the tension between the Danzig and Polish governments over recent border incidents. He sought to ease this difficulty. Informed neutral sources said they did not believe Burckhardt came as a mediator between Warsaw and Berlin.

HUNGARIANS SUPPORT GOVERNMENT IN VOTE; NAZI RADICALS TRAIL

BUDAPEST, Hungary, May 29.—(AP)—The government party today apparently was assured of a large majority in parliament on the basis of early returns of a two-day election. Of 260 seats in the lower house the government had won fifty-three and Nazi extremists ten. The small Farmers' party had elected two candidates.

The Nazis, seeking to introduce German type social planning into Hungary, predicted they would have at least fifty seats when the tallying is completed. The conservative press expressed the opinion that the nonelective upper house would serve as a brake on any radical legislative program which might be pushed through the lower house.

It was estimated tentatively that the government majority would be 200. The conservatives feared that many of these government supporters would be under Nazi influence. About 90 per cent of Hungary's 3,250,000 voters took part in the election. Fines were imposed on those who did not.

CHARGE U. S. SPIES ON HEAD OF IRISH REPUBLICAN ARMY

Dublin Women Protest to Roosevelt.

BY HUGH CURRAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Ireland, May 29.—A Dublin newspaper today published a report of a Dublin meeting of women Republicans from which a cablegram was sent to President Roosevelt. The message protested against the alleged coöperation of American police departments with English police concerning the movements and statements of Sean Russell, chief of staff of the Irish Republican army, who is now in the United States.

The protest was based on a copy of a cablegram alleged to have been sent by the chief of police of Los Angeles to the chief of Scotland Yard in London. The cable was said to read as follows: "Sean Russell's statement to Thomas Devlin, newspaperman of the Los Angeles Examiner, was repeated this day by Russell in the presence of Devlin and Officer J. S. Keohn who are willing to testify in London. Russell's statement follows by airmail. Russell, en route for San Francisco, has a long speaking tour planned in the United States."

Statement Quoted in Press.

The statement which Russell was alleged to have made to the Los Angeles newspaper has been quoted in the London Daily Express and reproduced in the Irish Press, Prime Minister Eamon de Valera's newspaper in Dublin.

Russell was charged with saying: "I ordered the recent bombings in England. They will keep on systematically until British troops leave Ireland and my men are released from jail."

The inference from these exchanges with the American police is that the British government is endeavoring to arrest Russell with the aid of the United States and probably have him extradited to England to stand trial.

Calls De Valera a Terrorist.

Whether by intention or otherwise, an article by Russell appeared in this week's issue of the Wolfe Tone Weekly under the title, "When De Valera was a Terrorist!" In the article Russell recalled the burning of the customs house in Dublin during the black and tan war [Irish rebellion]. Russell said the proposal was made by De Valera to strike at the core of the enemy's governing machine and the customs house was decided upon.

"The conception was Eamon de Valera's," Russell said, "but the execution was for the most part left to officers and men of the Dublin brigade of the Irish Republican army."

Russell Presents Serious Problem.

Russell presents a serious problem for the De Valera government as well as for the British government inasmuch as he is head of the Republican army which, in December, purported to usurp governmental powers by ordering the British government to remove its troops from all parts of Ireland.

The Irish parliament this week will pass through the final stages the legislation which the government demanded for the purpose of dealing with the Irish Republican army. It is assumed the government will suppress the army.

Tells of Ordeal

Shenandoah, Pa., May 29.—(AP)—Robert Galligan, miner rescued after sixty-five hours' imprisonment in his crude bootleg coal mine, told friends tonight at a hospital he felt fine.

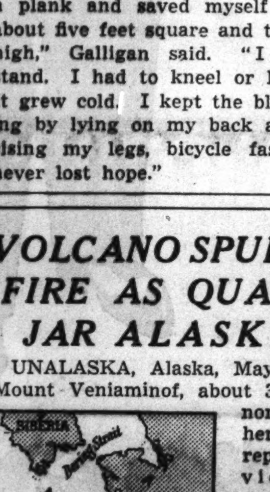
Attendants said he apparently had suffered no ill effects from his prolonged exposure to the cold and dampness of the underground prison where he was held by a rock slide from 10 a. m. Friday until 2 a. m. today. Two companions escaped and gave the alarm.

Rescuers had toiled, first with the aid of a steam shovel and later with picks and shovels, to reach him.

"As the dirt fell I split its fall with a plank and saved myself a space about five feet square and three feet high," Galligan said. "I couldn't stand. I had to kneel or lie down. It grew cold. I kept the blood moving by lying on my back and exercising my legs, bicycle fashion. I never lost hope."

VOLCANO SPURTS FIRE AS QUAKES JAR ALASKANS

UNALASKA, Alaska, May 29.—(AP) Mount Veniaminof, about 350 miles northeast of here, was reported in violent eruption today. Strong earth shocks, felt here at 9:15 p. m., Sunday, were believed traceable to the eruption, which has been in progress since May 25, but was first reported today. The eruption was described as the greatest and most spectacular on the Alaska peninsula in more than a decade.



Arrow locates site of volcano.

Flames and ashes spurted from the volcano at regular intervals. Capt. Leadbetter of the lighthouse tender Cedar radioed the government weather bureau in Juneau that ashes were falling thirty-five miles south of the mountain.

The earth shocks here were of ninety second duration. Chandeliers swayed and the cutter Hermes rocked heavily in the harbor.

NEW BORDER WAR FLARES BETWEEN JAPS AND SOVIET

Report 59 Mongol Planes Downed in Clashes.

BY KIMPEI SHEBA.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, May 29.—Forty-two soviet Russian planes were brought down by Japanese flyers in a clash in northwestern Manchukuo yesterday, the Japanese army announced today.

The clash took place in the Lake Bor region south of Manchuli where the Manchukuan-Outer Mongolian border long has been a matter of dispute.

With 200 fighting planes above them, 1,000 soviet-trained Outer Mongolian troops charged Japanese-Manchukuan positions, but were repulsed, leaving 150 dead after a brief encounter, the Japanese communique said. The Japanese admitted six dead and twenty-three wounded.

The communique described the clash as the most serious to date on the border. The number of Japanese planes taking part was not disclosed. The Japanese admitted losing one plane, but the pilot escaped by parachute, it was stated. In border air combats since May 20 Japanese claim to have downed fifty-nine soviet planes.

Mongols Use Tanks.

The army communique said the Mongols used tanks and other mechanized equipment in yesterday's clash and charged that the present skirmishes were caused by illegal acts of Outer Mongolian troops.

The army placed the blame for yesterday's clash on the soviet and declared the soviet air squadron must take full responsibility for its losses. The action by the Japanese was in self-defense and justifiable, the army maintained.

The Hsinking [Manchukuan] government filed a strong protest with the Outer Mongolian government, requested immediate withdrawal of the invaders and guarantees against future border violations.

Ambassador Seeks Interview.

MOSCOW, May 29.—(AP)—Shigenori Togo, Japanese ambassador, today was reported seeking an interview with Foreign Comissar Vyacheslav Molotov to discuss the clashes on the Manchukuan-Outer Mongolian border. Togo had a previous interview with Molotov on May 25.

Foreign observers here believed the situation was more complicated than the fighting at Changkufeng hill last year at the junction of the Siberian, Manchukuan, and Corean borders, because Outer Mongolia nominally is an independent republic, although closely allied with the soviet.

Foochow Bombed Again.

FOOCHOW, China, May 29.—(AP)—Japanese air raiders bombed Foochow again today, apparently in a regular campaign to terrorize the population of this South China port. Two raids today were aimed primarily at government schools on the outskirts of the city.

During one raid a Japanese seaplane was forced to alight in the Min river because of engine trouble. Its crew opened machinegun fire on a passing launch, killing an estimated thirty noncombatants. The plane took off after emergency repairs.

C.I.O. LEADER SHOT AT STRIKEBOUND PLANT IN DETROIT

Detroit, Mich., May 29.—(AP)—One man was shot in the thigh and a second required hospital treatment after a fight late tonight on the picket lines around a suburban Highland Park plant of the strikebound Briggs Manufacturing company.

The wounded man, Joseph Ferris, 31 years old, vice president of local 212, the C. I. O.-United Automobile Workers' unit which called the strike a week ago, said he was shot by the driver of an automobile whose occupants, he said, were suspected of attacking pickets.

Ferris, taken to a hospital, said he and other unionists had heard of fighting at one of the Briggs plants. He said from ten to twenty automobiles "filled with goons" had come to the plant and started beating the pickets.

Giving chase to one automobile Ferris said his car forced it to the curb and all the occupants fled save the driver, who shot him.

LIECHTENSTEIN'S NEW RULER TAKES OATH AT ALTAR IN PASTURE

VADUZ, Liechtenstein, May 29.—(AP)—Francis Josef II., who succeeded to the throne of the tiny principality of Liechtenstein eight months ago, took the oath of loyalty to the constitution today.

All but a few of the country's 10,000 inhabitants were present as the bachelor prince, who is 32 years old, repeated the simple oath in front of an altar erected in a mountainside pasture in the shadows of the feudal towers of Vaduz castle. The new ruler is the last monarch of a German speaking country and the last of the 500 princes of the Holy Roman empire still to retain a crown. He succeeded to the throne on the death of his uncle, Francis I.

A crowd of picturesquely dressed natives sang the national anthem, "Long Live Our Fatherland," at the ceremony. After benediction was pronounced by the bishop of Coire, the country's inhabitants crowded into the capital, which has a normal population of 1,700. There was dancing in the streets and the celebrants drank the light red native wine.

Tear Gas Bomb Bursts in Theater; 12 Are Hurt

LIVERPOOL, England, May 29.—(AP)—Twelve persons were taken to a hospital for treatment today after a tear gas bomb exploded in a newsreel theater. There were about 200 persons in the audience.

AMERICANS JOIN IN VANCOUVER'S WELCOME TO KING

Royalty Sees Melting Pot of Canada's West.

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 29.—(AP)—British Columbia's melting pot of many peoples and races paid homage today to King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth, of Great Britain. Thousands of Americans from the Pacific northwest states joined the crowds at Vancouver, whose population was doubled to 600,000.

The weather was chilly and threatening rain, with skies overcast, but from dawn, rows of bundled people awaited the passing of the royal car.

Strange new sights opened to the monarchs along the royal route through Vancouver's streets, and there were none stranger than 8,000 Canadian-Japanese in native costumes and 2,000 Canadian-Chinese who joined in singing "God Save the King."

Indians in War Canoes.

In the evening, as the king and queen aboard the steamer Princess Marguerite, crossed over to Victoria, the capital of the province, 80 miles away on Vancouver island, the Japanese fishing fleet moved out of the Fraser river to join other welcoming craft. Twenty Indian war canoes waited at Lions Gates to salute the royal couple as their ship passed.

At Vancouver's city hall the king and queen were welcomed with a ceremonial rich in the historic symbolism of English parliamentary practice. The king ran his fingers over the mace, a great golden staff like the one used by the lord mayor of London, and thus restored to Mayor J. Lyle Telford of Vancouver the authority which in theory automatically goes to the British sovereign in any part of the empire he visits.

Longest Ride of Tour.

From the city hall the royal couple viewed Vancouver's skyline of tall buildings, sea and mountains before attending a civic luncheon and making ready for the longest ride through any Canadian city. Their route unfolded the panorama of the mainland, but haze cut the view toward Vancouver island.

For their Vancouver appearance the king donned the greyish blue uniform of the British air force with the insignia of his marshal's rank. Queen Elizabeth wore a blue crêpe ensemble, the sleeves banded with lace and an off-the-face hat in matching blue, with grey gloves, shoes and bag.

CHICAGO—FOOD CENTER.

The American Molasses company is opening a quarter-million dollar plant in Chicago because a survey convinced its officials that this city is destined to continue as the food industry center of the country.

Food plants are among the most desirable industrial citizens. They offer steady employment. Their products are in demand even in times of depression, keeping their pay rolls up when more spectacular industries are shut down or running skeleton shifts. And, to the food industry, Chicago's labor supply and central position in the nation, the numerous raw materials flowing from its great agricultural back country, and the unrivaled distribution advantages arising from its position as the world's greatest railroad center offer numerous attractions.

Industrial population is like human population. It has a high mortality rate. Unless it is renewed by the birth of new industries or by the immigration of industry, either complete or through the establishment of branches, it will decline and the prosperity of the city will decline with it.

The Chicago Association of Commerce, having analyzed Chicago's needs at a series of business clinics held throughout the city, now has a concrete program for meeting those needs. Perhaps the most important item on this program that Oscar G. Mayer, president of the association, has proposed is increased activity of its industrial department.

Chicago in recent years has left too much to chance the landing of new industries, placing too much confidence in the city's great natural advantages. Those advantages are apparent to those who take time to appraise them, as the executives of the molasses company did, but no commodity can be marketed without salesmanship. In supplying that salesmanship the Association of Commerce will be rendering a valuable service to every citizen of Chicago.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S THIRD TERM.

Mr. Farley says it would be futile to discuss the 1940 nomination until the President says whether he will be a candidate. Mr. Roosevelt does not lose anything by saying nothing. His silence puts a restraint on persons who would like to succeed him. The faithful are bound to accept him if he wants to run again. His opponents have nothing to shoot at if he has not said he is a candidate and if he has not picked his successor. Mr. Roosevelt can allow the suspense to run another year to the worry of every aspirant but himself.

Disregard of the tradition against a third term will not tax Mr. Roosevelt's scruples. That is merely more horse and buggy stuff. In the British system usage by now would have given the two term limitation the effect of a constitutional provision. Here it can be broken any time the people consent in an election. Mr. Roosevelt may be asking himself if the people would stand for it. If he concludes that they will he probably will try it and may make a very bad guess.

The New Deal should not find it difficult to keep the depression going another year. Business can be held in suspense until after the nominations and all through the campaign. Its doubts, uncertainties and alarms can be increased. Capital investment and industrial expansion can be held back. Mr. Morgenthau confesses error but nearly everything Mr. Roosevelt says contains a threat.

The Democratic convention must indorse the record of the two terms. It will have difficulty in heading off a third one even if some of the delegates dread what they can perceive as the consequences of four more years. The New Deal has no one politically available except Mr. Roosevelt. Without him it flops. Democrats of national figure are not New Dealers. To nominate another New Dealer would be to take the echo and not the voice. The substitution of Mr. Ickes, Mr. Hopkins, Mr. Eccles, or any other subordinate revolutionary for the chief would be ridiculous. The nomination of a conservative Democrat would send the revolution to the ash can. The conservatives may have to indorse what has been done but they do not have to continue it.

Mr. Roosevelt's ambitions are reckless. They would be gratified if he were to become the first President to step over the limitation. They would not be satisfied but they would be gratified. His determination to have his revolutionary purposes carried out is so great that it keeps him from feeling the concern which would be natural to the head of government when so many people are in distress. There are no worries in the White House.

Mr. Roosevelt has outlined what he can and probably will do. He will say that private enterprise was given every encouragement by the government to make good and had failed. The reverse is true, but the orator need not be concerned with the truth. The New Deal spokesmen are preparing the ground now. Mr. Berle of the state department as the SEC expert before the temporary national economic committee said that private financing was not equal to the job. The government must furnish capital and as it did so could expect to take over the business to which it gave money.

The new age is the age of governmentally managed economy. A third term candidacy will be forced to extremes. Mr. Roosevelt will not be able to propose some reforms for another emergency . Emergency is a funny word to use in description of two presidential terms. The line taken in opposition to Hoover cannot be the line taken in support of Roosevelt. Mr. Roosevelt if again a candidate will be running against the system of private enterprise and not against the Republican candidate.

The American communists are out in front of every one else in perceiving and saying this. They are for the third term because it will carry with it the socializing of American production. If Mr. Roosevelt is not the candidate the New Deal will not be able to find one. Any other will be a phony. With any other candidate the passing era will not be that of private enterprise but of the New Deal. Mr. Roosevelt's pride and his ambition will make it a torment for him to consent to such a fate.

JOHNNIE CRAPAUD.

An item in the London papers called attention to a community problem in Cogan, near Penarth, Glamorganshire, and its solution. At the annual meeting of the Penarth Urban District council a gentleman from Cogan broke into the council chamber and "decanted" what was said to be a "substantial number of frogs" on the table, exclaiming that for years the council had done nothing to relieve his community of the plague of frogs in Cogan pond. The frogs were leaping about the councilmen's heads as he departed.

It pays to advertise. The Cogan frogs jumped into the newspapers and buyers wrote in offering to take them in shipments up to 2,000. H. G. Cook, the council chairman, remarked: We have been told that frogs are in fact toads, but, frogs or toads, I see here an excellent means of reducing our local rate burden by setting up a new industry—that of frog farming."

The first guess, which would be wrong, would be that the English at last had discovered that Johnnie Crapaud was right and that frog legs are not only edible but rate high in the esteem of the gourmet. Then the Anglo-French alliance would be founded on a rock. But the orders for frogs came from the physiological departments of universities. In spite of the alliance Johnnie Crapaud may have his frogs' legs. The English will stick to the cold boiled potato and mustard pickle.

There will be no English revolution.

CRIMINALS AT 15.

Five young toughs appeared the other day in the Criminal court. Witnesses proved against them four robberies of street car employés and one attempted robbery in which they tried to kill their intended victim as he fled. They were sent to prison.

Four of the defendants were 15 years old. Under the existing juvenile delinquency statute they could have been taken into the Juvenile court where they would have found professional social workers ready to shield them against punishment. But for recent public outcry at crimes of juvenile offenders it is probable that they would have gone to that court and from there to the St. Charles school to assist in the corruption of younger and less vicious boys.

Judge Fardy, who sentenced them, undoubtedly found it unpleasant to perform that duty. It would have been easier for him to have yielded to the tears of the boys' parents. It is to his credit that he did not do so. The case demonstrates that age cannot safely be taken as an arbitrary dividing line between the jurisdictions of the Juvenile and Criminal courts.

Judge Fardy's task, and the task of other judges who find it necessary to pass sentences on young criminals, would be made easier if the state had a walled institution for their confinement separate from the penitentiary. The legislature should provide for such an institution at its present session.

THE ENEMIES OF LIBERTY.

A good many people in this country, even before the attack on the courts, suspected that the New Deal was undermining civil liberty. In a little pamphlet entitled "Freedom and the Economic System" Prof. Friedrich A. von Hayek of the University of London demonstrates in general terms that economic planning, whether by communists, New Dealers, socialists, Nazis, Fascists or any other kind of collectivists, inevitably threatens liberty of thought, belief, and expression. To the extent that government undertakes to manage the nation's economy, he shows, the citizens must be deprived of their civil rights. Even if the fuehrers and duces were broadly tolerant men they would be forced to acts of gross intolerance to achieve their economic ends.

The pamphlet is published by the University of Chicago Press. It should prove persuasive to any one whose mind is fitted to follow a closely reasoned argument.

Editorial of the Day

THE BORGIAS OUTDONE.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

With twenty-four persons under arrest, an undisclosed number under suspicion, more than forty listed as murdered, expectations that the list of victims will pass 100, and ramifications extending into four neighboring states, Philadelphia's mass poison-murder case bids fair to surpass the evil work done by the Borgias of medieval Rome, Locusta of ancient Rome, Tofana of old Naples, and the Marquise de Brinvilliers of seventeenth century France. In addition to the twenty-four, one man who was found guilty a few days ago has confessed to taking part in twelve other murders and knowing of nine more. A woman stopped her trial to scream out her guilt.

"Witch's brew," which sold for $300 a pint, was the general agent of death. However, it was nothing but the well known arsenic of which the great English toxicologist, Sir James Crichton-Brown wrote twenty years ago: "Wherever we turn, it is arsenic, arsenic, arsenic which was the mainstay of the murderous fortune telling hag and of the killers of commanding intellect and power, like the Borgias and Catherine de Medici."

The motive seems to have been insurance, the woman who pleaded guilty of murder having collected $16,000 on her husband, son and a friend. In other instances the insurance was as low as $300. The Pennsylvania insurance commissioner has said that he will make a "close scrutiny" of how the murder ring was able to get so many policies. Policies on lives of the ring's victims were of the industrial type, requiring no medical examination. In some manner, or due to some laxity, the poisoners made good use of the ease with which the policies were obtained. It is apparent that there is ample ground for the insurance commissioner to cover.

FOUNDER OF MEMORIAL DAY.

The man who established Memorial day as a national custom was buried in the most conspicuous tomb in Chicago, and yet we never hear of any special observances there on the holiday. He was Gen. John A. Logan ["Black Jack" among his soldiers] and his fine monument by St. Gaudens, on Michigan avenue at 9th street, covers his last resting place, according to an inscription on the pedestal.

* * *

On May 5, 1868, Gen. Logan, then commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, issued an order for the decoration of the graves of Union soldiers "with the hope that this observance will be kept up from year to year while a survivor of the war remains to honor the memory of the departed." He fixed May 30 as the date.

He was inspired, no doubt, by the custom of southern women of placing flowers upon the graves of both confederate and Union soldiers. In 1867 a New York newspaper had described this gracious, unorganized practice, and a wave of sympathetic emotion had spread through the north.

* * *

For twenty-five years the day was called Decoration day as often as Memorial day. In 1882 the Grand army passed a resolution stating that its proper designation was Memorial day; but in 1888 congress, in making it a legal holiday in the District of Columbia, called it Decoration day. The general adoption of Memorial day may be dated from 1893, when the first edition of the Standard Dictionary gave preference to this title. [It's still Decoration day to the editor of this column.]

DAY OF REMEMBRANCE.

One day of reverent and dear remembrance
In the rush of our forward looking year
When we give pause with longing backward glance,
And images from the past appear. . . .
Half forgotten, tender, fraught with pain,
Forms floating down dim memory's long lane.

Upon the quiet earth that marks our sorrow,
Striving to hold a breath of the past,
We place our futile gifts of fragile flowers
Knowing how brief a space they'll last.
Yet ever precious our Memorial Day!
Brief hours! . . . When the speechless dead hold sway.

Anna Shattuck Palmer.

Soldier, Rest! Thy Warfare O'er.

Pain sweet, drifting through the hush of twilight, glorious notes from the golden bell of a bugle echoing clearly a message of farewell; the saddest notes in all the world, but symbol of a triumphant end, or is it a beginning? The plaintive tones bid us stop and ask this question.

The sorrowful tune, tribute to the soldier who has won his last battle, commands us. The last soft note dies away. The song is gone, yet it is still there! We have bared and bowed our heads to honor those who have learned the answer to our questions. The Brachiopod.

‡

A Taste of Snowball Winter.

Remember last Sunday's weather? Our thermometer dropped from 82 to 52 degrees in half an hour. Now you know what we meant when we spoke of "snowball winter" last week. The snowball bushes came into bloom that morning. Other names for this ornamental shrub are cranberry tree, guelder rose, and Viburnum opulus. It's not as common in front yards as it used to be; the "bridal wreath" bush appears to have crowded it out of fashion.

‡

LINES FOR MEMORIAL DAY.

We bring them
Flowers and flags;
But what are these?
Mere symbols
Of our love and gratitude;
They're not enough.
They gave
All that they could.
They walked, unfearing,
Straight through hell
Into Eternity.
We stand aside
And let them pass,
Rank after rank.
Is there no end?
Must they go on Paying the price
No one has any right to ask?

Eleanore-Melissa.

When Americans Ate Bobolinks.

The "reed bird" [May 22], once of the American market and menu, came from the south in winter. It got the name from its habit of perching on weed stalks or reeds. Another name for it was "rice bird," and its depredations in the rice fields of the Carolinas caused the planters to encourage shooting the flocks, and nearly every table d'hôte included a "reed bird" in those wicked days. No doubt a good many sparrows pinch hit for "reed birds" on the 50 cent dinners. Fortunately the federal migratory bird law changed all that.

The "reed bird" is none other than the bobolink of our northern meadows, who in summertime sways on some slender growth, keeping watch and ward over the female and her nest in the grass, and telling us his name in notes of liquid silver. W. G. C.

‡

LESSON FOR THE DAY.

To lay our flowers today on soldiers' graves
And be stampeded overseas again,
Would prove that we are tools or fools or slaves
And that those heroes died for us in vain.

George Burt Lake.

A Tour in Catalpa Land.

Since the catalpa is one of your favorite trees [May 25]: A ride from, say, Central Park avenue [3600 west] to Kimball avenue, on Barry avenue, one block south of Belmont, is richly rewarded around June 15 to 18 when the catalpas are in bloom. Block after block one sees, with the beautiful blossoms looking like huge white sunshades over each street.

Monticello avenue used to be one of the finest tree streets in this locality, but not since the WPA. The government desert makers have ruined it. Rena Andersen Ohlin.

PUS GERMS IN THE EAR CANAL.

BOILS [furuncles] within the ear canal cannot be regarded as a joke. In fact, inflammation about the face or head is sufficiently serious to demand prompt and skilled care.

Because of the secretion of wax and the presence of hairs in the neighborhood of the drum, itching may appear as an occasional symptom. This in turn may lead to "digging" with the little finger, a hairpin, or a paper clip. Thus bacteria may be planted in one of the follicles, a sebaceous gland, or about the root of a bristle.

The organism chiefly responsible is the staphylococcus and the older method of treatment of the resulting abscess advocated opening the mass surgically at the proper time to evacuate the pus. But this procedure is rarely safe, as channels are thus provided for the wide dissemination of the infected material to the surrounding tissues. We must recall that the duct from the outside of the head to the drum is but little more than an inch in length and that it lies in such intimate relation to vital organs that no risk should be run.

First of all we must make certain that we are not dealing with middle ear disease. In either condition pain may follow a day or so of itching and the patient may complain that the distress lies in front—on the cheek. Pulling downward on the lobe may accentuate the discomfort and frequently so much soreness develops that the introduction of an instrument for the purpose of examination cannot be accomplished. Now and then there is considerable difficulty in moving the lower jaw, as the stiffness and rigidity may extend downward into the neck. Occasionally the first indication of trouble will be some aching which may accompany chewing. If this particular symptom persists it is well to have the parts checked to make sure that no infection is present.

If a discharge is evident this must be washed away to determine whether it is coming from some point in the canal or is oozing through a tear in the membrane. Only after a good view of this latter structure is obtained will it be possible to determine the source of the exudate. As a rule, it requires about forty-eight hours for the malady to reach its height and during the interval the throbbing may be excruciating at times. In addition ringing and roaring sounds may be experienced.

A skin ailment or a fungus growth [ringworm] may pave the way for the development of these tiny abscesses. Dust carrying spores [seeds] or disease producing fungi may lodge in the vicinity. Later, irritation may cause enough injury to till the soil and grow a crop. Pus forming germs then come along and complicate the situation.

More than a dozen plans of management have been proposed and all agree that first of all the area should be cleansed thoroughly of all débris. While the physician may swab the space with alcohol no one about the home should attempt to introduce anything into the blind pocket. A soft rubber ear syringe, however, may be utilized and warm boric acid solution injected slowly. This will flow backward, carrying with it most of the secretions. In an effort to stop the advancing infection, specialists now employ aluminum acetate or 10 per cent carbolic acid in alcohol.

There is probably no better program than that which has been advocated recently and which involves the use of toxoid prepared from the causative microbe—the staphylococcus. This has the effect of stimulating the natural defenses of the body and, at the same time, manufacturing enough neutralizing substance to combat the toxin.

We can avoid most of these episodes if we will refrain from inserting toothpicks, matches, pencils, or any other object into the ears. With the approach of the outdoor swimming season we may face a marked increase in these disturbances. If the aural organs become "stuffed" with water which refuses to drain away we must curb our impulses and make no attempt to remove it. If we go about our business, even though slightly deaf for a short while, the fluid will empty of its own accord. A thin cone of sterile absorbent cotton, of course, can do no damage, but this is about the only home remedy that can be recommended. Both water and other discharges may be relieved with such a device. Early attention to infections is the price of safety.

ANY ONE OF HUNDREDS.

C. M. writes: What is the cause of a rash on the arms and neck?

REPLY.

Any one of a few hundred skin diseases may be responsible. Why ask us to guess which one, without even a "look-see"? No second sight in this department.

THE CAUSE OF A BOIL.

B. E. B. writes: I would like some information on boils.

REPLY.

When bacteria lodge in a hair follicle a skin abscess—a boil—may result. We can decrease their frequency by keeping the skin clean and refraining from rubbing germs into the cuticle via dirty fingers. Once a boil has started your best bet is your physician.

Test Your Facts

Below each of the following questions are listed three answers. Make your choice, turn to page 30 in the Want Ad section for the correct answers, and mark your score:

1. Who was the discoverer of the St. Lawrence river?

[a] Pierre Marquette. [b] George Rogers Clark. [c] Jacques Cartier.

2. About how long does it take the tide to rise from the low to the high water point?

[a] Twelve hours. [b] Twenty-four hours. [c] Six hours.

3. About what would you use the word tintinnabulation?

[a] A long drawn out speech. [b] Ringing of bells. [c] A method of determining the strength of a solution.

4. To what land did Cain flee after killing his brother Abel?

[a] Sodom. [b] Land of Nod. [c] Land of Babel.

THE MAYOR AND HIS COMMITTEE.

Chicago, May 29.—An article in THE TRIBUNE Saturday concerning recommendations for appointment to the board of education made by the advisory schools committee gives me the opportunity of reviewing the work of that committee since its organization in March. On the accuracy of the list of names submitted to the mayor I do not comment, nor in this letter or at any time do I speak for the committee. Our spokesman, determined by committee resolution, is the chairman, Dean W. F. Clarke of De Paul university law school.

The advisory schools committee has met nine times since its organization, four times with Mayor Kelly, and five times separately, no meeting having a smaller attendance than two-thirds of the nine members.

In the course of those meetings we have considered more than fifty names for recommendation or agreement with the mayor's recommendations. On some of these names there was unanimous committee agreement, but those recommended felt themselves unable to serve. On a few names there was unanimous committee agreement, but for what seemed to the committee in every case good and sufficient reason the mayor was unable to accept the recommendations.

Outside pressure on the committee to recommend this or that person was in a few cases very heavy; in one case hundreds of letters and telegrams from persons by no means uninfluential were received; in other cases "civic organizations" agreed astonishingly on persons ineligible to appointment by reason of residence outside of Chicago.

At no time has the mayor expressed anything but confidence in the value of the past services of any member of the board, including the president and the retiring members. Indeed, he has stressed this personal confidence. On the other hand, at no time has the mayor failed in the heartiest coöperation with the advisory schools committee. So genuine and intelligent, so completely nonpolitical has been this coöperation that every member of the committee, without exception, has come to accept our mutual understanding as complete.

Whether the purpose of the mayor in appointing the committee and the purpose of the members of the committee in giving so much time and attention to this matter of appointments to the board have been fulfilled only the new appointments, when made, the accomplishments of the new members, and time can tell. Hostility to the advisory committee on the part of some fine citizens and disbelief in the efficacy of the plan by others has been fairly steady. It can only be said that the committee thinks, and the mayor thinks, that the plan has begun to work, and will continue to work. JAMES WEBER LINN.

CHARITY AT HOME AND ELSEWHERE.

Chicago, May 28. — I challenge N. H. Schmidt's statement in your columns that there are 20,000 children in Chicago as underprivileged as the refugee German children. What can be Mr. Schmidt's definition of "underprivileged"? These Chicago children are not persecuted by their government; have not been driven from their homes; are not being hounded from the country of their birth, as are the German refugee children.

I have noticed that in every effort to raise money or do something for some one there are always people who cry, "Charity begins at home." I agree that charity should begin at home, but it should not end there.

MILDRED ESTELLE CARSON.

AAA BRIBERY.

Sciota, Ill., May 25. — An open letter to the farmers who have traded their honor for a dollar: Is it actually true that the greater per cent of you farmers of this grand country are really falling for the propaganda about this new 1939 AAA farm trap so cleverly set and baited by the government and farm bureau? Do you know exactly what you are doing by signing up with the idea that "others get this free bonus, so why can't I?" Even though you may not believe in it, each one who signs up this year is giving the AAA plans and principles a vote of confidence. If it is true that the corn belt is siding in with this craziness so overwhelmingly, then in a year or so congress will probably pass a bill making farm regimentation compulsory. Would you blame the men in Washington for passing such a bill in view of your overwhelming acceptance of such a measure? WILLIAM D. GRAFTON.

FOREIGNERS ON THE RADIO.

Hines, Ill., May 26.—I am a patient at Hines hospital. What gets my goat is to pick up my ear phones and hear some foreigner on the radio trying to tell the American people what they ought to do. These foreigners would do us a great favor if they would leave us alone. We have enough trouble in our beloved country with our unemployment and thousands of other things.

We won the last war for them. Now they want us to help them again, and in return what do we get? Crowded cemeteries and hospitals full of cripples.

JAMES J. COLLINS.

THE SPENDERS.

Western Springs, Ill., May 24. — The November elections called for financial sanity. A large number of state legislatures are putting their houses in order. Why is it that congress continues to make appropriations beyond income while legislatures are not afraid to get results? BURTON W. RHOADS.

DOWN PAST THE GARBAGE.

Chicago, May 27.—Those alley gardens are almost at their best, and I know them all. For blocks around I know who specializes in what and why. We specialize in larkspurs and hardy phlox. Down the street in a quaint old brown house lives a retired banker—he says he has 15,000 tulips in his back yard. After the tulips are gone there are zennias, petunias, hardy phlox, not the ordinary kind but the finest. Over the gate is a trellis of those pretty blue Indian morning glories. A few doors away lives a retired lumberman whose specialty is iris—he tells me he pays as much as $5 for one bulb, or tuber, and I can well imagine that he does. You never saw anything so exquisite—there are dark brown ones shading to a vivid yellow, deep purple ones shading to lavender that are as lovely as orchids, and light blue ones, like a baby's eyes. Last summer, when the owner saw us looking over the gate, he invited us in and gave us a bouquet—it looked like a desecration to cut them. On some of the stems there would be five or six blooms. There are numberless rock gardens along the alley that are works of art. Sometimes I take my husband along, and he always gets a laugh when he sees me climbing over assorted garbage to see these little beauty spots. It will pay you to take a walk down your alley some summer evening and see these lovely little alley gardens. ANNE JESTY ROGERS.

SNOWBIRD DINNER VIOLATED TREATY.

River Forest, Ill., May 23.—The feelings of many nature lovers have been stirred up by the news of the royal dinner at Quebec, where 2,000 snowbirds or "juncoes" were served as an entrée. There can be no doubt that it was a violation of the migratory bird treaty between the United States and Great Britain [for Canada], and this is a punishable offense to kill any migratory bird. The junco or slate colored snowbird has its breeding range in our northern states and Canada, and its winter range from here to the gulf, making it a migratory species. Mrs. Welshon and others who wrote in this column of recent date can rest assured that representations will be made to the proper authorities here and in Canada.

ESTATE ADMINISTRATION.

Chicago, May 27.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. My mother died several years ago leaving a will naming my brother administrator. There are six children involved, all to receive an equal share of everything. Interest on bonds has been paid to my brother and none of us has received our share. He always distributed any money before.

2. Isn't it his duty to bring or send us each our share?

3. He received $75 at the time the estate was closed for his expenses as administrator.

4. He had not notified any of us that he received this interest, but I learned of it by checking up on the bonds.

C. E.

1. Ordinarily administration proceedings should be closed shortly after the expiration of the year allowed for filing claims. It is not clear whether you are using the word in its technical sense.

2. See 1. Presumably the receipts should be divided in either contingency.

3. If the estate has been closed then he is not now functioning as administrator. He is acting as your agent and his obligation depends on the expressed or implied agreement.

4. We suggest that you notify him that unless he accounts at once you will place the matter in the hands of an attorney.

SMUGGLER TELLS BOAST OF FIXING JUDGE'S RULINGS

Razor Firm's Money Is Traced to Manton.

New York, May 29.—(AP)—Albert N. Chaperau, an ex-convict and a jewel smuggler, was brought out of prison today to testify against former United States Circuit Court Judge Martin T. Manton in federal court.

To a surprised jury Chaperau quoted the boast of George M. Spector, who is accused of being a contact man for Manton in the sale of judicial opinions, that he put over a deal to fix an electric razor patent infringement case in Manton's court.

The case was an appeal of the Schick Dry Shaver company from a decision in favor of the Andrews Dictograph Products corporation, makers of the Packard razor. The Schick company lost the appeal.

Manton's Letter Displayed.

Chaperau also testified that in June of 1937, when Spector was going to Europe to dispose of foreign rights to the razor, Spector displayed a letter of introduction to a man in England written on Circuit court stationery and signed with Manton's name.

The confessed smuggler appeared unexpectedly after a federal accounting expert, sifting many bank records, had traced at least $7,248 from the Andrews company into Manton's personal bank account.

Following Chaperau, Almon B. Hall, Connecticut poultryman, testified that $75,000 once was quoted to him as the price for a favorable decision in incubator patent litigation pending against him in Manton's court.

Manton's $5,000 Note Shown.

Hall, who had lost a lower court decision to the Samuel B. Smith company, incubator manufacturers, who sought infringement damages and an accounting, testified he finally bought Manton's judicial favor for $60,000. A photostatic copy of a $5,000 note signed by Manton in favor of Hall was shown to the jury.

Hall said the note represented the sum he had advanced to Manton to clinch the deal for a decision in his favor. Defense attorneys admitted the signature on the note was Manton's and said the note would be explained in due time.

With the completion of Hall's testimony tomorrow, United States attorneys said, the government probably would rest its case against Manton and Spector, who are accused of conspiracy to obstruct justice. Two other co-defendants have pleaded guilty.

Judge's Wife Sentenced.

The appearance of Chaperau, under guard, caused a sensation in the court. As the result of his smuggling—done under pretense of diplomatic immunity—radio and movie comedians Jack Benny and George Burns were fined $10,000 and $8,000, respectively, and Mrs. Edgar J. Lauer, wife of a New York state Supreme court justice, was sentenced to three months in prison and fined $2,500.

All three were accused of having Chaperau smuggle Parisian jewelry and clothing for them. Chaperau was sentenced to a two year prison term and fined $5,000, and the exposé of his wife's smuggling led Justice Lauer to resign.

JUDGE RAPS LOW SALARY IN THEFT BY BANK TELLER

Federal District Judge John P. Barnes said yesterday he may grant probation to John Patrick Fiolka, 31 years old, who was convicted of embezzling $2,749 from the Lawndale National bank. He was a teller there from March, 1937, until January, 1939.

"If you're going to pay a man a salary of only $90 a month," Judge Barnes commented, "it is dangerous to let him handle money. This defendant had to feed, shelter, and clothe a family of five on that amount, or steal more. My problem is whether I should put him in prison for five years as a deterrent to others or place him on probation."

Fiolka's attorneys said he used the stolen money only for necessities. Fiolka is married and has three children. His wife is expecting a fourth. Assistant District Attorney Martin Ward objected to probation and the matter was referred to the probation office for a report.

MEMO FROM 350 COUPLES: JUNE'S AROUND CORNER

June brides and bridegrooms are getting ready for their weddings. Three hundred and fifty couples applied for marriage licenses yesterday, and most of them said they'd be back to get the licenses Thursday, which is June 1.

Sidney Summerfield, chief clerk of the marriage license bureau, said he expected to issue many more licenses this June 1 than he did last year. Only 137 were issued then.

More than 250 licenses were issued yesterday. The oldest of those who obtained licenses were Henry Barthlott, 84 years old, 3254 North Albany avenue, and Mrs. Selma Kleinfelder, 69, of 3248 North Mozart street. Mr. Barthlott said he and Mrs. Kleinfelder would be married Saturday.

Cuba Allows 18 Refugees to Land; Keeps 922 Out

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

HAVANA, May 29.—Cuban immigration authorities today granted permission to eighteen Jewish refugees aboard the Hamburg-American liner St. Louis to enter Cuba. Nine hundred and twenty-two others who arrived aboard the St. Louis last Saturday and are being held aboard the vessel in mid-harbor do not have the proper visas, immigration officials said. Jewish relief societies here expressed hope that President Federico Laredo Bru would cut red tape and permit the refugees to enter. The vessel is scheduled to sail tomorrow for Hamburg.

30 WOUNDED AS 2 BOMBS EXPLODE IN ARAB THEATER

Jew Is Shot to Death After Blasts.

JERUSALEM, May 29.—(AP)—Two bombs exploded today in a crowded Arab owned movie theater. About thirty persons were wounded.

The theater, which is located fifty yards from the central police station, was showing an American film when the first bomb exploded. It was followed by a second blast almost immediately.

Men, women, and children were among those injured. A British soldier and four Arabs were dangerously hurt. One Jew, a Jewess, and ten Arabs were less seriously injured. The others suffered minor wounds.

Jew Slain After Blasts.

The audience stampeded to the doors where most of the injuries were suffered. Few persons were injured by the bombs themselves.

A third unexploded bomb was found in the theater balcony. Following the explosions one Jew was shot dead and another seriously injured in the center of the city. All theaters and cafés were ordered closed.

Four hundred Jews, apprehended in a schooner midway between Tel Aviv and Haifa as they attempted to enter Palestine illegally, were permitted to disembark. As a result the immigration quota will be reduced by 400.

Five Arabs Found Slain.

JERUSALEM, May 29.—Four women and one man were found killed and four men and one child wounded—all Arabs—early today in the Arab village of Diraddas, near the Kfar Saba colony in Sharon valley.

The village mukhtar [chieftain], who was among the wounded, said five Jews walked in on him and shot him, after which they fired into three other houses, causing the casualties. It was reported that a Zionist flag was found planted on the ground near the scene. One Jew was arrested.

FAVOR BRINGING BISHOP ZIEGLER BACK TO CHICAGO

Bishop Ziegler.

A long range plan for the return of the Rt. Rev. Winfred H. Ziegler, Episcopal bishop of Wyoming, as coadjutor bishop of the Chicago diocese with the right of succession to Bishop George Craig Stewart is being advocated among clergy and laity.

The plan calls for the election of the Rev. Dr. Edwin J. Randall, executive secretary of the diocese, as suffragan bishop in tomorrow's convention of the diocese in St. Luke's procathedral, Evanston. A suffragan bishop does not have the right of succession. Under Bishop Stewart's recommendations to the clergy, if an older nominee is elected he must forswear future election as head of the diocese. Dr. Randall is one of the senior clergymen of the diocese.

Bishop Ziegler, former archdeacon of Chicago, will not be eligible to an election to the Chicago see until Dec. 16, 1941, under a ruling that prevents a missionary bishop from being elected to another see until after he has served his mission jurisdiction five years. Bishop Ziegler was made bishop of Wyoming on Dec. 16, 1936.

Beauty Parlor Treatments RubAway Parking Troubles

Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, 219 Sheridan road, Kenilworth, was in an Evanston beauty parlor on May 4. By the time her hair was dressed, her nails manicured, and other beauty treatment had been administered, Mrs. Smith said yesterday, she found a ticket on her automobile for parking overtime in the business district.

Judge James M. Corcoran of the Evanston Municipal court commiserated with her, accepted the alibi, and dismissed the case.

Wins Spelling Bee

ELIZABETH RICE.

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—By spelling such bafflers as "homogeneity" and "canonical," Elizabeth Rice, 12 years old, of Auburn, Mass., won the championship of the national spelling bee and a $500 prize today.

The contest was under the auspices of the Louisville Courier-Journal. Elizabeth, who was sponsored by the Worcester, Mass., Telegram and Gazette, downed the twenty other regional champions who competed in the finals of the nation-wide contest. The other entrants, winners among 2 million elementary school children, ranged in age from 10 to 15 years.

Humphrey Cook, 13, sponsored by the Richmond, Va., News-Leader, won second prize of $300, failing after nearly seventy-five rounds on the word "homogeneity." He spelled it "homogenuity."

Mildred Karimer, 14, whose quick, sure spelling made her an early favorite for the title, went down on "farcical" and took third prize of $100.

Some of the mispellings on which the finalists stumbled were "petulent" for petulant, "miniatory" for minatory, "bretheren" for brethren, "cimony" for simony, "solocism" for solecism, "solubrious" for salubrious, "chatel" for chattle, and "summory" for summary.

SEEK 2 ACCUSED SLAYERS OF N. Y. YACHT OWNER

District Attorney Fred J. Munder of Suffolk county, N. Y., returned home yesterday to investigate discrepancies in a Chicago prisoner's story that he knows who killed Benjamin Collings in Long Island Sound eight years ago. Collings, a wealthy yachtsman, was beaten to death by two men on his yacht, the Penguin. His wife was terrorized and attacked.

The prisoner, who named two men as the killers, identified himself as Noble Charles Chambers, 22 years old, of Gloucester, Mass. He was caught robbing a boat in the Jackson park harbor.

Munder said the two men accused by Chambers will be sought in New York for questioning. The prisoner said the two slayers were bootleggers who killed the yachtsman by mistake, believing he was an informer.

British Labor Party Expels Rich and Brilliant Lawyer

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

SOUTHPORT, England, May 29.—Sir Stafford Cripps, one of England's most brilliant and richest lawyers, failed today to prevent his expulsion from the Labor party for having attempted to build a united front with liberals and the communist party. Although rules were waived to enable Cripps to state personally his case in a speech before 890 delegates attending the Labor party's conference, his expulsion was confirmed by a card vote of 2,100,000 to 402,000.

BERWYN PUSHES CAMPAIGN FOR ITS OWN HIGH SCHOOL

Recent exposures of misconduct among pupils at the J. Sterling Morton High school in Cicero has intensified a campaign begun six months ago to obtain a separate school for 2,500 Berwyn pupils now attending Morton, Mrs. Samuel R. Kaar, president of the Berwyn Parent-Teacher association, said yesterday.

Last November Berwyn women started a house to house canvass with petitions for a high school for Berwyn. They needed the signatures of two-thirds, or 25,000 of the village's voters. To date 13,000 persons have signed. The campaign will be concluded with a celebration June 9 and 10.

IMPANEL GRAND JURY MONDAY IN ANNENBERG CASE

United States District Attorney William J. Campbell was making preparations yesterday to present the income tax case of M. L. Annenberg, wealthy publisher, to the June federal grand jury which will be impaneled Monday. Campbell said he and his special staff of four tax experts would be working on the case today despite the holiday.

It is expected that the life of the jury will be extended for more than a month because of the mass of testimony in the government's case, which is said to involve a claim for $500,000 in taxes. The first witnesses will be government agents who have been investigating Annenberg's income.

Campbell denied published reports that State's Attorney Courtney would aid the government. Last winter Courtney's ax squad raided numerous gambling houses. Annenberg is said to control the dissemination of racing news. As a newspaper publisher in Pennsylvania he has also been a leading critic of the New Deal.

WED BY PROXY, THEY SEE EACH OTHER FOR 1ST TIME IN MONTHS

San Pedro, Cal., May 29.—(AP)—Married by proxy last March, a youthful business man and his South American society beauty bride met today for the first time in months. Stanley M. V. Friden, 22 years old, Oakland, Cal., greeted the former Freya Brenner of Argentina aboard the motorship Santos Maru at quarantine. They left on an automobile honeymoon tour shortly after the vessel docked. Friden met his bride during a business trip to South America. The proxy ceremony was performed at Buenos Aires.

Paderewski Much Better; Leaves for Europe Today

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—The condition of Ignace Jan Paderewski, famous pianist, has improved so much that he expects to sail for Europe tomorrow on the Normandie. Dr. Theodore Dunham examined Paderewski and found a definite improvement. The pianist was stricken in his dressing room in Madison Square Garden Thursday night while 15,000 persons were waiting to hear him play.

Holiday Opens the Season at Country Clubs

BY JUDITH CASS.

MEMORIAL DAY marks the official opening each season of the country clubs, but since the holiday this year is on a Tuesday most of the clubs jumped the gun and started their activities on Saturday.

Golf matches, of course, are the main events planned for masculine entertainment, and for the ladies there are bridge and tennis. Feminine golfers are no more welcome on crack golf courses on holidays than they are on Saturdays and Sundays.

For the pleasure of every one, but especially for the sons and daughters of members, the clubs that have pools opened them over the week-end, trusting that nature would provide the right sort of swimming weather. The Indian Hill club in Winnetka, however, does not trust nature, apparently, nor does it have much faith in the judgment of the pool devotees, for its pool will not be filled until mid-June. The club had its opening dinner-dance last Saturday, and on Sunday the weekly buffet suppers started. Today there is golf for the men and bridge for the ladies.

Dinner-Dances Forced Inside.

Saturday night's storms upset plans for al fresco dining and dancing at those clubs that had planned outdoor parties, but every experienced manager hereabouts knows that Chicago weather is capricious. Consequently he or she always arranges things so that the parties can be held indoors if necessary.

The Exmoor in Highland Park has a covered dancing pavilion that can be used in almost any sort of weather but Saturday night's rain drove the orchestra and the dancers indoors. The Chicago Golf, the Knollwood, the Glen View, the Riverside Golf, and the Sunset Ridge are some of the other clubs that had their first dinner-dances of the season Saturday night. The pools at all of these clubs but the Sunset Ridge are ready for use. The Sunset Ridge club is building its pool.

Out in Wayne at the Dunham Woods Riding club the summer season officially was opened yesterday with a picnic supper. The Edgerton Throckmortons, the junior Samuel Insulls, the young Charles Lindsays, the Arthur Farwells, and the Raymond Otis Mitchells are among those who invited guests to the picnic.

The Onwentsia club is not having its first dinner-dance until June 15 but this does not mean that there will be no dance music in the club until that date. Next Saturday night the John I. Shaws, the Clarence Mitchells and the William H. Mitchells are taking over the club to give a party for their brother, Garfield King, and his bride-to-be, Miss Kay Goodman. On Saturday, the 10th, there will be a benefit dinner-dance there for Allendale Farm. Today the annual Memorial Day golf tournament for the George Alexander McKinlock Jr. cup will be played at the Onwentsia.

Mrs. McKinlock Will Leave for East Tomorrow.

Mrs. McKinlock, who with her late husband gave the trophy as a memorial to their son, who died in the world war, arrived in her Lake Bluff home a few days ago for a week's stay. She is leaving tomorrow for Philadelphia to attend Miss Maris Townsend's marriage.

After a week in Philadelphia Mrs. McKinlock will go on to Saratoga Springs, where she has taken a house for the summer, having rented her north shore one to the Frank E. Wilhelms. Mrs. McKinlock will be back here in the autumn for a stay before going south to her Palm Beach home.

The Saddle and Cycle and the South Shore are among the city-country clubs that had dinner-dances last night instead of Saturday night. For those who are not keen about dancing the latter had a ping-pong exhibition.

At the Saddle and Cycle Mr. and Mrs. John H. Noyes, the Henry Grosses, the Thomas I. Underwoods, the Henry McIntyres, Dr. and Mrs. O. E. Van Alyea, and the Robert Harveys were among those who had tables at the party.

The Shoreacres club made no special plans for the holiday week-end but it will be ablaze with lights the coming week-end, for on Friday the Lester Armours are giving the bridal dinner there for their daughter, Betty, and Gerald V. Hollins Jr., and on Saturday the John F. Jelkes will be hosts at a dinner-dance at the club. It will celebrate the Jelkes' 17th wedding anniversary, which really falls on Thursday, but is being observed on June 3.

Hold Yacht Race at Lake Geneva.

Those spending the long week-end at their Lake Geneva homes are having a busy time. For the first time in the history of the Lake Geneva Yacht club a special Memorial day race for class "A" boats has been scheduled. The first big luncheon of the season at the Lake Geneva Country club will be given today by the club's president and Mrs. Augustus K. Maxwell, who are entertaining about fifty guests, mostly lake shore neighbors.

The official opening of the Big Foot Country club took place last Saturday with golf, a dinner party, games, and a musical program, furnished by guests of the club's president, Dr. Arthur R. Colwell of Evanston, and James T. Atwood. The club, noted for its picturesque and sporty golf course, is expanding its tennis program this season and is building new courts.

Prindiville-Joyce Nuptials Today.

For her marriage to Peter Prindiville at 11:30 o'clock this morning in St. Francis Xavier church, Wilmette, Miss Ruth Joyce will wear an heirloom diamond lavalliere, the gift of her mother, Mrs. Joseph Joyce, who wore it at her marriage to Mr. Joyce. Heirloom lace will trim the veil and gown.

Following the ceremony there will be a breakfast and reception at the Shawnee Country club. Mr. Prindiville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Prindiville of New York, formerly of Winnetka, will take his bride on a month's wedding trip. They will make their home on Chicago's near north side.

Miss Jule Cavanaugh will be Miss Joyce's maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss Jane Molyneaux, Miss Nona Benninghoven, Miss Jean Younglove, Miss Rosemary Doyle, and Miss Emily Richards.

Henry Prindiville Baby will be the best man. Ushering will be Nelson Thomasson III., John T. Connery II., Frank Nairne Jr., George Eric Drake, Jay Klapp, and Frederick Salmons. Billy Drake, cousin of the bride, will be the ring bearer.

Miss Helen Hunter, daughter of the Robert Hunters of Pasadena, who has been the guest of Mrs. Thomas Tyler for a little over a week, expects to leave in a few days for Cincinnati and New York.

The woman's board of the Chicago Tumor institute is giving a small tea at the institute at 5 o'clock on Thursday afternoon to open a new medical library.

Mrs. Arthur Meeker is chairman of the woman's board. Mrs. James Ward Thorne is the vice chairman and Mrs. Ambrose C. Cramer is secretary. Mrs. Alden B. Swift will pour tea.

Garden Party on Sunday for Walter Dill Scotts.

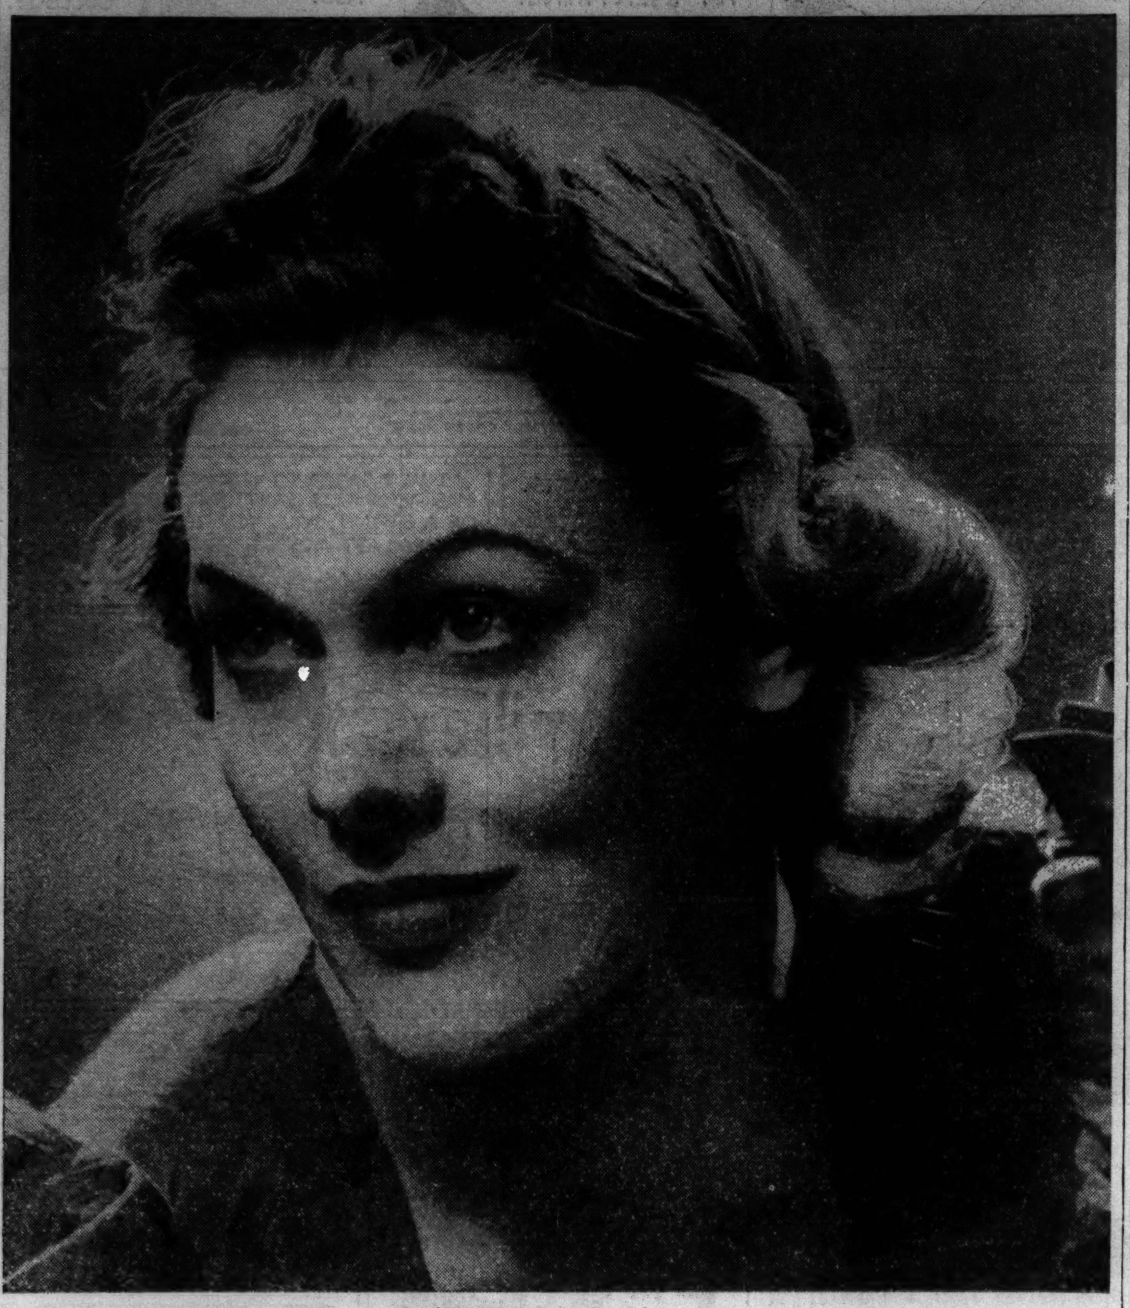
Dr. and Mrs. Walter Dill Scott have been entertained so extensively since he announced his intention of retiring from the presidency of Northwestern university that it would not be surprising if they were a little tired of parties. They could not look forward to one that is being held for them next Sunday, however, with anything but pleasurable anticipation, for it is to be a garden tea. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Burgess are giving it at their home in Glencoe. Mr. Burgess is chairman of Northwestern's board of trustees. Sunday starts commencement week at the university.

Other especial guests at the tea will be members of the Northwestern University associates and the board of trustees of the university and their wives.

WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Janet Perry, daughter of Mrs. M. Thornton Perry of 211 East Delaware place, to John Bennett Halpin Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett Halpin, 5008 Monroe street, will take place at 4 o'clock the afternoon of June 10 at the Fourth Presbyterian church. A reception will follow at the Knickerbocker hotel. Mr. Halpin and his bride will motor to Yellowstone Park on their wedding trip.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS



[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

An inexpensive scented lotion, created for summer use only, is a find for the woman who wants to look and feel fresh during hot weather. Its garden flowers fragrance is a delight and it has a dozen uses.

Have you heard of, seen, or, better yet, had a nice little whiff of the new fragrance for summer use only?

It's a brand new idea in the art of using scents deftly. The "fragrance" is labeled "to be sold only from May 15 to Oct. 1," and was created to fill the need for a scented, cooling lotion that can be used instead of an expensive and exotic perfume during the hot weather.

The odor? It's a little hard to describe. If you had an old-fashioned summer garden, filled with pinks, sweet peas, larkspur, roses, and every other flower of which you're fond, you could undoubtedly assemble a fragrant bouquet that would be close to the scent of your summertime lotion. It's a mixed bouquet, without any dominant note that could be easily tagged. And it's awfully, awfully pretty.

There's no law against using it sparingly and the light scent is remarkably lasting — but we advise using it generously. You can afford to. The four ounce bottle comes at a price that's attractively low.

You can use it as a rub down lotion after your bath or shower. On hot days you'll find it cooling and refreshing when applied to the temples, over the neck and shoulders, or under the arms. At summer dinner parties or luncheons toss a few drops into the finger bowls; this is a pleasant little treat.

We can't imagine anything nicer for one who is ill. The scent is not overpowering, which is a big advantage for the invalid, and the lotion could be used a dozen ways in the sickroom. A few drops on the pillow will make the invalid feel nicely luxurious. It can also be used in the rinsing water after the frequent hand and face washings.

Miss Cornelia Conger, aboard a transcontinental plane, was looking down at the checkered green and brown fields below and thinking of the months of patient drudgery and of the hardships encountered not so many years ago when those same prairies were crossed by covered wagons. Just then the stewardess came along and suggested that she and the young woman in the seat beside her remove their hats so they could rest more easily.

"It's hardly worth while for me," said the young woman. "I'm only going to Texas."

Girls of "Deb" Age, Be Sure to Act Your Years, Not Older

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Young ladies of the deb and sub-deb age, are you aware of the standard set for you this year? It applies to any year, true, but in this one especially it is to your profit to conform to it.

The standard by which you are judged not only as a smart looking miss, but a smart one as well, is being your own age and being it simply, casually, with no sign about you of an attempt to ape an older sister, a movie star, or a fashion illustration with some one else in mind by the artist.

It's your year to show why ginghams and calicos ever were invented; your year to wear the simple sports suits and blouses of immaculate cleanliness; your year to look some one's adorable sister as in a girlish frock with skirt fulness, no jewels unless they are simple costume things that look young as you yourself.

Or, to put it another way, should you come out with hair done up high and much garnished with decoration, with a tight fitting satin or jersey frock, we'll say, glittery jeweled shoes and arms laden with bracelets, you're to look like a vintage of yesterday alongside the girl with her hair done simply, with a single little velvet bow in it, a frock that is bouffantly girlish and not too low in neck cut, and shoes that are nice but look as if they could be danced in all night with comfort.

If any one insists on going in for overdoing things this year, don't let it be you, young woman! Let an oldster be the silly looking leftover from another day.

And, of course, this simple unaffectedness that marks your dress and hairdo must be carried into makeup, too. You'd spoil the picture of that "old sweetheart of mine" if you adopted the simple, casual type of wardrobe and then splotched on rouge and lipstick with a heavy hand. It goes for eye makeup, too. Some of you do cheapening things to yourselves with eyeshadow and mascara. Better let it alone entirely.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

With Claudette Colbert as a poetess and Jimmie Stewart as a detective, "It's a Wonderful World" proceeds about its business of being an entertaining mystery comedy.

Reminiscent of both "It Happened One Night" and films of "The Thin Man" persuasion, this movie spills laughter and shudders with engaging partiality.

Guy Johnson's effort to prove innocent of murdering a wealthy playboy client, precipitates him into a maelstrom of strange happenings which include a pair of murders.

Soon, blithely swimming by his side he discovers the charming, unconvential and adoring Poetess Edwina Corday. She, first regarded as a millstone around the neck, eventually proves herself a blessing in disguise. . . .

The good little plot from the pen of Ben Hecht, is worked out expertly, providing the sort of ending you cry for.

Miss Colbert and Mr. Stewart handle the featured rôles with zest—though James does strike me as just a leetle bit too kiddish to be Claudette's best beau. However, that's matter of opinion. . . .

Clever bits are contributed by Guy Kibbee, Frances Drake, and Nat Pendleton. The director knew his business.

See you tomorrow.

Open Glackens Memorial Show at Arts Club

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

There are several new exhibitions which will continue into June. Possibly the most important is the William Glackens Memorial exhibition at the Arts club. The club also has an exhibit of sculpture by Wilhelm Lehmbruck, a modern artist who has had a distinct influence upon contemporary sculpture.

Glackens is one of America's outstanding painters; his name is heard in any grouping of our prominent men, but in spite of this, in spite of his keen Americanism, he owes a vast debt to Renoir. It is extraordinary how in technique and color his convases resemble those of the great Frenchman.

The Chicago Galleries, 215 North Michigan avenue, have just opened an exhibit of paintings by Brett F. Moore and Frederick Polley, which can be seen to June 15. Brett Moore is a young painter, who lives in California. This is his first Chicago showing. The smaller landscapes are delightful, rather poetic in feeling and charming in color.

In the larger pictures Mr. Moore seems to be trying out experiments in techniques. A bit of cubism and a great deal of modernism are evident. What he will eventually decide upon for his pattern is still on the knees of the gods, but if he follows the indications of his smaller works he will never go far wrong.

Frederick Polley offers a group of landscapes of New England, vigorously painted and picturesque in character. The exquisite studies of "Light and Life," by Charles J. Cook, are remaining at the galleries. They are unusual photographs, charming from any point of view.

The Lake Shore Athletic club has opened an Invitation Art Exhibition by the All-Illinois Society of the Fine Arts. It is a vivid, colorful show, very well hung. The Mrs. Frank G. Logan blue ribbon went to "As the Sun Lingers" by Arna Bretsnyder.

The exhibit represents the kind of picture the society sponsors at its best. "Guiding Star," by Dale Nichals; "Nauvoo," by Line K. Newberry; "Girl in Yellow Chair," by Douglas Ewen; "Callas," by Nina K. Griffin; "Tasco Market," by Charles P. Killgore, and "Russian Wolf Hounds," by Ted Vognild, make brilliant company.

You can hardly tell slip covers from upholstery these days. Have you seen the new covers that are made of knitted fabric and that literally mold themselves to the furniture? They come ready made and their makers claim they are both color fast and washable. They fit as smoothly as a stocking. Hidden openings make it possible to clean these covers and the furniture without completely removing them.

There are slip covers in this knitted fabric for wing chairs, club chairs, cogswell chairs, and for almost all types of couches—square cushion or T-shaped cushion. Fourteen patterns are available and each comes in four different color schemes. This merchandise is most reasonably priced, too. E. W.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

Holiday.

Coronado Beach, Cal., May 29.—This is one of the spots where the movie crowd repairs for such a week-end holiday as Memorial day—150 miles south by car from Hollywood, but just a ferry ride across the bay from San Diego, and only thirty minutes by car to the Mexican border at Tia Juana. . . . The Pacific fleet is based in the waters of San Diego at the moment, endless rows of blue-gray ships with their gun turrets looking out across the waves to Japan. Feeling completely safe with this sort of protection, the movie crowd sits in the sun at Coronado and plays pinochle.

This morning we motored to Tia Juana, and on the hot, dusty street that is the Broadway of the Mexican town we met John Garfield and his wife. No city in Europe is so hot or so deliberately colorful as this Mexican border line town. As we arrived an open auto van, loaded to the rails with Mexican musicians, was dodging in and out of trafic, the driver honking his horn and the musicians honking their brass instruments at the top of their lungs—advertising the bull fight which was to be held later in the day. Great salesmen, these Mexicans. Of the thousands jamming the main street each one was selling something.

Dirty faced Mexican urchins were at your car door before you'd even come to a full stop offering to shine your shoes, watch your car, sell you stickers to paste on the windshield, or peddle the straw dolls they fashion. . . . When you got free of them you ran kerplunk into a row of Mexican photographers who pleaded hoarsely with you to sit in a donkey cart and have your picture snapped, with a sombrero and a shawl thrown in as photographic props. . . . In the doorways of curio shops saturnine Mexicans exposed toothless gums in smiles designed to lure you into their shops. Everybody in Tia Juana is a merchant, either of high or low degree, and you are a strong character indeed if you can resist their blandishments. . . . I went for a picture on a donkey cart, and that was where I was sitting trying to look very Latin when Garfield hailed me from the sidewalk. In the middle of the picture the donkey got tired of the whole thing and stretched himself out on the pavement for a snooze. "It will make a better picture this way," said the photographer hastily, fearing perhaps that I'd insist that the donkey must stand up again.

Tia Juana, during the days when Mexican generals and politicos played ball with Americans who rented the concessions, was a gay place, gayer than it is today. The sky was the limit and Hollywood came here to relax over the gambling tables and at the racetrack. Then a reform movement set in, and the American concessionaires were driven out. . . . Meantime the ponies started running at Santa Anita, Del Mar, and Hollywood, so there is no longer a reason for the movie crowd to travel 150 miles in pursuit of its sport. Tia Juana now depends on the tourist trade, but thinks regretfully of the days when movie stars made it their hideaway.

"One Way Passage," one of the best love stories the movies ever told, relied for its punch line on Tia Juana. William Powell and Kay Francis, both fated to die, in their last moments together aboard the ship docking at San Francisco, pledged that they would meet in Tia Juana at midnight of New Year's eve. Death prevented the meeting, but you may recall the scene when the Tia Juana bartender turned suddenly as two champagne glasses on the bar shattered. Probably the ending was suggested by the late Wilson Misner, one of the writers of the picture. He knew this section of Mexico vividly, spent quite a bit of time down here.

Occasionally Pancho Villa roared into the border town at the head of his rakishly-mounted cavalrymen, and swaggered from bar to bar. Oldtimers still recall hasily the time when he visited the racetrack and the management of the track hastily arranged a Pancho Villa handicap in his honor. Villa looked over the horses that were to compete in the race and picked No. 5 as his bet. He and his followers bet all their dough on the animal, and the management, suddenly apprehensive, suggested that this was foolhardy as one could never tell in a horse race. Villa unhooked his shooting irons and his cavalrymen did likewise. "When I bet on No. 5," he told the track operators through an interpreter, "It would be unwise for any other horse or jockey to have the effrontery to run in front of him." The word got to the other jockeys. No. 5 won all the way, some of the other horses being steered to the outside fence. Villa and his men collected their huge winnings and clattered out of town.

Today, however, the sun beats down hotly on the little Mexican town. . . . Villa is dead. . . . Lew Cody, Mabel Normand, Jean Harlow, and the rest of the crowd that once came here have passed along. . . . In the blue waters of San Diego harbor the gray-blue ships of Uncle Sam ride at anchor, and on the sands of Coronado a new generation of movie heroes and heroines plays pinochle.

Brides, Beware! Try to Change Hubby and Fail

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"Tell your June brides for me," says a grandmother with a world of experience among brides because of her large family of now married girls and boys, "that there is one great secret of success in marriage. It is:

"Stifle that urge to change your husband!"

Grandmother observes that first quarrels in households start invariably from the uncontrolled urge to make the man over, and, for the very same reason, quarrels keep on recurring in households.

"It's a rare one, my dear," adds our advisory friend, "who can accomplish the miracle of not interfering with her man as he is, but that rare one works the miracle of happiness for herself and her man."

Which bit of advice answers perfectly a young matron's letter to us, in which she enumerates faults in her husband that she wishes were not there. How, tactfully, to change him, is young Mrs. L.'s query, of course.

Perhaps, if it takes superhuman strength to control the urge to reform the man to whom one is married, it might just help if the woman approached her man with bargain terms. For every fault he would change for her, she would change something about herself that may irritate him. Better, because, being a gentleman, his impulse or his desire for peace would force him to say: "but, my dear, you are perfect. I wouldn't have you otherwise." Better we say, for the woman to sit down with herself and plan the "swapping" of faults all by herself.

No fair, of course, saying you haven't any, woman! You have. The man is just trying to remain blind to them. Men are not possessed of this demon mania for changing people as are women.

Better remind yourself that you married the man because you loved him as he is. If he had been the character into which you now want to make him over, you might never have been attracted to him. Maybe those weaknesses of his, if they are present, were the very things that endeared him to you.

They do say that it is a rare, rare edition of our sex who is proof against the desire to remold her mate.

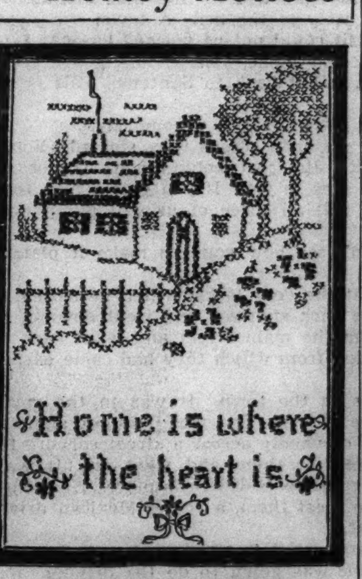
Cross-Stitch Is Used to Create 'Homey' Mottoes



Home is where the heart is

BY NANCY CABOT.

Mottoes in cross-stitch embroidery are perennial favorites for home decoration and for needlework pastime. This simple and attractive wall picture will measure about 12 by 15 inches when completed and ready for framing. White and natural color linen are the popular choices for the background, although any color may be used. A narrow ½ inch frame finishes the picture.

For the hot iron transfer pattern of the cross-stitch motto, No. X-586, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

Painted Posies on Toes Latest Fad in Hosiery

BY RHEA SEEGER.

So much whimsey has been hung on the streamlines of the unsuspecting feminine shoppers that any new idea is now accepted tamely and calmly. Hosiery makers are now presenting the whimsey of the season: Stockings with painted posies on the toes! Long suffering shoppers either giggle and buy or sniff and pass them by.

If you're in a tranquil mood or desire something to start a conversation you'll try a pair just for the heck of it. . . . This hosiery comes in a particularly good shade of sun tan, and the small painted flowers show with white or summer colored sandals. These botanical finds are guaranteed to wash, coming through as if they had lapped up a few rain drops during a summer shower.

Some critics will like the painted buds and blossoms better than the painted toe nails shining through the chiffon and then peeking out through the open end of summer slippers. None of this is to be taken seriously, but all in the spirit of history making frivolous summer season.

For the other half of the shoppers that reluctantly refuse to be anything but decorously decorative, there are the super luxuries of wisp thin chiffon, without any visible heel or toe double sections — the last gasp in fragile beauty, so thin you need a couple pair to see you through a dancing party. The texture is exquisitely dull and slenderizing.

Another unbeatable slender ankleline trick: The luscious copper gold shades of the ombré chiffons, summertime miracles of shaded hosiery of the type that was so successful in the darker tints last winter. Remember? The lightest tint was directly in front, the darker tone at the back and the in-between shades at the side, slick optical illusion stuff that slices plenty of inches off any ankle and visible upper lines.

These high fashion short skirts need good sheer color and texture in the proper hosiery.

Miss Babette Block Becomes the Bride of Actor in New York City

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—Miss Babette Block and Charles Desheim were married today in the presidential suite at the Hotel Biltmore. The ceremony, which took place at noon, was performed by Dr. Jonah B. Wise.

Miss Block, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Block of 20 Cedar street, Chicago, was attended by her sister, Mrs. Daniel Saidenberg of Chicago. Mr. Saidenberg was best man. The bride's father is chairman of the Inland Steel company.

Among the Chicagoans present in addition to the bride's family were Mrs. Lessing Rosenthal, Mrs. Adele Stix and Mrs. Louis Eckstein.

The bride was dressed in a print dress and a Russian white mink coat.

The newly married couple postponed a wedding trip until Mr. Desheim has completed his engagement at the Old Globe theater here, where he is appearing in Shakespeare. They will make their home in New York.

The River Bend Feud

By William MacLeod Raine

(Copyright: 1939: By William MacLeod Raine.)

SYNOPSIS.

Jeff Hunter, an American mining engineer, awaits execution in a Mexican jail by order of Pancho Banderas, rebel leader. A peon friend helps him escape to Texas. Jeff meets Joan Raleigh, lost in the vastness of her feudal estate, and assists her home. He meets her brothers, Bill and Phil, and Phil's wife, Mary Lou. When they learn Jeff went to college with their cousin, Raeburn, he is invited to be their guest. An old feud against the Raleighs is being renewed under the leadership of Butler Lane, suspected of poisoning their aunt, his wife, and forging her will. Banderas, routed from Mexico, has joined Lane. Jeff offers to try to make peace with the better element, and with Jim Williams, starts for the ranch of Carl Nielsen. They are pursued and fired on by Banderas and his men, but manage to reach the Nielsen ranch. Banderas and his men appear. Jeff disarms them. Nielsen is shocked by the outlaws. The feud has prevented a romance between beautiful Olga Nielsen and Bill Raleigh. Next morning Nielsen leaves with Jeff for a conference with Phil Raleigh. Joan and Phil are missing—kidnaped in their own plane and made the prisoners of Banderas. Jeff, Jim Williams and Raeburn trail Lane Butler to the ranch of his ally, Rannigan. When Butler leaves Jeff forces Rannigan to lead them to the kidnaper's hideout. But Banderas has moved Joan and Phil into deeper hiding, after Phil had agreed to Butler's demands for fear of what might happen to Joan. Phil tries to buy their escape from Banderas. Jeff, Rae and Jim Williams plan to kidnap Butler from his hotel.

INSTALMENT XXXVIII.

A CAPTURE.

After a time Rae came back. "Not a sound in Lane's room," he said. "Fellow in the other is still running a sawmill in full blast."

"We'll give them another ten minutes," Jeff said, and drew out his watch to check the time.

Rae paced up and down the room restlessly, glancing three or four times at his wrist watch. "Let's go," he said at last.

"Might as well," Jeff agreed. "Be out of sight when the boy comes in and if he starts to yell clamp a hand over his mouth."

"Right," Rae said.

Jeff walked to the elevator and pushed the bell. When the door opened Jeff said to the boy, "Sorry, but I went to the bathroom and locked myself out of my room."

The boy nodded. "Okay, sir. Back in a minute with a key."

The elevator descended to the lobby and presently returned. Over his arm the boy had a large round hoop to which was attached a master key.

Jeff made casual talk as the lad in uniform fitted the key to the lock. "Dumb of me," he said. "Just one of those things a man does carelessly."

The bell hop opened the door and Jeff gently edged him over the threshold. At sight of the other two men in the room his eyes bulged and his mouth opened.

"Take it easy," Jeff advised. "There's $10 in this for you and you're not going to get hurt."

All of them were watching the youngster to make sure he was not going to shout.

He stammered his astonishment. "But—but—I don't get it—I——"

Rae explained. "It's all right. You know me. Raleigh of the River Bend ranch. We've no intention of harming you, but we mean business. Just keep still and everything will be all right."

That the boy was frightened Jeff saw and he turned on him a friendly grin. "Don't worry, son. Just play along with us and you'll have a great story to tell the chaps you know. We'll put our cards on the table. Lane has kidnaped Miss Raleigh and we want a little talk with him. Sorry, but we are going to have to tie you up till we're through."

Though the boy was still a little frightened, he could not really believe these men would hurt him. Raleigh was a big shot, and he had known good natured old Jim Williams for years.

"You don't have to tie me," he said. "I'll keep still."

"We have to tie you or else they will think you were in with us," Jeff told him.

They tied him to a chair and put a towel in his mouth for a gag. Into one of his pockets Rae thrust a ten dollar bill.

Very gingerly the three men moved down the corridor to Lane's room. Slowly, with great pains to avoid making a noise, Jeff inserted the key in the lock and turned it. Inch by inch he pushed the door open, listening to be sure the sleepers were not disturbed. With his left hand he felt for the light switch.

The flooding of the room with light woke the men in the beds, the guard instantly, Lane more slowly. As the gangster sat up his hand shot under the farther pillow.

"No," Jeff ordered curtly.

"Unless you'd like for us to make a rag doll of you," Old Jim added in his high thin voice. "Which we'll be glad to do right damn now."

The gangster saw he was covered by three guns. He drew his hand back from the pillow empty. The shock of what Lane saw drove sleep from his eyes. He did not move, but there was startled fear in his eyes. Not until he was sure of his voice did he speak.

"You can't get away with this, Raleigh," he said sharply.

"We're going to take you with us dead or alive," Rae answered. "And we don't care which, you blackhearted scoundrel."

"Get up and dress, Lane," Jeff said. "If either of you make a sound we'll blast you."

"What are you going to do with me?" Lane asked, swift keen eyes searching first one and then another of his captors. "There's a heavy penalty for kidnaping. You can't do this to me."

"You ought to know about kidnaping, since you're in the business yourself, you yellow coyote," Old Jim snarled.

"Get up, Lane—or don't," Jeff warned ominously.

He got out of the bed and Old Jim flung his clothes at him.

"What about me?" the guard asked from the corner of a thin lipped evil mouth.

"Take care of him, Jim," Hunter said.

With the assistance of Rae the old-timer tied up the man efficiently, hands and feet, then fastened him securely to the bed. A towel was used for a gag. The cowboy made sure that it could not be worked loose.

"That'll hold you till the cows come home, fellow," he guaranteed. "When you get loose you better high tail it back to Santone. This is no place for soft guys like you."

The shallow fishy eyes of the man glared at him venemously.

"Get this right," Rae said to the prisoner before they started. You'll be walking between Jeff and me, with Jim just behind you. It doesn't matter who we meet or what any one says to you. If you give a hint that you're not with us of your own free will all three of us will pump lead into you. Is that clear?"

"Quite," Lane said coolly. "I don't see how you can make it plainer without going into action."

Jeff put the light out and saw that the door locked when he closed it. They walked along the corridor to the back stairway and went down it to the alley. Here they turned away from the main street and went back of the Moss restaurant toward the direction from which they had come earlier in the evening.

There was very little sign of life in the town. It was in the small hours and nearly everybody had gone to bed. The party caught sight of one man, obviously drunk, jaywalking crookedly across a street corner. He flung out a cheerful "Buenos Noches" at them and went on his way. Through a thinly settled suburb they came to McIlheny's place. Here they found a car, just in from the ranch to meet them, a young Mexican driver already nearly asleep on the front seat.

Old Jim handcuffed himself to Lane, wrist to wrist, and took the prisoner into the back seat with him. Jeff was going to do the driving. Rae returned with the Mexican to the pasture where they had left the aeroplane. It had been arranged that Jeff was to wait until he saw the plane in the air before starting for the River Bend. He did not want to leave his friend stalled on the edge of town.

As the plane swung round in a half circle above them Jeff started for the ranch. He drove fast, along a deserted road, and arrived at the big house not much more than a half an hour after Rae.

Mary Lou had been sitting up on a chaise longue trying to keep her mind off the fear weighing on her by reading a magazine. Rae had already reported to her the success of their mission and this had given her renewed hope. With the leader of the enemy forces in their hands it ought to be easy to arrange an exchange of prisoners. Already Rae had been on the phone and suggested to the hotel management that there were two men on the third floor needing some attention.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Much of the finest dried fruit has been plumped somewhat in the processing, so that no soaking, only gentle simmering, is required to soften them to edibility.

There still are to be found very dry, very much shrivelled prunes and apricots, to be sure. These take the old-fashioned soaking, of course. They lack nothing in food value, and are economical to buy. For whips and chiffon type pies, and for fillings, they do very nicely. But their plumper brothers and sisters look more attractive when served alone, in whole fruit pies, in salads, and in other dishes in which the fruit is not to be reduced to pulp or purée.

Prune and ham rolls are unusual luncheon food. They're very good with shoestring potatoes and a vegetable salad bowl. Use either type of prune.

French Fried Ham and Prune Rolls.
[Six Servings.]

1 cup cooked prunes
6 slices boiled ham, cut ⅛ inch thick
¼ cup catsup or chili sauce
2 cups fine bread crumbs
2 eggs
2 tablespoons milk

Pit prunes and cut into pieces. Spread catsup or chili sauce over the ham slices and cover with the prunes. Roll up, secure with toothpicks, and dip the rolls in beaten egg diluted with milk. Dip into crumbs to coat thoroughly. Fry in deep fat heated to 375 degrees until golden brown.

Apricot Whipped Cream Pie.
[Large 10 Inch Pie; Serves 8.]

2 cups tender dried apricots
5 cups water
¼ cup quick tapioca
1½ cups sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ pint whipping cream
Baked pastry shell
½ cup toasted coconut

Wash apricots, drain, add water, and cook for 20 minutes. Add tapioca and cook 10 minutes longer. Add sugar and salt and continue to cook for 10 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, add vanilla, and chill. Whip cream. Whip apricots into cream, a small amount at a time. Pour into baked pastry crust and top with browned coconut. Chill thoroughly before serving.

Jellied Cottage Cheese and Prune Salad.
[Serves 10 or More.]

2 cups cooked pitted prunes
4 teaspoons [1 envelope plus 1 teaspoon] plain, unflavored gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
1 pint cottage cheese
1 cup mayonnaise
¾ cup whipping cream
⅓ cup chopped sweet pickles

Cut prunes into quarters. Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve over hot water. Add chili sauce, mayonnaise, and cottage cheese. Fold in cream, beaten stiff, prunes and pickles. Mix well. Pour into a shallow pan and chill until firm. Cut in squares and serve on lettuce or other greens.

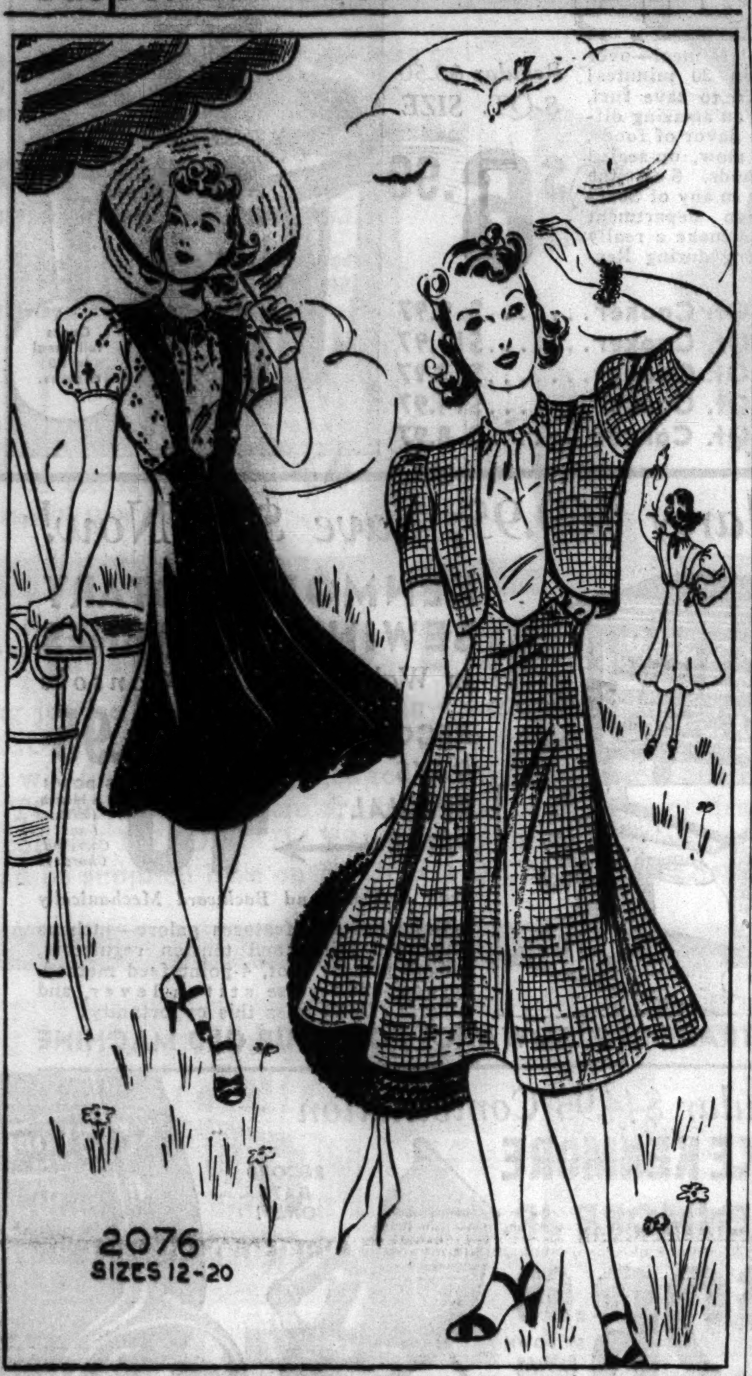
Suspender Dress with Bolero



WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

For slim figures two modes are outstandingly perfect. One is the bolero, the other the suspender skirt. Both styles are incorporated in the pattern today. It's a youthful model ideal for all types of wear during busy summer days, and especially perfect for travel.

The skirt is pointed up into the bodice and has a wide flare. The straps are the wide and secure kind. The bolero is collarless, waist length, and has puffed sleeves. The contrasting blouse has no collar but a neckline that is shirred onto cord or ribbon. This topper, too, has puffed sleeves.

Gingham is an excellent selection for the skirt and bolero, and piqué, too, has its fashion innings. Sheer and washable fabrics are best for the cool little blouse. All types of fabric and color contrasts can be achieved.

Style No. 2076 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20, and 30, 32, 34, 36, and 38 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 3½ yards of 39 inch material for the jacket and skirt, and 2 yards of 39 inch fabric for the blouse.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central station, NEW YORK CITY, inclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Today's Features

ON W-G-N.

[Central Daylight Saving Time.]

Tonight's world première of the Twentieth Century-Fox picture, "Young Mr. Lincoln," in Springfield will be described in a broadcast over W-G-N and Mutual from 9 to 9:30 p. m. Alice Brady, Arleen Whelan, Binnie Barnes, and Cesar Romero are among the movie stars who will be heard. Marion Anderson, Negro contralto, will sing.

Beginning at 1:30 p. m. Bob Elson will give a play-by-play account of the double-header ball game between the Chicago White Sox and the Detroit Tigers. The Lead-Off Man, usually scheduled before a ball game, will be heard today at approximately 3:30 p. m., or shortly after the first game.

The Northerners at 9:30 this evening will salute Memorial day with a medley of patriotic songs and selections from the motion picture "Rose of Washington Square." Bernice Rickman, soprano, will sing Edward Grieg's love song, "Ich Liebe Dich." The program will be presented from W-G-N's main audience studio under the direction of Harry S. Walsh.

A broadcast of the Memorial day ceremony aboard the United States revenue cutter, Tahoma, will be offered at 11:15 a. m. Mayor Harold H. Burton of Cleveland will read Gen. Logan's Memorial day general order, and Donald Lybarger, Cuyahoga county recorder, will give a brief historical address on the battle of Lake Erie.

Other features:
10:15 a. m.—Bachelor's Children.
10:45—Painted Dreams.

Mr. G. is past 60 years of age, and earns $55 a month when he is able to work full time. He helps to support three other members of the family, and is unable to purchase clothing for himself. He is in need of a suit, size 38. The address is on the south side of the city.

Summer School Opened to All Who Get Parents' O.K.

William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools, said yesterday he has urged principals to permit pupils to attend summer school whenever they obtain parents' consent. "We do not want to classify pupils according to whether they 'need' to go to summer school or not. We don't want them to feel that attending summer school means they are behind in their work. Some pupils go for that reason but many go to get ahead and some just because they like school," he explained.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

One of the greatest faults of the average player is that he cannot depart from orthodoxy when the occasion demands it. He is ruled by fixed habits that amount to shackles. Note today's hand:

East, dealer.
Match-point duplicate.
Both sides vulnerable.

♦ A 4 3
♣ 9

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 diamond	1 spade	2 diam.	2 spades
2 no trump	3 spades	Pass	Pass
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

East's double was rather aggressive, considering that he was doubling a less than game contract, but was undoubtedly motivated by the fact that this was match-point duplicate and that he needed a few "tops" to improve what was, up to this point, an indifferent score. As it happened, he should have come out "top" on this hand, but his partner ruled otherwise.

West opened his fourth best diamond and declarer captured East's queen. The singleton club then was led toward dummy and West, suspecting that it was a singleton, promptly and properly jumped up with the ace and shifted to hearts. This was an excellent shift in so far as suits were concerned but, unfortunately for his side, West chose the wrong heart to lead. A slave to habit, he led his fourth highest, and after that the fat was in the fire. East put in his ten spot, which held the trick, but now was helpless to defeat the contract. He thought disgustedly of laying down the heart ace and salvaging at least that trick, but this obviously was a give-up play and so, hoping against hope, he laid down the spade king to reduce dummy's ruffing power. Declarer won and ruffed a diamond, then discarded his two remaining hearts on high clubs. He then ruffed a heart and ruffed his last diamond with dummy's spade jack. After that it was just a case of conceding the spade queen and claiming the balance.

Admittedly, it usually is not correct or wise to lead the queen of a suit such as Q-9-6-2, but in this case West should have realized that that lead would be vital if the contract were to be defeated. The bidding strongly suggested that South's club was a singleton, since East hardly would have bid two no trump with less than three clubs to a ten spot [which would be little enough]. After South had shown up with the diamond ace and, probably, a six card spade suit for his rebid, the chances were very great that East had considerable heart strength to justify his strong two no trump bid. West knew very well that he himself never would get on lead again, now that his club ace had been removed, and should have realized that one heart lead through dummy's king would not suffice, unless it actually forced the king. The fourth highest lead would permit declarer to pass the trick into East's hand and East would be unable to capture the heart king. It was possible, of course, that East had two spade tricks and, in that case, only two hearts would be required to defeat the contract. But, even then, there could be no disadvantage to the lead of the heart queen, since East would have to have both the ace and jack to insure the defender's two heart tricks. If, on the other hand, East had only one trump trick, he would require the ace, jack, and ten of hearts.

Obviously, had West made the logical play of the heart queen the result would have been quite different. The defenders would have taken three heart tricks instead of one and these, with the club ace and trump trick, would have defeated the contract.

A Small Child Must Be Active to Be Healthy

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

An old time nurse in our family used to tell a fascinating folk tale of the south about a woman who was a witch. At night she'd shed her skin, hang it on a nail, change herself into any creature she wished and cavort about till dawn. Then, as daylight broke she'd return, slip into her skin, and appear as a nice respectable old crone! Well, the story goes on to tell with much dramatic detail, how a man who suspected her put salt in her temporarily discarded skin—and you can imagine the rest, when dawn arrived!

What brought that to my mind is the fact that I decided to begin this talk today by saying that I wished that some of us who are parents could shed our adult skins and magically enter that of a child. [There the connection with the story ends, of course!] If we did, one of the first things we'd be aware of would be that we'd find ourselves constantly, incessantly on the go. Activity is one of the first laws of a child's nature.

To be strongly conscious of this need of children is a great help in dealing with them, in directing their energy and in curing them of undesirable behavior.

In Sunday's and yesterday's article we were concerned chiefly with the boys and girls of the in between years and of the teens.

We were pointing out, you may remember, that in taking away from a boy or girl some undesirable activity or in trying to break up an undesirable habit it was unwise simply to deprive them, to leave time loose and empty on their hands. You must see that they have something equally interesting, but wholesome to take the place of the one you don't like.

This same principle should be applied in the management of the baby or small child. We must accept the fact that the small child needs great activity, that he has certain legitimate desires.

33 DRIVERS SEEK $100,000 IN 500 MILE RACE TODAY

100,000 EXPECT NEW RECORDS IN 27TH CONTEST

Long Grind to Start at 11 o'Clock.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29.—Indianapolis tonight is the capital of the automobile world. From every state in the Union, cars, trains, and airplanes have been bringing in thousands of speed enthusiasts who tomorrow will jam the stands and infield at the two and a half mile speedway west of town for the twenty-seventh Memorial day 500 mile race.

After a parade of massed bands and drill corps, thirty-three low slung, brightly painted speedsters will be pushed on the track and wheeled into their places three abreast in eleven rows. At a signal, helmeted drivers in overalls of a variety of color schemes will worm into their deep bucket seats. Mechanics with batteries on toy wagons will start the unmuffled engines.

Tunney Will Send Them Away.

The resultant roar and the smell of burned oil drifting into the grandstands is an initial thrill in this contest for $100,000 in prizes to be witnessed by a crowd of between 100,000 and 140,000. Promptly at 11 o'clock [Chicago time], the boom of a starter's bomb will start the pace lap. Around the two and a half mile track the racers will parade, keeping their formations as they gain speed to about 90 miles an hour swinging back on the home stretch. Then Gene Tunney, honorary starter, will wave a green flag and into the first turn they'll go, their throttles wide open now, tires squealing and superchargers whining. Once into the backstretch the fight for position will begin.

Returning to the homestretch there will be some changes from the original lineup. As they zoom by time after time the field will spread over the two and a half mile loop. If you want to know who is leading you must be able to read a complicated scoreboard.

A Man Must Eat.

The crowd then will begin to lose interest. Families will open lunches, couples will buy beer and hot dogs and wander about the 600 acre inclosure.

There will be several thousand, however, who will keep their eyes glued to the track within their view. They are mainly crash fans. Speed alone can't command such concentration. After thirty or forty minutes the perception of speed is lost. A pace of 130 miles an hour no longer looks fast.

The probabilities are that there will be a crash or two this year. Whether any one will be killed is speculative. No one wants to make any speculations about it, especially when you know these healthy young men, most of them married. They will be out there, not solely for glory, but also to get some money to pay the grocery bills.

Only One Injury So Far.

In the previous twenty-six races here, there have been thirty-one fatalities during main events and qualification preliminaries. The preliminaries this year sent only one man to a hospital. Johnny Seymour of Detroit is recovering from gaso-

Which Is the True American?

His name comes from the pilgrims,
His speech is plain and pure,
He aims to "clear up" matters
By an anti-racial lure;
He finds fault with the anthem,
The flag could be improved,
He wants our freedom ended,
Democracy removed.

Another speaks poor English,
His eyes are large and clear,
He's learned the national anthem,
Is tickled pink he's here;
To him the flag is glorious,
His few words can't impart
How much he loves this freedom,
How joy-filled is his heart.

—Insurance Exchange Will.

Requiescant in Pace.

They have for these long years slept peacefully—
The last reward for gallant men and brave,
Who pledged their lives to save democracy,
Their pledge fulfilled—they rest within the grave.

The visions of their mortal dreams have turned Into a hope for universal peace—
They paid the price on battlefields that churned
With pain, and death that had but one release.

That from their hush'd throats freedom's battle cry
Will be the song that we will take with us
In peace or war through all the years that fly;
"God save our flag and nation glorious!"

While for the dead our hearts this prayer will say:
"May peace be unto them upon this day."

—Anne C. Korpics.

Beneath a Wooden Cross.

A vivid scarlet poppy
That you and I have bought
Is a flaming poignant symbol
Of war—and men who fought.

A simple paper flower
That veterans have made
Can stir a host of memories
Of soldiers on parade.

A vivid scarlet poppy
Reminding us of loss,
And those who lie in Flanders
Beneath a wooden cross.

—Hilda Butler Farr.

To You!

To you, brave soldiers of the rolling years,
We bring again our homage and our tears;
You were young, holding life in high esteem—
Yet freely offered yours, the gift supreme,
That war should be erased from all the earth,
And Peace perpetual might have its birth:
To all such gallant youth in battle slain,
We pledge anew: "Your gift is not in vain!"

—Janet T. Van Osdel.

* *

Long May It Wave!

Who owns a flag should let its colors wave
Throughout our Land of Freedom, where the brave
Once fought a valiant fight for Liberty,
Which now is shared alike by you and me.

Let Freedom's Song be sung throughout our land
And patriots be lauded for their stand;
Let Stars and Stripes, in Land of Liberty,
Be held aloft for all the world to see.

—Maude H. McCrady.

The G. A. R.'s Parade.

The boys in blue are on parade,
With halting steps and slow;
To call the patriots of the past,
Once more the bugles blow.

The flag aloft, the drums' beat stirs
These loyal hearts and true;
The spirit of the old brigade,
Undaunted, lives anew.

A remnant of that mighty throng
That surged forth to the fray;
Methinks the shades of comrades gone
Are marching here today.

The boys in blue are on parade—
A nation bows its head
In honor of the living and
In memory of the dead.

—B. L. Bruce.

A World War Memorial.

Their death was not all loss,
Their mem'ry we revere,
Through sacrifice of life they taught
This lesson plain and clear:

Let Europe shed its blood;
Why mingle ours in vain?
In war there is no conqueror;
None but the peaceful gain.

—Ed Hoepe.

PREP REGATTA SET FOR JUNE 11 ON CHICAGO RIVER

Meet to Develop New Sport for Young Oarsmen.

A new water sports spectacle for Chicagoans, the first annual Blade and Paddle regatta, will be held on Sunday, June 11, sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., in cooperation with the Lincoln Park Boat club and the Chicago park district.

The regatta's major event will be the Chicago river interscholastic rowing championship, with senior and junior crews of four city high schools competing. The races will be held on the Chicago river between the new lock at the mouth of the river and the Michigan avenue bridge. It was selected because it is ideal for both competitors and spectators. Protected water forms a straight course for nearly a mile between the river entrance and the finish line at the boulevard bridge.

There is space for hundreds of thousands of spectators on both sides of the river along the course. The regatta will be free to the public.

Training Since March.

Manning the eight oared shells will be boys from Lane Tech, Amundsen, Lake View, and Waller high schools, eight crews in all, each having, of course, a coxswain. These lads and a score or more of substitutes have been training for the regatta since March.

Other events on the program will be races for paddlers in canoes and kayaks, and for oarsmen in 26 foot rowing cutters. The South Shore Canoe club, Columbia Canoe club, and Chicago council of the Sea Scouts of America will be represented.

The Lincoln Park Boat club, the city's only rowing organization, pioneered school boy rowing last year and its growth has been remarkable. Club officials approached athletic coaches at Lane and Amundsen and proposed organizing crews as the start of a program to make rowing a major sport. The plan was enthusiastically received and a number of husky youngsters soon were enjoying the thrill of rowing.

Lake View, Waller New.

After a series of informal races to acquaint the youngsters with competition and to improve their rowing technique, the club entered the two prep crews in the Central States rowing regatta held on the Lincoln park lagoon last July. The Lane crew won.

This spring crews were formed at Lake View and Waller. All training and racing have been in the Lincoln club's fleet of eight oared shells. Expansion is limited only by the number of shells available. It is hoped that the interscholastic race will lead to more Chicago schools taking up the sport next year.

The young oarsmen found that the sport calls for as much endurance and strength as the more strenuous land sports. Prep coaches, including those in the four participating schools, and others recognize rowing as a valuable addition to the sports program.

The favorable reaction to Chicago's experiment has reached out over the central states. School athletic officials in Madison and Milwaukee, Wis., and St. Louis, Mo., are watching it develop. It is possible that interscholastic rowing championships between prep crews in the central states area will be developed within a year or two.

Fight Decisions

At Marigold Gardens—Eddie Meleski knocked out Dick Kist [8]. Quentin [Babe] Breese stopped Meyer Alper [8]. Tommy Howell beat Russell Nyberg [4]. Andy Canal beat Billy Seward [1] Seward disqualified]. Rex Thomas knocked out Pete Atkins [3].

At New Orleans, La.—Leo Rodak beat Jimmy Perrin [10].

At Pittsburgh, Pa.—Dave Clark beat Al Gainer [10].

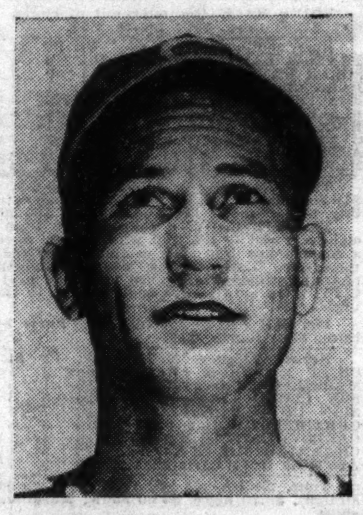
At Louisville, Ky.—Al Manfredo beat Johnny Durso [10].

At Columbus, O.—Charlie Belanger beat Harry Wills [10].

When the Cubs Can't Win They Trade

Claude Passeau, 28 year old right handed pitcher, is now a Cub. He came to the club from the Phillies yesterday in a trade which sent Outfielder Joe Marty and Pitchers Walter Higbe and Ray Harrell to Philadelphia.

And this is Joe Marty, who won a reputation as a slugger in the Pacific Coast league before coming to the Cubs in 1937.



Ray Harrell, pitcher, acquired from the Cardinals who also figured in the deal for Passeau.

This is Higbe, a youngster who has shown flashes of promise in his few appearances with the Cubs this spring.

Fannon, N. U. Golfer, Leads Big 10 Tourney

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Chase Fannon, a 19 year old Northwestern university sophomore, introduced himself to Western conference medal play competition yesterday by taking the thirty-six holes lead in the annual Big Ten tournament over the water course of the Kildeer Country club. Fannon, holding down the No. 4 position on the team, put together two par 72's for a total of 144, giving him a three stroke lead on the field entering today's concluding thirty-six holes.

Fannon's feat made up for a slight sagging in the game of Sid Richardson, the Northwestern captain, who is seeking to set a conference record by winning his third consecutive championship. Richardson, who needed an eighty to get around the morning eighteen, rallied in the afternoon for a seventy-one, the only sub-par round of the day. His comeback reminded golf fans of that with which he led last year's district qualifiers for the national amateur tournament, when he added a sixty-five to his morning seventy-five.

Purple Leads Team Battle.

Between Fannon's performance and Richardson's afternoon revival, Northwestern took a sixteen stroke edge in the fight for the team championship, awarded to that foursome from one school submitting the lowest aggregate for the 72 holes. The Wildcats had a 36 hole total of 599. Fannon's 72-72—144 was followed by Frank Perpich with 73-79—152; Richardson, 80-71—151 and Chester Bland, 74-78—152. Art Bedrosian, the fifth Northwestern entrant, shot 76-78—154.

In second place with 615 strokes at the half way mark was Michigan, five time champion before Northwestern broke its spell in 1937. Purdue's 629 was third, followed by Minnesota, which wrested the team title from Northwestern last year, and Iowa, each with 631. Other team totals included Wisconsin, 632; Illinois, 636; Ohio State, 637; Indiana, 644, and Chicago, 661.

Thomsen Three Shots Back.

Three shots back of Fannon in the individual standings was Will Thomsen of Iowa, who has done much to

Nova's Boxing Baer, but Louis Is on His Mind

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Nyack, N. Y., May 29.—Lou Nova today loafed through the first day of his unusually long wait before his test against Max Baer Thursday evening, bulwarked by complete confidence in himself. Despite his comparative inexperience—Nova has had only 26 professional bouts—Lou is positive he will win from Baer.

Strange as this may seem, Nova really believes his five weeks here is more in preparation for a bout with Champion Joe Louis, a match which certainly hinges on the outcome of the bout Thursday evening in Yankee stadium.

Nova was seated this morning under one of the large maples which circle the natural amphitheater behind the clubhouse, engrossed in the desultory conversation of a half score of guests. The talk ranged from fighting, tall tales of forgotten bouts, yesterday's golf scores, and what one should see at New York's World's Fair.

Trainer Dislikes Camp.

Naturally the conversation drifted to the heavyweight fight.

"You'll need a vacation after this training period," Dr. Pierre Bernard, owner of the club, told Ray Arcel, Nova's trainer. "Why not come back up here for a few days?"

The question was more in jest for Arcel is certain most any place would better serve than the club in which Nova has lived and worked for five weeks. He has said so.

"Well, I'll be back in September to train for Joe Louis," Nova said, before Arcel could answer the doctor.

The remark was so unexpected that we turned to see if Nova was smiling. Certainly it must have been facetious, but Lou was serious.

Nova is not a braggart. He seems more like a university athlete, a foot ball player away from the campus for

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., May 29.—Manager Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs announced after today's 6 to 3 defeat at the hands of the Cincinnati Reds that his club had obtained Pitcher Claude Passeau from the Phillies in exchange for Outfielder Joe Marty and Pitchers Walter Kirby Higbe and Ray Harrell. The deal is said to be, and should be, the forerunner of several others designed to keep the collapsed defending National league champions from falling into the second division.

Passeau, though hampered by the deficiencies of the Phillies during three years prior to this season, and on several occasions this season, has been rated one of the league's better right hand pitchers all the time he has been in the circuit. The Cubs apparently lose in the swap only fair prospects assumed to be possessed by Higbe on the basis of some fine relief work this spring.

Joe Couldn't Get Going.

Marty is the best known of the players of the trio sent to the Phillies, but on his record this year was an outstanding flop after mediocre years in 1937 and 1938. Reputed to be the equal of his former San Francisco team mate, Joe Di Maggio, when he was purchased by the Cubs, he batted .290 and fielded .976 in eighty-eight games in 1937, and last year in seventy-six games he batted only .243 and fielded .987. In the world series last year, however, he batted .500 against the Yankees, and was virtually the only Cub to show any power in the series.

In the spring exhibition season this year he was on a slugging rampage and many, including Manager Hartnett, expressed the belief: "Joe has found himself at last."

He knocked two homers in the opening series in St. Louis last month, both victory factors. Then he went into a slump that had him batting as low as .061 until recently.

Cubs Remember Claude.

Passeau, though far from a .500 pitcher with the Phillies, last showed his talent to some Cubs in Chicago last Wednesday when he dropped a typical tough luck decision to Larry French, 3 to 2, in Wrigley field. In the first five innings he struck out eight Cubs and held the champions to seven hits in nine innings. But he missed victory, despite the fact the first five Phillies in the seventh, including himself, singled.

The Cubs currently are a weaker team than the Phillies, but there is no precedent to indicate Passeau can

RUN TWO STAKE RACES TODAY AT LINCOLN FIELDS

Expect 15,000 to See Memorial Day Card.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Lincoln Fields ran off a program of all claiming races yesterday after an event for good grade 2 year olds had been canceled because of numerous scratches. Meanwhile, the track management prepared for today's double stake presentation which will bring out a field of well bred juveniles and also older horses.

The Memorial day card will see the youngsters perform in the Chicago Heights handicap, after which the elders will compete in the Francis S. Peabody Memorial handicap. Both stakes carry a $2,500 value.

Basing expectations on the big turnouts of opening day and Saturday, Lincoln Fields is getting set to handle at least 15,000 spectators today. Additional accommodations have been scheduled by both the Chicago and Eastern Illinois and the Illinois Central railroads.

Lady Transit Pays $19.80.

Those who like to shop around for long shots got some encouragement in the third race yesterday when Transit Lady came home a length and a half ahead of her nearest rival, Solar Hawk. E. K. Murphy's mare paid off at $19.80, $7.40, and $3.20. Her victory brought the value of the daily double up to $64.60, Colonel Ed having accounted for the first half at 2 to 1 odds.

Chief Menteur, which ran third in one of Saturday's events, showed himself to be a willing worker by coming back and winning the fourth event on yesterday's program. He had operated successfully during the Oaklawn Park meeting. Many people in the crowd decided he was due to return to his best form and backed him down to even money. He had little trouble drawing out to a good lead under light urging, holding Maskillo at a safe distance in the stretch.

His victory meant two winners in a row for George Wallace, who also had brought in Transit Lady. This carried Wallace into a tie with Warren Yarberry for leading jockey honors in the meeting to date. Each has won five. Yarberry had six mounts yesterday but the best he could do was a second place with I Chase and a third with Sky Cloud.

Leo Beyda got his fifth second place of the meeting when his Maleman finished behind Clyde Troutt's Polycletus in the fifth race. In addition to all those seconds, the Beyda stable has had one winner, Sure Swift.

Brilliant Rose Banned.

Troutt came right back with another strong threat in the sixth race in which his 10 year old mare, Butter Beans, almost got up in time to catch the Corn Husker stable's Transfun.

Brilliant Rose, entered by C. A. O'Neil Jr., ran so poorly in this race that the stewards announced she would not be allowed to go to the post again until track veterinarians had passed upon her fitness. She was far behind the field throughout.

The field in today's Chicago Heights handicap will include Rapid Way, Earlsboro, Centuple, and other good 2 year old colts and geldings.

The Peabody Memorial, which is a mile run for 3 year olds and up, will bring out Manie O'Hara which won a stake event Saturday, Burning Star, Dellor, Eagle Pass and others.

EUROPEAN DAVIS CUP SEMI-FINAL BRACKET FILLED

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Semi-final brackets in European zone Davis cup competition were filled yesterday when Belgium, Jugo-Slavia, and Germany came through to join England, which entered the round of four last Saturday.

In the upper half of the draw Belgium completed its sweep of all five matches against Norway, and will meet Jugo-Slavia, which sent Italy out, 3 to 2. Germany eliminated Sweden in the lower half and will meet England.

Roderich Menzel scored Germany's deciding point with a 2-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3 decision over Sweden's Karle Schroeder. The Jugo-Slavia-Italy series was decided by Ferenc Puncec's 13-11, 6-1, 6-8, 6-3 victory over Vannie Canepele after their match had been postponed from Sunday because of darkness.

The European and North American zone winners will meet, with the victor challenging the United States for the trophy at the Merion Cricket club, Sept. 2. Australia is the favorite in the North American zone.

THREADNEEDLE forced the early pace under strong restraint, raced to the front gradually and on the outside after reaching stretch, came away fast in last sixteenth and won with speed in reserve. PELTER had speed from the start, was nicely rated and held on fairly well but was no match for the winner. UPSLALA, well up early, dropped back on the turn, met interference entering the stretch and closed well on own courage.

COLONEL ED taken out for the better footing before going a quarter, took command under hustling tactics after reaching the turn, was under vigorous riding the entire final quarter, where he held I. CHASE safe but had little left. I. CHASE began fast, was steadied when unable to outrun COLONEL ED on the turn, stood a drive with good courage but was held safe. FLUKE, well up in the early stages, dropped back as if through soon after reaching the stretch but came again.

TRANSIT LADY, a sharp factor from the start and well in hand for almost five-eighths, raced to the lead with a rush when approaching the stretch, quickly opened up a commanding lead after coming out in the final quarter and held SOLAR HAWK safe thereafter. Latter, raced wide throughout and reserved off the early pace under stout restraint, rallied when called upon and held on in resolute fashion to the end. PARK CITY, away slowly, was badly outrun to the stretch, where he closed well under brisk urging.

CHIEF MENTEUR drew out gradually under light urging the first quarter, was steadied around the turn, increased his advantage entering the stretch and held sway thereafter. MASKILLO dropped back on the turn, was under vigorous riding after three-eighths and, closing in determined fashion, shook off SKY CLOUD in the late stages. Latter, in hand for almost a half mile, fought it out gamely in the drive.

POLYCLETUS took command quickly, was taken under a good hold before reaching the turn, raced wide the last three-eighths and, holding on well after being placed to pressure in the last eighth, held MALEMAN safe. Latter, always nearest in pursuit and raced wide, was under steady reserve for almost a half mile and hung on gamely but could not get to the winner. LADFIELD, raced wide after the opening quarter, gave an even performance.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Claiming. Four year olds and up. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25.

BRILLIANT ROSE [N.Pariso]	112	5	3	5	5	5	5	C.A.O'NeilJr.	5.00-1

Time, :25, :49 3-5, 1:16 3-5, 1:44 2-5, 1:52 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Transfun, $11.80 straight, $7.00 place, $5.00 show; Butter Beans, $5.00 place, $3.80 show; Isolene, $4.20 show.

TRANSFUN was under steadying restraint for three-quarters, gradually wore down ISOLENE and, strongly ridden the final eighth, stalled off BUTTER BEANS. The latter also restrained for about three-quarters, and, closing resolutely, was slowly getting swung to extreme outside in the stretch to the winner. ISOLENE was taken in hand after rushing into a long lead in the first quarter, continued easily to the last three-eighths, but failed to rally when called upon and weakened in the final furlong.

SEVENTH RACE—Six furlongs. Claiming. Three year olds and up. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time, :24 1-5, :49 1-5, 1:16 3-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Shasta Plucky, $15.60 straight, $7.20 place, $4.60 show; Ideal Fungi, $4.00 place, $2.80 show; Rollingheels, $2.60 show.

SHASTA PLUCKY, fractious at the post but away fast, was straightened up several times as he attempted to swerve to the inside in the first five-sixteenths, drew out on the turn, withstood IDEAL FUNGI'S challenge in the stretch and came away fast in the late stages. IDEAL FUNGI, under a snug hold for a half mile, offered only a mild challenge when placed to a light drive and weakened in the last eighth but held ROLLINGHEELS safe. The latter raced wide and kept in hand until straightened out in the stretch, did not rally to punishment and faltered in the last eighth. SHERRY B raced very wide. MADAM GRAY had no mishaps.

EIGHTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Claiming. Four year olds and up. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time, :26 1-5, :51 2-5, 1:18, 1:45, 1:58. Two dollar mutuels paid: Silver Kiev, $6.80 straight, $4.00 place, $3.20 show; Patan, $4.60 place, $3.60 show; Queenie, $4.00 show.

SILVER KIEV took command after a quarter under steady reserve, continued in hand to the final quarter, drew out gradually under light urging and won with something left. PATAN, a strong factor from the start, was in hand to the final quarter, responded when called upon but did not seriously menace the winner and weakened near the end. QUEENIE was under a strong hold for about three-quarters, held on only briefly after being placed to vigorous riding and weakened in the last three-sixteenths.

RIVAL POLOISTS READY FOR LAST PRACTICE GAMES

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—Plans for the last practice sessions were announced today by officials in charge of the international polo matches which will start at Meadowbrook on Sunday. Both British and American teams are to play warmup games Wednesday on Meadowbrook fields.

The American team plays once more with the same lineup, Mike Phipps, Cecil Smith, Tommy Hitchcock, and Winston Guest. The British are trying a new lineup, decided upon following their game last Sunday. John Lakin, who contributed so much to the team which opposed the Britons on Sunday, has replaced Aidan Roark in the lineup and goes to No. 2. Gerald Balding goes back to No. 3, where he played earlier in practice, Bob Skene remains at No. 1 and Eric Tyrrell-Martin at back.

The Britons will have opposing them Hasketh Hughes of their squad, James P. Mills, Terence Preece, and Raymond Guest.

The American team is planning to play against Ebby Gerry, Pete Bostwick, Aidan Roark, and Billy Post. It doesn't seem probable now that any further change will be made in the American lineup except for injury.

KIST KNOCKED OUT BY MELESKI IN EIGHTH ROUND

Eddie Meleski, Catholic Youth organization 155 pound fighter, scored one of the biggest upsets of the year by knocking out Dick Kist, last year's Danville Golden Gloves welterweight winner, in the final round of an eight round bout in Marigold Gardens last night.

Kist was ahead on points when the eighth round started and the 979 spectators didn't believe Meleski would last. Shortly after the round opened Eddie landed a right to the jaw which buckled Kist's knees, then crashed another right to the chin which floored his opponent for a nine count. Another right dropped Kist for the second time. He regained his feet at nine only to suffer a third knockdown. This time he was unable to beat Referee Norman McGarity's count. The time was 2 minutes 45 seconds.

In a secondary feature of eight rounds Quentin [Babe] Breese, Manhattan, Kas., junior welterweight, stopped Meyer Alper of Montreal, Que., in the last round.

Andy Canal, Chicago featherweight, snapped Billy Seward's string of six victories when he was awarded a disputed decision in the first round of a scheduled four round supporting match. Referee Sikora disqualified Seward "for hitting Canal while he was down." In other contests Tommy Howell, substituting for Alex Pug, whipped Russell Nyberg in four rounds, and Rex Thomas knocked out Pete Atkins in three.

Important New Findings Show How to Reduce Fatigue

ONE of the most interesting of recent developments in the field of nutritional science is the finding that muscular endurance can be increased and fatigue postponed by merely adding to the daily diet a small amount of plain, unflavored Knox Gelatine. This highly concentrated food contains certain food elements which, it has been found, can be stored in the muscle tissues themselves. Thus this added supply of energy food is available for immediate use as the muscles require it.

While this might seem of most immediate interest to athletes, actually it is of almost equal importance even to desk workers. They have more physical energy left for golf, tennis, dancing or other health-giving forms of recreational exercise.

Empty one envelope of Knox Gelatine in a glass three-quarters filled with cold water or fruit juice (or half water and half fruit juice). Let the liquid absorb the gelatine. Then stir briskly and drink immediately before it thickens. Take four times a day for two weeks, then reduce to two envelopes a day. (May be taken before or after meals.)

Pure Knox Gelatine doesn't affect appetite or digestion. Most people see a noticeable improvement within two weeks (some within one week) and feel the full effect before the end of the first month.

How many sets of tennis can you play?

KNOX SPARKLING GELATINE

How to take Knox Gelatine

CAUTION! Be sure you use the plain, unflavored Knox Gelatine which you can get at any grocery. Knox is the gelatine on which the tests were made. Do not accept any substitute. Factory-flavored gelatine desserts will not do because they contain only about 10% gelatine. For further information, write for Bulletin E, Knox Gelatine Co., Johnstown, N. Y., Dept. 11.

YANKEES FLAUNT POWER AGAINST RED SOX; WIN, 6-1

Champions Increase Lead to 6½ Games.

Boston, Mass., May 29.—(AP)—Proving that they are as apt defensively as offensively, the Yankees increased their lead in the American league today to six and a half games, whipping the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 1. The Yankees made four double plays.

Bump Hadley started for the Yanks and though he was relieved after staying seven innings, he was credited with his fourth straight victory. He yielded only three hits, but walked eight. The world champions, stretching their winning streak to six straight, made nine hits off Jim Bagby, Joe Heving, and Jake Wade. Score:

Pirates Whip Cards, 7 to 0, with Klinger

St. Louis, Mo., May 29.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates shoved the St. Louis Cardinals three games behind Cincinnati today and moved into third place with a 7 to 0 shutout behind the eight hit pitching of Bob Klinger.

The Cardinals executed the first triple play in the majors this season in the first inning. With runners on first and second, Rizzo bounced to Don Gutteridge, who touched third, then threw to Stu Martin, forcing the man at second, and Martin's throw to first caught Rizzo. Score:

SPARTAS MEET MANHATTANS IN TROPHY FINAL

The Sparta and Manhattan Brewers will meet today in the finals for the Cermak Memorial trophy in the Sparta stadium, 21st street and Kostner avenue.

The Brewers won the western title and Sparta came back to win the Peel cup after being defeated in national competition by the Morgan Sport club of Pittsburgh.

WHITE SOX MEET TIGERS TODAY IN DOUBLE-HEADER

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The White Sox, who thus far in the American league race have been playing with enough skill to keep ahead of all except the Yankees and Red Sox, will be back on their home lot this afternoon. Their homecoming job, starting at 1:30 p. m., will be a double-header Memorial day attraction with Detroit's Tigers and while they are engaged in this extra labor the Sox may be distracted a bit by having to keep one eye on what Cleveland's Indians are doing. The Indians are only a half lap behind.

The escape from the first long voyage of the season was accomplished with better results than anticipated by those who didn't consider James Dykes' entry as a first division proposition. They lost two of three in Boston, two straight to the Yankees in New York, won two in the Washington series, another in Philadelphia in the night battle and dropped two of three in Cleveland. That's five victories against six defeats.

Maybe It's Chicago's Climate.

If there is any doubt about the Sox being somewhat in the same fix as the Cubs, except the Sox are not any kind of champions except municipal, it can be dispelled by a glance at the official figures. The Sox are seventh as a team in their circuit as bat wielders. They have fellows like Joe Kuhel, Luke Appling, and Gerry Walker hitting over the .300 mark, but thereafter there is quite a drop. Mike Kreevich, for instance, is hitting a bashful .240 and Rip Radcliff, currently the third regular outfielder, is still far behind his customary pace with about .218.

Further evidence of the Sox's current weakness in scoring runs is provided by their experiences during the two weeks abroad. In eight games against the four eastern clubs they scored only twenty-nine times but, nevertheless, won half these decisions.

Knott and Lyons Pitch.

Because both Kreevich and Radcliff have hitting reputations established by several years of service, there is some reason to expect the pair will pick up. There also is some basis for figuring that the quantity of pitching available for Dykes' orders will increase. John Whitehead has been a flop but there always is hope in his case. Jack Knott has flashed only in a couple spots, but is too good a pitcher to be stopped all the time. He will have another chance today, Ted Lyons being assigned for the other game. And it may not be long before Vic Frasier, who has done two relief jobs since his spring training trip accident, will be ready to make a start.

FANNON, PURPLE GOLFER, LEADS IN BIG TEN TOURNEY

make the Hawkeyes the surprise of the Big Ten season.

Thomsen added an afternoon 73 to his first round of 74 for 147. Capt. John David of Purdue, who last week won the Indiana collegiate title with a final round of 66, held down third place with 73—77—150.

Four Shoot 152.

Then came Richardson with his 151, followed by four 152 shooters, including Perpich, Bland, Capt. Bob Palmer of Michigan, and Jim Loar, also of the Wolverines. Hank Skow of Iowa had 75—78—153.

In the morning round Fannon drew his first birdie at the fourth with a twelve foot putt, but three putted the next green. He trapped his second at the ninth, then holed a thirty foot try for a deuce on the thirteenth. A chip to within two inches at the 463 yard fourteenth presented him with another birdie, but he drove out of bounds at the seventeenth. He amended this with a birdie at the eighteenth by holing a chip shot from fifteen yards off the green.

Gets 15 Pars in Afternoon.

His afternoon card showed fifteen pars, a bogey, and two birdies. The bogey was a five at the par three second, where he three putted after bunkering his tee shot. He had only a three footer for his deuce at the short thirteenth and was on the fourteenth in two for his finishing thrust at par.

Nova's Boxing Baer, but Louis Is on His Mind

a Friday afternoon workout before a critical game. Center of observation and attention, Nova remains friendly and completely natural.

We had been warned that he was beginning a pose for publicity modeled on the Gene Tunney's fight camp studies which the sport pages spotlighted until Gene even fancied himself as a bit of an authority on Shakespeare. We are convinced Nova has no such intention.

Lou has had more formal schooling than the average fighter. He completed one year at a junior college, and studied a portion of another at California Agricultural college. Here he has a library of more than a thousand books from which to select.

He Likes Poetry.

When we encountered Lou on the winding drive behind the library and club rooms, center for the activities of this health resort, we brazenly asked to see the title of the book he had in hand.

"Poetry eh!" we said with most sarcastic inflection, "poetry?"

"I do like poetry," Lou answered in simple statement, rather than defense. That he made no other explanation ended that.

Trainer Arcel doesn't believe Baer can lambast Nova as the Livermore loud speaker publicly predicts he will.

"The first five rounds," Arcel confided, "will give me the answer to the fight. If Nova will just follow instructions, he will set a fast pace, jab and jab, and make Baer hustle. The last rounds will find Lou the master."

Arcel is worried. "Anything can happen in a fight, Lou's all right, but the kid may get stage fright."

MILLS, SPENCERS MEET TODAY IN DOUBLE-HEADER

The Mills, leaders in the Tri-State Baseball league, will play their north side rivals, the Spencer Coals, in a double-header in Mills stadium, Lake street and Kilpatrick avenue, this afternoon.

Bill [Lefty] Stevens, who has yielded only one run and six hits in twenty innings, will pitch the opener for the Coals.

Picard Wins in Playoff in Metropolitan Open Golf

White Plains, N. Y., May 29.—[Special.]—The Metropolitan open tournament which has been going on continuously since last Thursday was concluded today with Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., winner over Paul Runyan, Metropolis club pro, by two strokes. In the second playoff today Picard gained his second grip on the 32 year old trophy when he went over the 6,800 yard course in 69 strokes against a par 71 by the P. G. A. champion.

line burns received when he crashed into a wall on a turn a week ago.

There's every indication that speed in the sprints will be greater than ever before. Whether the record average for the 500 miles will be broken will depend upon how often the pace is slowed by wrecks. The cars are faster and the track is faster than a year ago when Floyd Roberts of Van Nuys, Cal., won with the record speed of 117.2 miles an hour.

Roberts believes he will better this speed tomorrow. Other former champions also in the lineup and also optimistic are Louis Meyer of Huntington Park, Cal., winner in 1928, 1933, and 1936; Wilbur Shaw of Indianapolis, the 1937 winner, and Kelly Petillo of Los Angeles, the 1935 victor. They'll have lots of competition in their efforts to repeat. And so much depends upon whether they escape accidents and whether their cars hold together under their sustained maximum power output.

Outside the eight gates this morning there were queues of automobiles parked twenty-four hours before the opening. Families, in some instances, and young men in others, were camping by the roadside to get favorable positions inside.

Why do they do it? You might also ask why folks of modest or low incomes pay $2.75 for admission and many also buy a seat at prices ranging from $1 to $10 additional. The answer is probably that this is a big day in Hoosierdom.

PASSEAU COMES TO CUBS; THREE GO TO PHILLIES

not hope for better support than he has had in Philadelphia.

Passeau, who is a raw boned native of Mississippi, is 6 feet 3 inches tall and weighs 197 pounds. He was born in Waynesboro, April 9, 1911, and now makes his winter home in Lucedale, Miss.

Higbe has won two and lost one this season. He was brilliant in relief work, but sagged badly when given starting chances. Harrell, who came to the Cubs for cash last winter, has a 1939 record of no victories and two defeats.

The Cubs, who blew one game in the eighth inning and another in the ninth when they visited these warming shores earlier this season, followed precedent this afternoon with a five run ascension in the eighth. The Cubs scored two runs in the ninth, but nobody in the crowd of 9,616 got very scared.

The 1 to 1 tie, which prevailed at the time of the blow-up, was the result of a homer by Hartnett in the fifth and a lively Red fifth inning which some sort of a new high was set for umpirical confusion. Before Cincinnati had tied the score, Manager Hartnett announced the game would be continued under protest as a result of counter decisions on one play by Umpires George Magerkurth and Bill Stewart.

Gabby Blasts One.

Hartnett's homer opened the fifth inning. G. Russell, Dick Bartell, and Lee, who was destined to suffer his sixth loss of the season and his third in a row, then supplied easy outs.

Then came the cause of the protest. Slow moving Ernie Lombardi smashed a hit off the left field concrete wall at the start of the home fifth. The ball bounced to Bartell in short left and Dick threw to Herman, who apparently accomplished an easy tag of Lombardi at second.

Bill Stewart, third base umpire, ran near second and with one of those lavish leaps into the air, waved Lombardi out. On the other side of second Magerkurth was just as widely motioning Lombardi safe. You can imagine the scene that followed. Magerkurth, who broke the Reds' winning twelve game streak yesterday by waving home the winning run on a balk, insisted the play was his. So Lombardi was safe on a double and Hartnett, after throwing his mask from second to first base, announced the formal protest. Craft followed with a single, Lombardi stopping at third. Bordagaray grounded to Herman and Lombardi was run down, but Myers doubled to center, scoring Craft with the tying run. Grissom flied to Reynolds and Bordagaray was doubled at the plate.

Then Came Disaster.

The 1 to 1 tie prevailed until the eighth, when four singles, a late fielder's choice play, an error by Bartell, four hits off Lee, a wild pitch by Earl Whitehill and a single by Lombardi gave the Reds five runs and the game.

After two were out in the ninth Reynolds doubled, the fourth hit off Grissom, and scored when Myers made a two base wild throw on Hartnett. G. Russell then singled Hartnett home.

FRENCH, PAGE TO PITCH

Cincinnati, O., May 29. — Larry French will oppose Whitey Moore in tomorrow morning's game between the Cubs and the Reds. Vance Page and Bucky Walters are slated to hook up in the afternoon encounter. The morning game will start at 10 o'clock.

Frank Lane, Reds' assistant general manager, forecasts a crowd of 12,000 at the morning game and a near capacity turnout of 30,000 in the afternoon. Attendance at eighteen home games prior to today's was 194,727, against 109,892 in the first eighteen home games last year, a gain of 84,835.

INTERNATIONAL GENEVA ASSOCIATION VOTES MEISTER BRÄU 6 to 1 CHOICE

WHEN members of the Chicago Branch of the International Geneva Association met for their regular monthly pinochle tournament they were asked to taste Meister Bräu Beer and compare it with other brands. These men who hold important positions in Chicago hotels, clubs, or restaurants voted 26 to 4 for Meister Bräu as their first choice.

The International Geneva Association takes its name from the time honored training school for dining room service and management located at Geneva, Switzerland. In the picture, taken between deals, are shown C. Roberts, Max Graf, Chairman House Committee International Geneva Club, Rich Wunderlich, and Rudolph R. Hochsinger as they taste and compare.

WE COULD SAVE TIME AND MONEY BY ADDING SUGARS AND SYRUPS BUT WE WON'T CHANGE OUR OLD-TIME, ALL-GRAIN FLAVOR

Independent Investigator Finds the Reason for the Public's Swing to This Beer

To learn what brand of bottled beer leads in sales, Chicago newspapers obtained figures from leading beer retailers. These reports showed Meister Bräu way out in front by from 2 to 1 to 10 to 1. The Reuben H. Donnelley Corporation was asked to check on this amazing popularity and find out the reason for it, by holding taste-and-compare tests where groups of men and women gather.

These tests show that the old-time, all-grain flavor of Meister Bräu gives it this astonishing preference both with those who remember what beer used to be, and with those who appreciate top quality in beer.

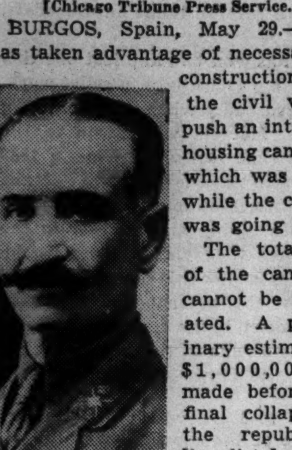
FRANCO TO FORCE WAR PRISONERS TO BUILD HOMES

Pushes Housing Campaign All Over Spain.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BURGOS, Spain, May 29.—Spain has taken advantage of necessary reconstruction after the civil war to push an intensive housing campaign which was begun while the conflict was going on.



Gen. Gonzalo Queipo de Llano [housing leader].

The total cost of the campaign cannot be estimated. A preliminary estimate of $1,000,000,000 made before the final collapse of the republicans [loyalists], not including Madrid or cities in the territory held by the republicans in March, probably will have to be doubled. That does not include rehousing other than replacement of homes damaged in the war.

Housing in Spain was backward before the war. The Nationalists are determined to bring it up to date. It will cost a vast sum, but much of the labor can be provided at low cost by prisoners of war or men who otherwise would be unemployed.

Sets Up Living Standard.

Generalissimo Franco's government has set up standards regarding overcrowding and habitable places. Every landlord must be able to show a certificate of habitability to prove that the houses he rents are fit for human use.

In the country a health register of rural dwellings has been established and provincial inspectors have been ordered to make surveys of their districts. Plans have been drafted for suitable one family houses and others to house several families.

Gen. Gonzalo Queipo de Llano gets much credit in Spain for the initiative he has taken in Seville in providing good low cost housing.

Forces Payment of Rents.

At the beginning of the war housing conditions in Seville were bad for tenants and landlords alike. Many tenants had taken advantage of the troubled period before the war to drop behind in payments of rent. Landlords, short of money for lack of rent, had neglected to make repairs.

Queipo forced payment of rents by the more prosperous tenants. Since it was obvious the poorer workers could not make up their arrears, he imposed a levy in August, 1936, on the owners of better class dwellings to pay much of the arrears to owners who had been unable to collect rents.

He then turned his attention to providing more new homes.

Puts Unemployed to Work.

Seville had one "garden city" [a model housing development], but mismanagement and disagreement among builders, creditors, and management had reduced the enterprise to a state of chaos. For months only 10 per cent of the rent due had been paid. Queipo managed to straighten that out by the beginning of 1937.

In the Amate district, which he nicknamed the "United States" because of its mixed population, was the worst slum area. Under an order issued Sept. 7, 1936, Queipo put hundreds of unemployed to work building new dwellings at low wages, most of the funds coming from the city council. By July, 1937, 6,000 slum dwellers had been rehoused. The work is still going ahead.

All over Spain plans are going ahead to make rehousing and improvement of general housing conditions keep step with the work of rebuilding devastated areas.

AUTO HITS SQUAD CAR AND FLEES; OCCUPANT SHOT

Policemen Harold Stewart and John Naddy of the Gresham station fired two shots last night at a hit and run automobile as it speeded away after ramming their squad car at 85th and Halsted streets. Stewart was slightly hurt. Half an hour later Byron Young Jr., 21, 8044 Union avenue, son of a rapid transit lines motorman, returned home suffering from a bullet graze on the neck. His father notified police.

Young said he had accepted a ride with a casual acquaintance. During the ride, he said, their car struck the squad car. In spite of Young's insistence that they stop, his acquaintance sped away, he said. The acquaintance is being sought.

Japs Estimate China's War Casualties at 2,300,000

TOKIO, May 29.—(AP)—Imperial Japanese headquarters estimated today that the Chinese had suffered 2,300,000 casualties between the start of the Chinese-Japanese conflict on July 7, 1937, and April, 1939. A statement said that 936,345 bodies of Chinese had been counted on battlefields. The Japanese death toll was set at 59,988, but no mention was made of the number of wounded or ill soldiers.

HO! HO! HO! AND HOW DOES DONA DOLORES' HERO FEEL TODAY? DOES HE RESPOND AS YET TO YOUR SO TENDER MINISTRATIONS?
A LITTLE, I THINK—BUT FOR ONE WHO HAD SO NEARLY REACHED THE END, RECOVERY IS SLOW—
OF COURSE—BUT WE HAVE TIME—SO FAR NO WORD OF THAT ACCURSED WARBUCKS—SO THIS MAD WANDERER COMES AS A WELCOME INTERLUDE—HA—AND AS A PROFITABLE ONE, TOO, EH?
AH, ALL THINGS COME TO AXEL—IT IS MY FATE—IMAGINE—EVEN HERE A FORTUNE SEEKS ME OUT—THIS ADDLED ONE—HE POSSESSES THE SECRET OF A FABULOUSLY RICH PLATINUM DEPOSIT—AND HE BRINGS IT TO AXEL—
HA! YET YOU SAW NOT THE LITTLE SACK HE CLUTCHED—YOU WOULD HAVE HAD HIS CARCASS THROWN TO THE BUZZARDS, BUT FOR ME—
TRUE—YOU ARE CLEVER—AND YOU SHALL BE REWARDED—I, AXEL, PROMISE IT—

U. S. TRAFIC TOLL IS 2,210 IN APRIL; SAFETY SET BACK

Blame Carelessness on Rural Highways.

A total of 2,210 persons was killed in trafic accidents in the United States during April, the National Safety council reported yesterday. This was forty fewer than the number killed in April, 1938, but represented a proportionately slower pace in trafic safety since improvement started in November, 1937.

During the preceding seventeen months the decline in fatalities never had been less than 9 per cent a month, while it was only 2 per cent last month. The safety council blamed the setback on carelessness in driving and walking on rural highways.

Toll Decreases in Cities.

In the cities last month fatal accidents decreased 9 per cent, compared with the same month in 1938. Deaths on rural highways increased 3 per cent. The death toll for the first four months of 1939 was 8,600, or 870 fewer than in the corresponding period last year.

Reanie Allen, 7 years old, 1968 Lincoln avenue, died of injuries incurred when she was struck by an automobile yesterday in the 1900 block of Sedgwick street. The car was driven by Thomas Nolan of 1409 North Wells street.

Killed in Indiana.

Mrs. Margaret Schukraft, 60 years old, 1320 North State street, was killed yesterday near Winamac, Ind. Her husband, William, was severely injured. Their car collided with one driven by the Rev. W. K. Aiken, 614 Laurel street, Elgin. The Rev. Mr. Aiken and his wife were seriously injured.

U to 4 p. m. yesterday 342 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 269 were killed in Chicago, where 7,963 were injured in the same period.

PLANS CHANGED FOR SALVAGE OF SUBMARINE HULK

Portsmouth, N. H., May 29.—[Special.]—The navy today was forced to abandon its hopes of refloating the sunken submarine Squalus at the point fifteen miles from Porthmouth where it went down in 240 feet of water with a loss of twenty-six lives. The intense cold at that depth, which benumbed the hands of divers after only a few minutes, forced the officers in charge of the salvage work to change their plans.

It was announced that air will be pumped into the submarine to give it partial bouyancy, so it can be towed to shallower water, nearer the shore. There divers may work free of the strain of the cold and tremendous pressure. Previous discussions of methods of accomplishing such a move indicate that enough water will be expelled from the flooded compartments of the vessel to help lift it out of the mud and facilitate towing it.

Bodies of the twenty-six victims still are in the flooded compartments and will not be removed until the vessel is raised, it is believed.

LEONARD MEYER OF MILWAUKEE DIES AT AGE 52

Milwaukee, Wis., May 29.—[Special.]—Leonard J. Meyer, 52 years old, one of the founders of the Meyer News service and a former Milwaukee newspaperman, died at his home last night. He was a 32d degree Mason and editor of the Tripoli Tattler, monthly publication of the Tripoli shrine, and of the Wisconsin Consistory Messenger, magazine of the Scottish Rite Masons.

With his brother, John L., secretary of the Inland Daily Press association of Chicago, Leonard Meyer organized the news service devoted to the distribution of business news. Two other brothers, Eric C. and Carl F., both were associated with him in business.

Besides his brothers, he is survived by his widow, his mother, and three sisters, Mrs. William J. Andersen, Mrs. Bryant Henning, and Mrs. S. J. Block, all of Milwaukee. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at the Scottish Rite cathedral.

AUTOISTS URGED TO KEEP DEATH OFF ROADS TODAY

Chicagoans who will be returning to the city this evening after Memorial day outings were warned yesterday by the Greater Chicago Safety council to drive slowly and carefully.

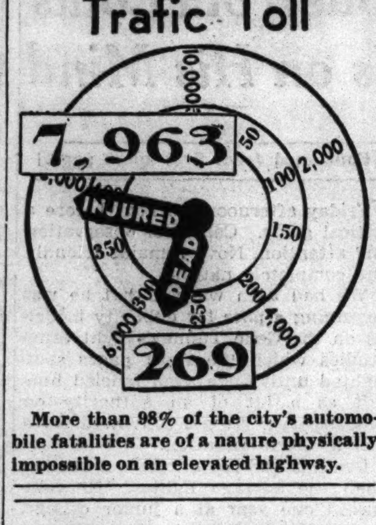
"Highways will be crowded with thousands of cars," said George Traver, manager of the council. "Under these conditions trafic accidents and deaths occur. Chicago will be one of the most unusual cities in the nation if no one gets killed on the highways during the next twenty-four hours."

Travers advised an early start home as the best means of avoiding congestion.

HOTEL MANAGER ROBBED.

Sam De Grass, manager of the Alden Inn hotel, 4526 Sheridan road, was robbed of $600 yesterday by three bandits in front of 1109 North Homan avenue.

THE MASSACRE Chicago's 1939 Trafic Toll



More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

JAMES A. FREAR, EX-CONGRESSMAN, DIES IN CAPITAL

Washington, May 29.—[Special.]—Former Representative James A. Frear of Hudson, Wis., who served continuously for twenty years as representative of the 10th congressional district, retiring voluntarily in 1934, died of a heart attack in Emergency hospital last night. He was 77 years old.

Mr. Frear, who was a Republican, is survived by his widow, his son, Philip A. Frear of Bethesda, Md., and a daughter, Mrs. Allen Johnson, of New York City.

Funeral services will be held at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Burial will be in the National cemetery at Arlington, Va.

Since his retirement from congress Mr. Frear had practiced law here. He was city attorney of Hudson [Wis.] in 1894-5. Subsequently he served as district attorney of St. Croix county, as a member of the Wisconsin state assembly, the state senate, and as secretary of state of Wisconsin from 1907 to 1913. He was long active in the Wisconsin National Guard, in which he rose to the grade of colonel.

A JUDGE WRITES HAPPY ENDING ON STORY OF 3 BEARS

The plight of three bears was solved yesterday by Judge Eugene L. McGarry in the Chicago Avenue court. He freed their caretaker, Henry Mathews, 39 years old, on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Mathews was arrested Sunday night for smashing the door to the room of August Meyers at 18 West Illinois street. He said he was looking for his wife, Mamie, 39.

"Who's going to take care of Martha, Mary, and Rosie?" Mathews asked in the police station.

Police learned that the three are bears. They belong in a circus act but aren't working at present. They are in a truck at 635 North Clark street. Mathews lives in the truck.

CITY TO ASK BIDS ON LOOP SUBWAY SECTOR JUNE 6

Advertising for bids to bore the State street subway in the loop will start on June 6, Ralph H. Burke, deputy subway commissioner, announced yesterday. The section, known as S-3, will extend from Wacker drive to 11th street. Bids will be opened July 6.

Burke said that the use of giant cylindrical steel shields, 25 feet in diameter, will be specified to minimize the possibility of soil settlement.

Bids for section S-4-B, which will extend north under State street from the river to Illinois street, will be opened Thursday, Burke announced. Previous bids for this section were rejected as too high.

WHO DROVE CAR? PAIR DISAGREE; BOTH ARE FINED

James Fitzgerald of South Bend couldn't deny that he had knocked a stop sign down at Ashland and Winona avenues when he faced Judge Thomas A. Green in Safety court yesterday. The judge said the fine would be $50 for leaving the scene of an accident. But Miss Dorothy Martin of 1453 Berteau avenue came to Fitzgerald's defense. She said she had been driving the car. Fitzgerald insisted that he had been the driver, but she wouldn't give up. The judge said that if they couldn't agree, he'd just fine them each $50. And he did. Fitzgerald, who is 29 years old, paid both fines. Miss Martin is 21.

COLORED WOMAN SHOT.

Dorothy Scott, 23 years old, colored, 6128 South Michigan avenue, received a minor scalp wound last night when an unidentified Negro fired a shot in front of her home.

RULE STATE CAN LAY TAX BEYOND ITS BOUNDARIES

Power Is Upheld, but High Court Splits.

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—Dividing sharply in its opinions, the United States Supreme court ruled today that a state's taxing power does not always end at its boundaries.

William O. Douglas, new justice, votes with majority.

The tribunal held by a 5 to 4 vote that New York could collect an inheritance tax on a $265,767 trust fund held by the Denver National bank for Mrs. Katherine H. Brown, who was a resident of New York at her death in 1931. Colorado already has collected a $15,653 transfer tax.

In another 5 to 4 split, the court ruled that Alabama could levy death taxes on an Alabama trust fund which was part of the estate of Mrs. Grace C. Scales, who was a resident of Nashville, Tenn., at the time of her death in 1936. The trust was held by the Title Guarantee Loan and Trust company of Birmingham, Ala.

Jersey Case Decided.

State lines were involved also in a suit in which the justices ruled, 8 to 1, that Newark, N. J., could levy a personal property assessment on the capital stock of insurance companies incorporated in New Jersey but maintaining operating headquarters in New York. Two opinions were delivered in the New Jersey case, eight justices concurring in the result but dividing evenly on the method of reasoning. Justice McReynolds dissented.

Justice Stone wrote both inheritance tax opinions. He was joined by Justices Black, Reed, Frankfurter, and Douglas.

Chief Justice Hughes wrote the dissent in the New York-Colorado case. With him were Justices McReynolds, Roberts, and Butler, who wrote the Alabama-Tennessee dissent. It was the first dissenting opinion by Hughes in more than two years.

Court's View Outlined.

Stone said in the New York case that the court "cannot say that the legal interest of decedent in the intangibles [securities] held in trust in Colorado was so dissassociated from her person as to be beyond the taxing jurisdiction of the state of her domicile."

In the Alabama-Tennessee suit the Tennessee Supreme court had ruled that Tennessee could collect taxes on that part of Mrs. Scales' estate held in Alabama, but that Alabama could not. Overruling this, the high tribunal said:

"We can find nothing in the history of the fourteenth amendment and no support in reason, principle, or authority for saying that it prohibits either state, in the circumstances of this case, from laying the tax. On the contrary this court, in sustaining the tax at the place of domicile in a case like the present, has declared that both the decedent's domicile and that of the trusteee are free to tax."

May Affect Green Case.

This case immediately aroused interest because of the possible effect it might have on the $36,137,335 estate of Col. Edward H. R. Green, son of Hetty Green, famous woman financier.

Massachusetts, New York, Florida, and Texas contended for the right to tax the Green estate. The first issue—Green's legal domicile—was decided in favor of Massachusetts by the Supreme court on March 13.

One lawyer familiar with the case said he regarded today's decision as opening the way for New York to attempt imposition of transfer taxes on about $30,000,000 of securities held in that state, while at the same time Massachusetts might endeavor to lavy on them despite their being held in New York.

Case Held Highly Important.

The New Jersey case was regarded in legal circles as of great potenial importance. Counsel for the insurance companies involved in the case said it would affect "countless numbers" of corporations which are chartered in New Jersey but do most of their business elsewhere.

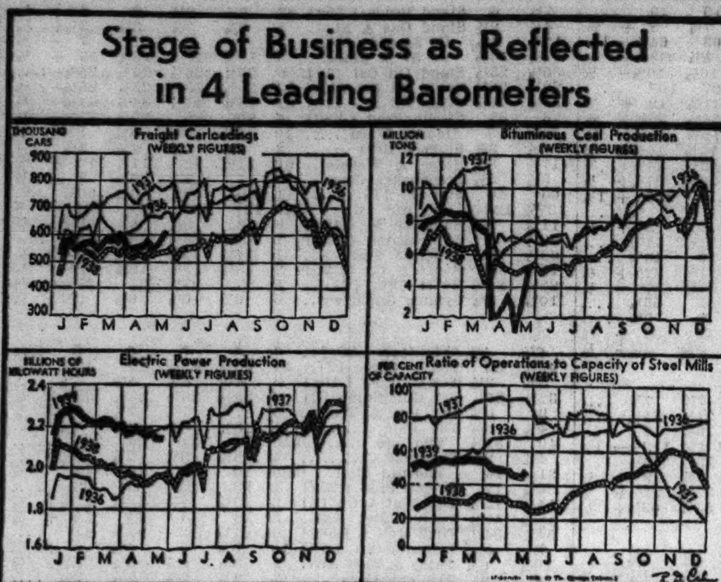
Taxing authorities in New Jersey were said to have begun an attempt to tax some $5,000,000,000 worth of out-of-state property of companies which have only their legal home in New Jersey.

The administrator of the estate of John F. Jelke of Chicago failed to obtain a review of a decision denying recovery of $75,215 in federal income taxes paid in 1925.

Markets, Banks Close for Memorial Day

Important domestic security and commodity markets, including the New York and Chicago Stock exchanges, and the Chicago Board of Trade, will be closed today in observance of Memorial day. The Chicago Live Stock market will close, but some outside markets will be open. Banks will be closed.

Canadian and European financial exchanges will operate as usual. European markets were closed yesterday for the Whitsuntide holiday. The New Orleans Cotton exchange, the Savannah naval stores market, and some southern banks will be open today.



Stage of Business as Reflected in 4 Leading Barometers

RFC May Seize the Congress Hotel, Run It

The Reconstruction Finance corporation, government agency which has loaned millions of dollars to almost every type of business, may soon find itself in the hotel business in Chicago on a large scale, it was learned yesterday.

With the settlement of a controversy over the ownership of furniture and fixtures of the Congress hotel, it was learned the government agency plans to ask the federal court for a decree of foreclosure because of a default on a $900,000 loan made to the hotel.

If the decree is granted the RFC intends to offer the old and widely known hotel for sale to the highest bidder. If a satisfactory bid is not made the agency plans to bid for the property itself and operate it directly or through a nominee.

Hearing Set for June 8.

These contemplated steps are contingent upon the results of a hearing set for June 8 before William L. Sullivan, federal referee in bankruptcy. This hearing will be on a motion of Fred E. Hummel, trustee in bankruptcy of Congress Hotel, Inc., to compromise conflicting claims.

To secure the $900,000 loan, made in 1936, the RFC Mortgage company, wholly owned subsidiary of the RFC, holds real estate and chattel mortgages. The loan was part of an agreement which led to reorganization of the hotel company under section 77B of the federal bankruptcy act.

The hotel failed to operate profitably after the reorganization, however, and went into voluntary bankruptcy in April, 1938. The loan is in default.

Furniture in Dispute.

The conflict which Hummel seeks to settle with approval of the federal referee involves the ownership of newly acquired furniture and other assets at the time of his appointment as trustee. He disputed the claim of the RFC Mortgage company that its liens constituted a prior right to the disputed property.

To settle the dispute and avoid extensive litigation, the RFC subsidiary has agreed to turn over to Hummel $10,000 in cash and relinquish its claims to cash, inventories, and accounts receivable totaling $106,480. The disputed furniture would be included in the claims relinquished by the mortgage company. The settlement is based on the status of the items as of April 29, 1938, when Edward J. Fleming was appointed receiver for the property under action brought by the RFC.

Attorney Claude A. Roth represented the RFC in negotiations leading to the settlement.

Auto-Lite Lays Off 3,000; Result of Briggs Strike

Toledo, O., May 29.—[Special.]—About 3,000 employés of the Electric Auto-Lite company were affected today by the closing of various departments as a result of the Briggs Manufacturing company strike, which has tied up plants of Chrysler corporation. Briggs builds auto bodies. Lacking bodies, Chrysler has had to stop shipments from suppliers, including Auto-Lite. Auto-Lite is expected to close other divisions at Cincinnati, Springfield, and Fostoria, O.; La Crosse, Wis.; Port Huron, Mich., and Niagara Falls, N. Y.

A. G. SPALDING CALLS MEETING ON PROPOSAL FOR RECAPITALIZATION

Charles F. Robbins, president of A. G. Spalding & Brothers, manufacturers and distributor of sporting goods, yesterday called a special meeting of stockholders for June 22 to vote on a recapitalization plan. An exchange of securities is planned to eliminate a balance sheet deficit.

Under the plan, the holders of outstanding first preferred stock would exchange each share for one share of new first preferred, $100 principal amount of fifty year 5 per cent debentures and $1.92 in cash. This would clear up accumulated dividends on the outstanding stock which will amount to $51.92 a share on Oct. 31, 1939.

Holders of present second preferred stock would receive one share of new second preferred stock or twelve shares of new common stock for each share turned in. The three largest holders of the present stock have signified their intention of taking common stock in exchange, the announcement said.

The outstanding 324,071 shares of common stock are to be exchanged for new stock on a share for share basis.

ALLEGHANY MAY ASK COURT RULE ON DIVIDEND CASH

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—When Alleghany corporation replies to a suit by Marine Midland Trust company and Continental Bank and Trust company, it is expected to request a court ruling that dividends received by Alleghany from Chesapeake corporation be classified as income. The banks are seeking an injunction to keep Alleghany from using certain funds for corporate purposes. The banks are trustees for Alleghany bonds.

Guaranty Trust company, as trustee of the Alleghany 5 per cent bonds of 1944, has regarded the dividends from the subsidiary corporation as capital and as such has added it to collateral deposited behind the bonds.

If Alleghany corporation should gain a favorable ruling from the court in this matter, there would be an additional $477,300 in Chesapeake corporation dividends, on each declaration date, which would be available to the Alleghany corporation for corporate use.

FOREIGN MONEY MARKET QUIET; HOLIDAY ABROAD

The foreign exchange market in New York drifted into the holiday mood yesterday as European money centers were closed for the Whitsuntide holiday. Many brokers and bankers left for the yearly spring golf tournament and dinner of the Foreign Exchange Brokers' association.

The quiet market closed with the British pound losing 1-16 cent in relation to the dollar at $4.68⅛. The Netherlands guilder gained 0.01 cent to 53.73 cents. Other currencies were generally unchanged.

The New York Federal Reserve bank reported that $2,248,000 in gold was received from England but that no gold shipments were engaged abroad yesterday.

Repeal of 'Double' Taxation on Business Mergers Sought

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—The house ways and means committee jogged along today toward the congressional goal of revising corporate taxes by July 1.

At a brief hearing, the committee listened to appeals for a clarification of tax laws governing business mergers and for a removal of what were termed "indirect restrictions" on corporations engaged in foreign trade.

Chairman Doughton [D., N. C.] expressed hope that the committee could wind up the hearings this week or early next. Thereafter the committee is not expected to take long in presenting to the house a revision measure, including repeal of the last remnant of the undistributed profits tax.

Will Extend Nuisance Taxes.

These revisions, under present plans, will be tied to a measure reenacting present so-called "nuisance taxes," which expire June 30, and which require immediate action unless the federal treasury is to lose millions in revenue.

George M. Morris of Washington, chairman of the American Bar association's finance committee, asked the committee to go into the matter of business reorganization taxes.

He proposed elimination of what he said was double taxation on the profits of mergers, asserting that a recent Supreme court decision causes the internal revenue commissioner to tax the profits realized by both an absorbed company and its stockholders.

Foreign Tax Issue Raised.

Two New York attorneys presented memorandums asking that changes be made in tax law so American corporations doing business abroad may obtain full United States tax credits for taxes paid foreign governments. The lawyers were Mitchell B. Carroll, counsel for the National Foreign Trade Association, Inc., and Paul L. Peyton, representing the American Chamber of Commerce in London.

Well informed house members said the tax revision program at this session probably would include a flat 18 per cent levy on corporations having net incomes above $25,000 a year, to take the place of the undistributed profit levy; deduction of net business losses from the profits of three future years instead of the present one year carryover, and revaluation of capital stock every year instead of every three years.

Chairman Doughton indicated he thought the question of prohibiting the issuance of tax exempt securities would have to be left for next year.

STOCKS CLIMB ON BUYING RUSH IN FINAL HOUR

Sudden Rally Gives Volume a Lift.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 29.—The stock market turned strong in the last hour today when a rush of buying supplanted the nominal interest prevailing up to that time. Gains ranged from fractions to about 2 points.

The late activity swelled the total volume to 602,320 shares, of which only 310,000 shares had been recorded up to 2 o'clock. Many traders were absent because of the holiday tomorrow and the late activity came as a surprise. European exchanges were closed for the Whitsuntide recess. A firm undertone was evident throughout the session here, however. The American Iron and Steel Institute's scheduling of steel operations at 52.2 per cent of capacity aided sentiment.

All Groups Join in Rise.

Another reason given for the market's underlying strength was the continued hope in Wall street that a tax revision program would evolve from conferences in Washington.

All groups of stocks shared in the upturn, with representative industrials turning in the best performances. Chrysler gained 2 points. The stock closed at 71¼, after selling at 69¾ at 2 o'clock. Other motors firmed fractionally. Motor accessory shares swung into line.

United States Steel, Bethlehem, and Youngstown Sheet and Tube each gained more than 1 point. Republic added ½ point.

United States Rubber led its section higher with a gain of ⅞ of a point. Coppers showed gains running to 1 point in Phelps Dodge. Oils held close to Saturday finals.

Montgomery Ward Active.

Montgomery Ward in the merchandising section attracted good attention for a fractional gain. Sears-Roebuck was weak, slipping ⅛ point.

Carrier shares firmed in line with industrials. Fractional gains were the rule for such issues as Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Illinois Central, New York Central, and Pennsylvania.

Minor fractional advances prevailed in the utility section. Consolidated Edison, North American company, and Columbia Gas and Electric were among the group leaders. Brooklyn Union Gas dipped.

Most heavy machinery and chemical edged into the plus column.

Several specialties pushed ahead prominently, among them Schulte Retail Stores, National Dairy Products, and Hecker Products.

STEEL OUTPUT RISES SECOND WEEK; 52.2 PCT.

Operations in the steel industry for the current week will increase 3.7 points, or 7.6 per cent, to 52.2 per cent of capacity, the American Iron and Steel Institute reported yesterday. It will be the second consecutive week of advance, following seven weeks of decline.

Steel production experts attributed the rise, which was somewhat larger than expected, to settlement of the coal situation and the placing of heavy orders by the automobile industry two weeks ago during a brief price war among the steel companies.

Last week the operating rate was 48.5 per cent of capacity. A month ago it was 47.8 per cent. A year ago operations were scheduled at 26.1 per cent.

CHILE MAY PAY FOR SEIZED OIL FIELD FACILITIES

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—Chilean Ambassador Alberto Cabero said today that if his government takes over the distribution facilities of foreign oil companies he was sure compensation would be made.

"Chile always has met her obligations," he told reporters at the state department after a call on Undersecretary Sumner Welles. He said, however, the visit was merely a courtesy call and the oil question was not discussed.

Remarking that Chile was forced to meet her oil needs through importation, Cabero said that if the distribution facilities were taken over, his country would have to continue to depend on the same companies as formerly to supply the fuel.

Board of Education Calls Tax Warants for Payment

A call for payment of $6,108,000 of 1938 school tax anticipation warrants was issued yesterday by James B. McCahey, president of the board of education. He said it was the largest call made by the board so early in the year. So far this year the board has received $15,193,213 from 1938 tax collections, compared with $8,635,000 during the same period last year.

North Western's New Rail Speedster

Side view of the new Diesel-electric locomotive that will start pulling the North Western's noted train, the "400," today. The locomotive consists of two 2,000 horse power units. Cabs are located at each end so that the locomotive need not be turned around at terminals before departure on a return trip.

Famous '400' Train to Use Diesel Engine

The North Western railroad's famous high speed train, the "400," will be pulled between Chicago and Milwaukee today by a new 4,000 horsepower Diesel-electric locomotive, which was just completed at the La Grange plant of the Electro-Motive corporation. Later this week the new engine will be used for the entire run between Chicago and St. Paul-Minneapolis.

A second locomotive, identical with the one to go into service today, will be delivered in a week or ten days. It also will be used on the "400." When both locomotives are in service besides pulling the "400" they will be used to haul the North Western Limited. Each will make a round trip daily in the Chicago-Twin cities service.

Will Adopt Streamlined Cars.

The present "400," which was the first of the really high speed trains to go into service on American railroads, is composed of standard equipment. In August the old equipment will be replaced by streamlined cars which are now under construction at the Chicago shops of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company.

The new locomotive is capable of 117 miles an hour. Its ability to maintain a high average speed will do away with the necessity of sudden bursts of excessive top speeds, North Western officials said.

The locomotive consists of two units, each of 2,000 horsepower, which can be operated singly if desired. Each locomotive has cabs at both ends—an innovation in western railroad service—so that it can leave a terminal without turning round.

Many Improvements Made.

Numerous improvements have been built into the new locomotive, North Western officials said. Among these is the treatment of the load suspension for ease in rounding curves. Four hydraulic shock absorbers, coupled with newly designed springs on each unit, lessen sway.

The engineer is located high above the front of the locomotive to give clear vision in all directions. Controls are said to be simpler than those in an automobile, officials saying the train requires less manual effort to start and stop than does an automobile.

Safety devices include automatic windshield wipers, automatic defrosters and sun visors similar to those on automobiles. The engineer must keep his foot on a control pedal or the train will stop.

Other Safety Devices.

The instrument board is not much more complicated than that on an automobile. It includes devices that show the condition of the operating equipment behind and beneath him. Another safety device consists of illuminated annunciator boards located both on the control panel and in each engine room. Should any trouble arise, a colored light will indicate where the trouble is and a bell will ring until steps have been taken to correct it.

The locomotive is powered by four 1,000 horsepower 12-cylinder Diesels—two to each unit. Each engine operates a 600 volt direct current generator. Current from the generators is transmitted to two traction motors mounted on each truck of each unit. Thus each 4,000 horsepower locomotive consists of four Diesel engines, four generators, and eight traction motors. The power is finally applied to the rails through sixteen driving wheels.

Ask Each Bank Fix Interest Rates on Basis of Earnings

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—The amount of interest paid by banks on time deposits should be gauged according to the individual bank's earning capacity, the committee on bank costs of the New York State Bankers association said today in its report to the association's convention. The committee said earning power of banks is the paramount problem and that increases in costs in the form of taxation, deposit insurance, and pension levies make it imperative for bankers to study ways of improving earnings.

EXCHANGE OFFER ON HOLC BONDS 76% ACCEPTED

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—The treasury announced today that holders of $687,767,025 of Home Owners' Loan corporation bonds called for redemption on Aug. 1 had accepted, instead of cash, new 1⅛ per cent HOLC bonds due 1945 to 1947.

The called issue amounted to approximately $900,000,000. The treasury has arranged to buy up to $100,000,000 of the new HOLC bonds for investment of other governmental agency trust funds, leaving more than $100,000,000 of the called bonds to be retired by the HOLC sinking fund.

Exchange Ratio Causes Surprise.

New York, May 29.—(AP)—Wall street bond dealers expressed surprise today that only about 76 per cent of holders of Home Owners' Loan corporation bonds called for redemption had accepted new bonds in lieu of cash. In straight government bond fundings, the percentage of conversions as a rule has run between 95 and 98 per cent.

Traders attributed the relatively smaller number of acceptances to the fact the treasury gave holders only three days—May 22, 23, and 24—to decide whether they wanted to take new HOLC loans in exchange for their maturing bonds.

CHIEF RAILWAYS EARN FAR MORE THAN YEAR AGO

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—The Association of American Railroads reported improvement today in the net operating income of the nation's class one railroads during the first four months of this year.

Net operating income reported at $101,066,278 through April represented an annual rate of return of 1.55 per cent on property investments. This compared with a net income of $29,360,310, or 0.45 per cent of property investments, in the first four months of 1938.

Gross operating revenues for the first four months of 1939 totaled $1,179,891,873, compared with $1,081,376,968 for the same period in 1938. Operating expenses for the period amounted to $921,547,450, compared with $896,407,684 for the same period in 1938.

Net operating income of $15,256,935 in April compared with $9,397,133 for the same month a year ago.

Investing Company Plans Large Certificate Sale

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—Investors Syndicate of Minneapolis notified the Securities and Exchange commission today of its plan to sell $150,000,000 of investment certificates and $2,500,000 of 3 per cent coupon certificates. The syndicate proposes to use the proceeds of the sales for investment purposes.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO REDEEM

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City of Phoenix, in the County of Maricopa, State of Arizona, does hereby call for payment bonds numbered 775 to 817, both inclusive of that certain issue of bonds issued by the City of Phoenix in the County of Maricopa, State of Arizona, on the 15th day of October, 1919, designated "City of Phoenix Water Works Bonds", due on the first day of January, 1950, bearing interest at the rate of 5% per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of January and July of each year; provided, however, that the right was reserved by the City of Phoenix to redeem said bonds at the rate of $48,000.00 per year for twenty years, beginning January 1, 1921, and $44,000.00 per year for nine years, beginning January 1, 1941, or on any interest period subsequent to the optional date, provided that thirty days' notice of the intention of the City of Phoenix to redeem such bonds shall be given by not less than two publications of such intention, in a newspaper published in the City of Chicago, State of Illinois; and upon the publication of such notice of intention to redeem, the interest on such bonds described in said notice shall cease from and after the next succeeding interest date following the date of such publication. The holders of the above numbered and designated bonds and coupons shall present the same for payment at the office of the Irving Trust Company, in the City of New York, successors to the American Exchange National Bank, on or before July 1, 1939; that all said bonds, together with the interest due thereon will, when so presented be paid in accordance with the terms of said bonds. All interest on the above described bonds shall cease July 1, 1939.

Dated at Phoenix, Arizona, this 26th day of May, 1939.

Eastern Rails Plan Reduction in Coach Fare

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—A reduction in coach rates in the east appeared today to be a certainty as a result of action taken in the last few days by a committee headed by F. E. Williamson, president of the New York Central railroad. No change in the basic Pullman rate is contemplated.

The committee, which has been studying the fare problem in this region for months, is to report at a meeting of the eastern presidents' conference in the New York Central offices next Wednesday. The officials who plan to attend hope that final action will be taken at the meeting, even if it is found necessary to continue it to Thursday.

Three Proposals Expected.

Williamson's committee is to offer at least three proposals, any one of which, if accepted, would mean a reduction in the coach fare, which now is 2.5 cents a mile throughout the east, although lower in other regions. The three proposals are as follows:

1. Continuance of the present basic rate of 2.5 cents a mile, with 10 per cent off for return trips.
2. Reduction of the basic fare to 2.25 cents a mile.
3. A sliding scale of rates based on distance traveled.

Whether one of these proposals, or a combination of them, will be adopted, was not known today. The problem was described as a vexatious one for which a solution pleasing to all was difficult to find.

Want Fare Question Settled.

However, it was said that the managements have decided that now is the time for it to be settled.

With Williamson on the committee are the following railroad presidents: Daniel Willard, Baltimore & Ohio; M. W. Clement, Pennsylvania; J. M. Davis, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western; C. E. Denney, Erie, and Howard Palmer, New York, New Haven & Hartford. Willard is not expected to attend the meeting.

RAIL OFFICIALS MARK BIRTHDAY OF STREAMLINER

Numerous Chicago railroad officials joined with the Milwaukee road yesterday in observing the fourth anniversary of the placing in service of the high speed streamlined train, the Haiwatha. They attended a luncheon on the train in the Union station.

The train's conductor, Ernest E. Haddock, was host to a rival conductor, Lloyd W. Mathers, who is conductor for the Burlington's Zephyr, which is one of the fleet of high speed trains operating between Chicago and the Twin Cities. Mathers was invited to be a guest conductor on the Hiawatha.

One of the numerous railroad officials from other roads, noting his many competitors, commented:

"This is something new. I think it's a good idea to get railroad men together. Let's pat each other on the back for once and work together instead of trying to knife each other."

North Western Abandons Harvard-Kenosha Branch

The last train over the Kenosha division of the Chicago and North Western railway between Harvard, Ill., and Kenosha, Wis., will be operated tomorrow. The branch then will be abandoned because trafic has fallen to the vanishing point since construction of a new concrete highway, the road announced yesterday. The line was established seventy-six years ago and formerly did a flourishing business.

NOTICE OF REDEMPTION

To the Holders of United Gas and Electric Company of New Albany and Jeffersonville, Indiana, First Mortgage Five Per Cent Gold Bonds:

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the provisions of Article VIII of the Indenture dated the 15th day of May, 1902 between United Gas and Electric Company and The American Trust and Savings Bank and Frank H. RAILS PROPOSE TO RENT AUTOS TO CUSTOMERS

Combined Service Is Set for Jan. 1.

In a new move to increase their business a number of western railroads propose to start on Jan. 1, 1940, the renting of automobiles to passengers on arrival at their destinations, it was disclosed yesterday. The roads include the Burlington, the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, the Missouri-Kansas-Texas, the Missouri Pacific, the North Western, the Omaha and the Union Pacific.

Officials of the roads declare that an automobile renting service should enable the carriers to win back the patronage of salesmen and others who must have an automobile to call on customers in cities and in towns adjacent to cities. In recent years many salesmen have stopped using the railroads because they found it more convenient to have their automobiles at hand, even though they had to drive long distances.

Tried Out by New Haven.

The New Haven tried out a similar scheme and found it satisfactory, it was said. The western roads believe they will be in a better position than the New Haven to take advantage of a combination rail-automobile service because of the great distances in the west.

Under the plan the railroads would have automobiles available at all key cities.

For example, a passenger desiring a car at St. Louis would inform the ticket salesman when buying his ticket. The ticket office would wire to St. Louis and the car would be at his disposition at the moment of his arrival.

The person desiring the use of a car might either establish his credit in advance or put up a cash deposit.

May Issue Credit Cards.

Ultimately it is proposed to issue credit cards to save time for the railroads' customers.

Although reservations are planned as time savers, it is proposed to have cars on hand at the station for those who decide while they are on the train that they want to rent a car.

Rates will be based on the amount of use of a car. There will be a charge of 8 cents a mile, with a minimum of ten miles in an hour. There will be a daily rate at 10 cents a mile, with the minimum use 75 miles in a twelve hour day. For a more than twelve hour use there will be a minimum charge of five cents for each hour in excess of 12.

There will be a weekly rate of 8 cents a mile, with a minimum use of 350 miles. If the car were used 1,000 miles the rate would drop to 6½ cents a mile.

The rates will cover all insurance, including public liability and property damage, and gasoline and oil.

Railroad officials point out that the service will be especially useful for employés of large companies who must do a lot of traveling in areas adjacent to large cities.

BRAZIL CANCELS SALES OF COCOA FOR NAZI MARKS

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—The American embassy at Rio de Janeiro reported today that the Bank of Brazil has suspended the sale of Brazilian cocoa for German blocked marks.

The blocked marks could have been used by Brazil only for the purchase of German goods. The suspension of blocked-mark dealings in cocoa followed, the bank advised the American embassy, the contracting of German firms for the purchase of 240,000 bags of Bahia cocoa.

The embassy cable, which was made public by the commerce department, also said that Brazil had made arrangements to liquidate by June 15 all arrears in American exchange. This means that Brazil will make enough dollars available to Brazilian importers to enable them to pay debts to United States exporters.

Stocks, Bonds

New York Bonds.

New York, May 29.—(AP)—Under the leadership of rails and utilities, the bond market rose fractionally today. Buying was light but persistent, continuing the upward trend begun last week.

Rises of fractions to four points were recorded for Baltimore & Ohio Southwest 5s of '50, General Steel Castings 5½s, Carolina Central 4s, Phelps Dodge 3½s, American & Foreign Power 5s, American Water Works 6s, Western Union 5s of '60, Portland General Electric 4½s, Nickel Plate 4½s and 5½s, and New York Central 5s.

U. S. treasuries advanced as much as 8-32 point in limited dealings. Latin American and Polish issues topped the risers in the foreign list.

Transactions totaled $4,291,300, face value, compared with $5,470,150 on Friday.

Chicago Stocks.

New 1939 high marks were established by five issues in trading on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. Coleman Lamp advanced 2 points and fractional gains were made by Bastian-Blessing, Zenith Radio, Hall Printing, and Hein-Werner. Commonwealth Edison returned to its usual position of volume leader and advanced ⅛ point to 28¼ on a turnover of 2,000 shares.

Of the seventy-eight issues involved in trading volume of 17,000 shares, forty-seven advanced, seventeen declined, and fourteen closed unchanged.

Applications were posted yesterday for transfer of two memberships, one to Chester D. Shepard, partner of Merigold & Company, Oshkosh, Wis., the other to Jerome Lewine, partner of H. Hentz & Co., New York City.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago bank stocks closed unchanged to slightly higher yesterday. Volume of trading was fair. The bid price on Chicago Title rose $2, on Continental Illinois, 50 cents, and on First National, $4 a share.

Commodities

Commodity markets were irregular yesterday. Tin futures were uneven, although some deliveries reaching new highs for the season. Cottonseed oil, on the other hand, recorded new low marks in New York trading.

Consumers of copper were reported rather poorly supplied, and futures gained 0.06 to 0.10 cent a pound. In the outside market no copper is available under 10 cents. Lead trading was active and buyers covered about 55 per cent of June requirements, it was said. One leading seller reported purchasers placed orders for about 15 per cent of July needs. Futures quotations finished unchanged. Zinc futures were unchanged.

Rubber and hides recorded advances. Silk futures receded from nine year highs, and cocoa slipped slightly. Coffee, sugar, and wool tops were irregular.

Sales of print and broadcloths yesterday were estimated at ten million yards. Prices for immediate delivery were firm, and mills asked ⅛ cent a yard more for forward business.

SHANE IS NAMED NEW MANAGER OF BOSTON STORE

Has Been with Company for 35 Years.

Seymour A. Shane yesterday was appointed general manager of the Boston Store, State, Madison, and Dearborn streets. He succeeds Jacob Espovich, who died on May 16.

Seymour A. Shane.

Shane, who was born in Chicago, has been with the company for thirty-five years. During a summer vacation in 1904 he took a job as a clerk in the notions department. At the end of the summer he intended to quit in order to take up the study of law.

But Shane dropped in to tell the general manager good-by and to thank him for the summer job. That ended the law career. For the manager, mindful of Shane's good sales record, asked him why he didn't stay on. Young Shane said he would be glad to stay if the manager would make him a merchandise manager.

Wants All Kinds of Work.

The manager laughed and said he was a bit too young, but asked Shane how he would go about qualifying for the position. The young clerk outlined his proposal; he wanted to work in every department. The manager agreed and Shane confesses that he got more than he bargained for.

He was sent from one department to another. He worked long hours and he had to work hard. He spent six years in the piece goods department before he got an executive position. Then he was given charge of the ready-to-wear departments. When the Boston Store opened its first bargain basement he was made merchandise manager. In 1917 he went upstairs and on to his present position.

Fewer Clothes Worn Now.

Shane yesterday commented on the changes in sales and methods since he went to work.

"Years ago our weather seemed more severe," he said. "People, and particularly the women, wore more clothes. We had more of what then were clothing necessities to sell. The average woman wore five or six undergarments. Men had to have their red flannels. Now they wear the same style of underwear winter and summer."

One thing that is essential for the downtown district, he believes, is good, fast transportation. Slow and inadequate service, he believes, will hurt business because people will not take the trouble to travel any distance if they are put to inconvenience.

CREDITORS ASK CHANGE IN PLAN FOR NEW HAVEN

Washington, D. C., May 29.—[Special.]—The United Gas Improvement company and trustees of the Abby Pearce Aldrich Trust filed today with the interstate commerce commission proposals to modify the debtor's amended plan for reorganization of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad.

The interviewers hold $9,359,000 of the debtor's 4 per cent debentures out of the total issue of $15,010,0000

They proposed that any plan adopted "shall provide for the issuance to holders of 4 per cent debentures of the debtor due May 1, 1957, par for par and accumulated interest, of securities ranking next junior to securities of any class to be issued by the debtor in exchange for its secured obligations."

They urged elimination of 4½ per cent income bonds and substitution of preferred stock and elimination of provision for a maximum deduction from earnings for capital improvements of $1,000,000. The proposal to issue common stock to present preferred stockholders on the basis of the book value available also was opposed.

COAL PRODUCING COSTS IN EIGHT STATES LISTED

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—The national bituminous coal commission disclosed today its findings on the cost of producing coal in eight southern and midwestern states.

Minimum prices based on production costs will be announced for the whole country next month. The prices will be subjected to final hearings.

The costs announced today follow:

Minimum price area 3—$2.44 a ton [Alabama, Georgia, and southeastern Tennessee].

Minimum price area 4—$3.61 [Arkansas and the counties of Haskell, Leflore, and Sequoyah, Oklahoma].

Minimum price area 5—$2.04 [Missouri, Kansas, Texas, and all of Oklahoma except counties in area 4].

National Tea's Four Week Sales Slip to $4,207,299

Sales by the National Tea company in the four weeks ended May 20 amounted to $4,207,299, down 1.24 per cent from $4,260,380 in the corresponding 1938 weeks, the company reported yesterday. In the twenty weeks ended May 20 sales totaled $20,984,868 against $21,989,154 a year earlier. This was a decline of 4.5 per cent.

PRICES OF FARM PRODUCTS MOVE HIGHER IN MONTH

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—The level of commodity prices paid to farmers in the week ended May 15 was slightly higher than at mid-April, the first rise of the year, the bureau of agricultural economics reported today.

Advances in grain, cotton, cottonseed, and fruit price groups more than offset the seasonal decline in dairy products and downturns in other groups, the bureau said. The index, at 90 per cent of the prewar level, compared with 89 at mid-April and 92 at mid-May, 1938.

Grain prices rose five points during the month ended May 15, all items sharing in this advance.

Cotton lint rose enough during the month to increase the index of cotton and cottonseed prices by two points despite a slight decline in the price of seed.

EXTEND SUBSIDY ON EXPORTS OF FLOUR TO OCT. 31

Extension of the final date on which subsidized flour exports may be shipped was announced yesterday by the department of agriculture. The date was extended from Aug. 15 to Oct. 31, 1939, applying only to flour sold after 2 p. m. last Saturday.

The department explained that foreign buyers usually fill requirements as much as ninety days ahead, and that millers had requested the extension in order to be able to meet a demand for flour for shipment later than Aug. 15.

Lawrence Myers, chief of the marketing section, said: "It is probable that flour exporters can maintain sales in full volume up to the expiration of the program on June 30, and make it unnecessary for foreign buyers to seek their supplies in other countries."

BUTTER AND EGG FUTURES SLUMP; SUPPLY LIBERAL

Liberal receipts and favorable production weather caused declines in butter and egg futures on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday. Losses in eggs ranged to 0.25 cent a dozen. May storage packs last 0.05 cent to go off the boards at the lowest closing out price in five years. June storage packs reëstablished the seasonal low.

The Federal Surplus Commodities corporation was forced to step up purchases of firsts at New York to 2,138,000 dozens to maintain its peg price.

November butter sank 0.19 cent a pound, an easy cash market contributing to selling pressure.

Eastman Kodak to Build Seven Story Structure

Rochester, N. Y., May 29.—(AP)—The Eastman Kodak company announced today a new seven story structure will be constructed to provide six acres of floor space for the finished-film department. The work, part of a $17,955,000 expansion program, will begin in June and be completed by Dec. 31.

COTTON

American cotton markets showed a heavy undertone yesterday. Closing trades were .02 to .15 cent a pound lower. European markets had a holiday. Houses which frequently act for European accounts were persistent sellers of all deliveries.

There was some professional liquidation of nearby futures on reports that farmers had redeemed between 175,000 and 200,000 bales of cotton from the government loan and had sold the staple in the open market. Mills have been the buyers of the cotton to fill recent orders for textiles.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to .12 cent a pound lower with New York, 9.74 cents; New Orleans, 9.40 cents; Galveston, 9.27 cents, and Houston at 9.20 cents a pound. Prices follow:

MANY BEEF CUTS SELL AT LOWEST PRICES OF YEAR

Most of Cattle Steady; Lambs, Hogs Firm.

New 1939 lows were established on many cuts of beef in wholesale meat markets yesterday as a result of last week's severe decline in live costs of cattle at the Chicago stockyards.

Packers sold ribs of beef to butcher shop owners from $13.50 to $23.00 a hundred pounds, off 50 cents to $1.00. Loins brought $16.00 to $32.00; rounds, $13.50 to $20.00; chucks, $11.75 to $14.00, and plates, $9.25 to $11.00.

The downward swing of cattle prices, however, was halted by light receipts, with some kinds rallying slightly from the previous week's low close.

Trade in Cattle Improves.

With the exception of heavy plain steers, which continued to drag, action in the general cattle trade was improved. Top steers brought $12.00. Beef cows, canners, cutters, and bulls were steady to strong. Hefers ruled weak to slightly lower. Calves were weak. Stockers and feeders held about steady for the day.

Changes in other branches of the live stock trade were slight. Packers gave fully steady prices for lambs. No aged wool lambs were offered. Shorn stock reached $9.20. New crop lambs from California sold at $9.75 and best native springers sold up to $10.50. Old shorn ewes went at $3.50.

Hogs Steady to Strong.

After a draggy opening the trade for hogs improved. Prices were fully steady to strong compared with last week's close. Both the top and average remained unchanged at $6.95 and $6.55, respectively. Selected 194 to 207 pound averages brought the peak.

Slaughtering of hogs continued rather heavy at all points, yesterday's total arrivals at eleven markets at 68,000, being only 4,000 short of the preceding Monday.

CORN ADVANCES ON AGGRESSIVE PUBLIC BUYING

Wheat and Oats Weaken; Rye Irregular.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

Closing prices on the July delivery of principal grains on the Chicago Board of Trade:

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	*Yr ago.
Wheat	$ .78⅛	$ .78⅛	....
Corn	.51⅜	.50⅞	....
Oats	.33¾	.33¾	....
Rye	.53	.53⅛	....
Soy beans	.91¼	.91½	....

*Holiday.

Aggressive buying of December corn, which was attributed to the public, marked trading in grain futures yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade. A moderate early decline in sympathy with wheat was followed by a rally of about 1 cent a bushel from the low point. Closing trades were at the top with gains of ½ to ¾ cent a bushel.

Wheat fluctuated in an erratic manner within a range of about 1 cent and closed unchanged to ¼ cent lower. Oats were unchanged to ⅛ cent lower and rye was ⅛ cent higher to ⅛ cent lower. Soy beans closed ¼ to 1⅜ cents lower.

Corn Situation Analyzed.

There was nothing in the general run of the news to account for the upturn in corn, brokers said. Some buying was said to have been in the way of closing spreads with wheat. Commission house comment on the corn market is becoming more favorable to the buying side. It is pointed out that about 255,000,000 bushels of corn are held under seal on farms as collateral for government loans, which will not mature until Aug. 31. Corn is the only grain that is selling below the price which prevailed a year ago.

Country offerings of cash corn for deferred shipment continue light. It is expected a price of 40 cents a bushel to farmers at country loading stations in Illinois will be required to bring out any large amount of grain. This is somewhat above the current price level in the interior.

More Rain in Wheat Belt.

Additional rains were reported over the week-end in the more northern sections of the wheat and oats producing areas. The markets eased on the more favorable weather conditions early, but the loss was recovered when corn started upward.

Foreign grain markets were closed yesterday for the Whitsuntide holidays, but they will reopen today when American exchanges will be closed. Export demand was reported to be limited.

Private estimates on the wheat, oats, and rye crops will be issued on June 2. The trade is expecting a somewhat larger wheat crop than was forecast several weeks ago.

HOE ASKS BOND TENDERS.

R. Hoe & Co., Inc., has requested the City Bank Farmers Trust company, trustee, to invite tenders of sufficient first mortgage bonds due 1944 at satisfactory prices to exhaust the sum of $250,000 available for the purpose, tenders to be received until noon on June 15.

DAY by DAY on the FARM

By HOMER NEISZ

Dairy Cows on Pasture.

May 29, 1939.

DAIRY cows at the Du Page county farm were put out on pasture three weeks ago. There has been a noticeable change in the milk. Production is increasing and the milk has a richer yellow color. The change in color was evident after one week on grass. The cows are Guernseys, and the milk naturally has a deeper color than milk from other breeds.

The cows were out only about one hour each day at first. They romped and played like calves the first few times that they were turned out. The grazing period gradually was increased until now the cows are left out most of the time during the day. Beginning this week they also will be put on pasture at night. Since they have become accustomed to grazing the herdsman thinks it is safe to allow them all the grass they want.

Herd Tested Each Month.

The herd is tested each month by the Northern Illinois Guernsey Breeders' association. Production for the month is figured on the basis of the amount of milk and butter fat given on the day the test is made.

When tested April 7 the figures on the eighteen cows in milk indicated that their average production for that month would be 830.3 pounds of milk containing 42.8 pounds of butter fat. They were tested again May 13 and the test showed an average of 949.3 pounds of milk and 45.9 pounds of fat for May. This made a daily average of 27.6 pounds of milk and 1.42 pounds of fat for the thirty days in April and 30.6 pounds of milk and 1.48 pounds of fat for the thirty-one days in May.

Rations for the cows gradually are being changed as their daily grazing periods are increased. Some of the change is voluntary on the part of the cows—they are cutting down on the amount of alfalfa hay since they have been on grass. They still eat about twenty-five pounds each of corn silage a day. The amount of protein in the grain ration is being decreased.

Diet to Include Alfalfa Silage.

Alfalfa silage will be included in the dairy cows' ration next fall, according to present plans. One silo at the dairy barn is to be filled with first cutting alfalfa. Men at the farm have had no experience with legume silage, and they are studying methods used by other farmers in recent years in making grass and legume silage.

The men want to know how best to harvest the alfalfa and how to handle it before it reaches the silo, the lengths to cut the plants, whether to run them through the hay chopper or a regular ensilage cutter, how to distribute and pack the material in the silo, the amount of molasses to mix with the alfalfa, and the best way to apply it.

Grass and legume silage, sometimes called molasses silage, is becoming popular as a dairy feed in many sections. Some farmers plan to make silage out of part of their hay crop each year. Others think it is advisable to make molasses silage only in seasons when the weather is too wet to make hay. Grasses and legumes are put directly into the silos without curing. They may be made into silage during rainy weather.

GAS FIRM CLAIMS SUPPLY WILL BE GONE IN 15 YEARS

Texoma Challenges U. S. Evidence in Rate Case.

Texas natural gas fields which supply fuel for Chicago consumers will be exhausted in about fifteen years, geologists for the Texoma Natural Gas company told the federal power commission yesterday at a gas rate hearing in Chicago. They presented the estimate in an effort to refute previous government testimony indicating the natural gas supply in the Texas panhandle will last thirty or forty years.

The question of how long the supply will last is a vital one in determining gas rates in Chicago. The Illinois commerce commission is attempting to force the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company to lower its rates.

Mixed with Artificial Gas.

As part of the campaign, the federal power commission has for several weeks conducted hearings on profits and accounting practices of two companies which pipe gas from Texas to Joliet. This gas eventually is purchased by Peoples Gas, mixed with manufactured gas, and distributed in Chicago.

The Texas companies—Texoma and the Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America—have based their amortization charges on the estimated life of the fields. They assert the life of the fields is definitly limited, and charge off yearly amounts which the government claims are too high. The amortization charges influence the rate at which the companies wholesale the gas that eventually reaches Chicago.

Seek to Prove Profit Is High.

The government claims the retirement charges should be spread over a longer period of years. Such an adjustment would reduce the annual appropriation for amortization of properties and increase net income. If the government could prove excessive income, it could force a reduction in rates.

In earlier hearings, Harry R. Booth, attorney for the Illinois commission, has claimed the Texas companies' earnings are excessive as judged on the basis of present accounting practices.

Ewing Simpson, examiner for the power commission, is conducting the hearings in the federal building.

BEG YOUR PARDON

It was stated incorrectly in Monday's TRIBUNE that William R. Odell held 116,632 shares of Crane company common stock on March 28. Mr. Odell said he reported to the Securities and Exchange commission that he is one of five trustees of a trust holding these shares under the will of Richard T. Crane Jr.

INLAND AIR LINES.

Investors' Guide: Inland Air Lines is a small transport company operating in Wyoming or Idaho. I had never heard about it until just the other day. What do your records show about its routes? Thank you. — S. P. J.

Answer: Inland Air Lines, formerly known as Wyoming Air Service, has two mail and passenger routes in Montana, Wyoming and South Dakota. One is from Cheyenne, Wyo., to Great Falls, Mont. This route, with stops in Montana at Billings and Lewiston, is 610 miles long. The other, covering 799 miles, is from Cheyenne through the Black Hills to Huron, S. D. Total mileage of the two routes is 1,409 miles. Inland headquarters are in Casper, Wyo. It previously operated a route from Cheyenne to Denver, but this was sold about a year ago to United Air Lines.

CHAIN STORE INDEX.

Investors' Guide: Will you tell me whatever you can about the chain store sales index compiled by Chain Store Age? How often is it published? How many stores and what types are included? What is the base period used? And how long has this been published?—D. S.

Answer: Chain Store Age, the trade publication, has published its index of chain store sales monthly since January, 1932. It is compiled from the monthly sales of twenty leading chain groups. Sales are reduced to an average daily basis and given in relation to the corresponding monthly average of the three base years, 1929, 1930 and 1931. Allowance is made for extra Saturdays and for Easter. The twenty chains include five grocery, six 5-and-10 cent stores, four apparel, two drug, and three shoe chain store organizations.

TELETYPE.

Investors' Guide: I should think that Teletype corporation offers a good investment possibility. Does it? —J. M.

Answer: Teletype corporation, manufacturer of printing telegraph equipment and other products, including stock quotation tickers and stock quotation display boards, is wholly owned by Western Electric Company, Inc. For that reason its stock is not available to the public.

FIRE LOSSES.

Investors' Guide: Do you know what the annual fire loss is in the United States?—H. H.

Answer: The National Board of Fire Underwriters, statistical bureau maintained by stock fire insurance companies, gives the 1938 fire loss in the United States as $302,050,000. In the preceding year the loss totaled $284,720,000, compared with $293,357,245 in 1936. Losses in 1930, which amounted to $501,980,000, were the highest in the last ten years.

TRADE RESUMED BY COSTA RICA WITH GERMANY

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, May 29.—[Special.]—Business with Germany, which has been at a standstill for the last month, attributed to the local banks declining to negotiate in aski-marks pending a definite understanding with Germany regarding their control, has again become normal following a satisfactory solution of the difficulty.

A strict statistical control of all German imports will be exercised and payment will be permitted only in aski-marks through the services of the national banks, and not as hitherto, through private concerns working independently of the legal banking control.

The German banking corporations have agreed to abide by these conditions and will operate future business transactions exclusively through Costa Rican banking houses.

LOANS
Without Endorsers
Single persons and married couples may apply for a loan of $20 to $300 on furniture, car or note. No co-makers or endorsers. No inquiries of friends or relatives. 10 to 20 months to repay.

What Are the Payments?
$2 a month plus interest repays $20
$3 a month plus interest repays $60
$5 a month plus interest repays $100
$10 a month plus interest repays $200.
$15 a month plus interest repays $300.

Interest is charged on the unpaid balance each month at the rate of 3% per month on balances of $100 or less, 2% per month on balances above $100 to $200, and 1% per month on balances above $200 to $300. These rates are less than the lawful maximum on all loans above $100.
